Eight Killed on Highways Over Easter Holiday

Milwaukee Mother, Son Die in Crash on Green Bay Street

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of eight persons in Easter weekend traffic accidents brought Wisconsin's 1967 toll to 158, compared with 180 on this date a year ago.

Herman Harmon, 26, of Kenosha died this morning of injuries suffered Sunday when he was thrown from his car which went out of control on State 50 in Bristol, Kenosha County. He was alone in the vehicle.

A Milwaukee mother and her infant son were killed Sunday in a Green Bay collision on U.S. 41. Dead are Mrs. Margaret Conkling, 22, and her two-month-old son, Rickey.

Robert Anderson, 52, Spirit Lake, Iowa, died at a hospital Sunday about three hours after his truck figured in a collision with another truck on State 35 in Prairie du Chien. Anderson was Crawford County's first 1967 traffic victim.

Jerry L. Kissee, 23, Kenosha, was killed early Sunday when his car left Kenosha County Trunk E outside Kenosha and struck a utility pole and tree. He was alone in the auto.

Mrs. Sandra Lee Andre, 19, Kenosha, was killed Saturday when hit by a car while crossing a busy Kenosha street.

Russell Wettengel, 27, Oak Creek, was fatally injured Saturday when hit by a car in the Milwaukee suburb.

Gerard F. Olson, 19, River Falls, was killed Saturday when his car hit a bridge railing three miles north of the city.

Gunman Kills Girl

Policemen Call Bluff

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — Police said today a young man, wanted on a burglary charge, shot and fatally wounded his 13-year-old sister-in-law hostage before killing himself.

State police had tried to coax Warren R. Clapps, 23, of Princeton, out of a barricaded basement in the girl's home, then used a tear gas grenade hoping to flush him out with the girl.

Clapps, an unemployed handyman, then fired a bullet from a .32-caliber pistol into Shirley Proffitt's head and put a bullet in his own temple, police said.

"No one ever dreamed it would happen like that," said State Police trooper C. F. Little.

"He was sitting in the basement cool as a cucumber, holding the girl in front of him. We promised him the world to get him to let her go. When we put the tear gas in there — bang-bang — it was over just like that," Little said.

The shooting occurred shortly after 1 a.m. Sunday and young Shirley died at 9 p.m. in Bluefield Sanitarium, near this community in southwestern West Virginia.

Little said Clapps barricaded himself in his father-in-law's basement, with Shirley as a hostage after State Police arrived with the warrant for his arrest. He was wanted in connection with an $390 burglary that occurred two weeks ago.

"We talked to him for an hour or longer trying to get him to come out," Little said. "But he wouldn't listen. We thought the tear gas would do it, but it just set him off."

Backs U. S. Position in S. Vietnam

GENEVA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey likened the American fighting in Vietnam today to the U.S. stands in Berlin and Korea and told U.S. representatives in Geneva "we have nothing to apologize for."

Humphrey injected Vietnam and European criticism of U.S. policy in Asia into a 45-minute talk to personnel of the American mission here on the first day of a two-week West European tour.

"This is a peace administration," Humphrey declared, "but a peace with honor administration."

In Vietnam, Humphrey said, the United States is carrying out three objectives of the United Nations charter: To suppress aggression, promote self-determination and assist in nation building.

"We have not some pax Americana in mind," he said. "We have no desire to be the world's policeman."

But he contended the United States had a commitment to Vietnam and "if we welsh" on commitments "there will be no peace."

Humphrey compared criticism of President Johnson's Southeast Asia policy with attacks on Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S Truman for their efforts to quarantine aggression.

"If you think the situation is tough in Vietnam, remember it was at other times," he said.

He said few supported Truman's conduct of the Korean War and added: "It's a strange thing, but when the leader is under assault some of the troops evaporate."

Humphrey's pep talk to the mission staff was obviously

South Vietnam's Constitution To be Put Into Effect Saturday

Military Junta Approves Draft; Elections Scheduled for Sept. 1

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's armed forces council decided today to put the country's new constitution into effect on Saturday.

A communique issued after a day-long meeting of the council also announced national elections on Sept. 1 for president, vice president and the senate. The lower house of the National Assembly will be elected Oct. 1, the communique said.

The brief communique also reported that the council's 46 generals and colonels had voted their confidence that the national leadership committee, the ruling junta, would "maintain stabilization to bring about the democratic organizations."

'Accept in Full'

There was no mention of presidential candidacies of chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu or Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The council said it would "accept in full the draft constitution by the constituent assembly voted on March 18, 1967, and will promulgate this said constitution on April 1, 1967."

This moves up the constitutional timetable more than a month. It was to have been promulgated by May 3.

It returns South Vietnam to government under a constitution for the first time since the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem on Nov. 1, 1963. Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, nullified virtually all that charter's provisions for representative government and civil liberties.

The new constitution provides for an independent judiciary and a two-house legislature under a modified presidential form of government much like those in South Korea and France.

Informants said the armed forces council needed two votes to approve the constitution as written. Some military leaders feared that it did not provide a sufficiently strong executive branch.

No Military Candidate

Sources in the U.S. Embassy said Monday that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had urged the Vietnamese leaders not to present a military candidate for president at the same time they approved the constitution to avoid intensifying regional rivalries.

First B52s Set For Thai Arrival

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said today the first group of three U.S. B52 bombers will arrive at their new base in Thailand on April 3.

Thanom said a second group of nine B52s will land at the Utapao airbase in southern Thailand on April 9.

The Thai government last week announced it is giving partial use of the facilities and installations at Utapao — which has an 11,500-foot airstrip — to the American forces. This brings the B52s more than 1,500 miles closer to their targets in Vietnam. The eight-engine jets now fly from Guam.

U. S. Steps Up Its Efforts at Pacification

SAIGON (AP) — A major overhaul of the American effort to aid pacification of the Vietnamese countryside was under way today to further trim duplication and lack of coordination.

Some Vietnamese sources voiced concern over reported eagerness in Washington for quick results. The latest program to win over the peasantry to the government side is showing signs of progress after a series of defeats, and, the sources said, it could be damaged fatally by pressure for speed and rapid expansion.

Structure Changing

The final form of the new American command structure in pacification is still being worked out in Washington. U.S. officials said. Sources said Robert W. Komer, a special assistant to President Johnson, will replace outgoing Deputy Ambassador William Porter as head of the civilian part of the pacification program. Komer has recently been concentrating on pacification problems.

Porter's nominal replacement in the embassy is Eugene Locke, a Texas oil man who was ambassador to Pakistan. Whether Locke will have a pacification role is not clear here. That probably will be an-

Speck Trial In 6th Week

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Efforts to complete a jury for the murder trial of Richard Speck resumed today after an Easter recess since Friday.

Two panels of four jurors each have been approved by both defense and prosecution going into the sixth week of the trial presided over by Judge Herbert C. Paschen.

Four jurors have been chosen tentatively for the third and final panel. The third panel will be approved if neither counsel challenges any of the four tentatives.

The approved jurors, five men and three women, spent the Easter weekend in the hotel where they are sequestred.

Speck is accused of killing eight student nurses July 14 in Chicago.

Vietnam Ground War Erupts With Communist Mortar Raids

SAIGON (AP) — American airmen smashing deep into North Vietnam shot a Communist MIG17 from the skies Sunday while the ground war erupted with sharp fighting from the 17th Parallel to the Mekong Delta.

One U. S. jet went down over the North, but the pilot was saved. Communist ground gunners in the South downed three American helicopters and badly shot up four more.

A series of Red assaults and mortar barrages in the delta, including one attack on the U. S. airfield near Can Tho, brought out a blazing display of U. S. ground, sea and air power. The guerrilla attacks were met with fire from helicopter gunships, shots from river patrol boats and a rain of bullets from lumbering C47 transports mounting guns that can each spew 6,000 rounds a minute.

Hit Supply Point

The air battle over North Vietnam took place during a strike on the Son Tay Army supply point 23 miles west of Hanoi, the first time the installation has been reported bombed. It contains half a dozen ammunition bunkers and a string of barracks.

A flight of eight Soviet-designed MIGs jumped the U.S. raiders, and an Air Force F105 Thunderchief turned into the marauders and shot one down. It was the 38th MIG kill claimed by U.S. fliers in the war, in contrast to 10 U.S. planes shot down by North Vietnamese pilots.

The Thunderchief that went down over the North was hit by ground fire just above the demilitarized zone, the Air Force

Valley Milk Plants Picketed

As many as 50 National Farmers Organization members were picketing 14 milk processing plants in a six-county Fox River Valley region this morning.

"I'll carry this sign until I'm blue in the face," said Duane Coenen, route 3, Appleton, one of six farmers picketing at Consolidated Badger Cooperative, 1815 W. Spencer St., Appleton.

Farmers seeking higher milk prices through the NFO milk holding action, nearing the end of its second week, this weekend posted around-the-clock pickets at major dairy processors in the Valley.

The picketing is part of a state-wide move to gain the 2-cent-a-quart price increase they are asking. In some Valley counties, picketing began Saturday night. A lull was experienced Easter Sunday but pickets took up their positions early this morning.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff Harry Rozek said he was notified pickets would be placed at four spots in the county—Tolibia Cheese Manufacturing Corp. and Galloway-West Co. in the city and Rogersville and Aito creameries in rural communities.

The picketing was promoted by state NFO officials. It was left to each county organization, however, to set up the picket lines and choose which plants to picket.

In Outagamie County, pickets also were reported at the Badger plant in Seymour and the Outagamie Producers Co-op, Black Creek.

High Court Delays Merger Of NYC-Penn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held up the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads today.

Justice Tom C. Clark, announcing the 5-4 decision, said the merger should be delayed until the Interstate Commerce Commission determines the fate of smaller railroads.

Clark made it clear the court was not passing on the validity of the merger, the biggest corporate union in the history of American business.

Delay had been requested by the Justice Department and by nine other railroads.

The proposed $5 billion merger had been under study and discussion by the Interstate Commerce Commission for some 10 years. It approved the deal last April, saying the merger could fall apart by delay.

'How to Implement' Findings

Conference to Begin on Results of Crime Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 500 law enforcement officials, judges, professors and state legislators will confer Tuesday and Wednesday on how to implement more than 200 recommendations made by the National Crime Commission.

It will be the first opportunity for a broad-based critique of the 352-page report, issued last month after more than 18 months of work by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

The report contains thousands of statistics and adds recommendations on topics ranging from alcoholism to development of a national strategy to fight organized crime.

'Far More Crime'

The commission believes one of its most important findings—the result of a survey of 10,000 representative American households—is that throughout the nation "there is far more crime than ever is reported."

It found there are more than twice as many aggravated assaults and larcenies of more than $50 as are reported, half again more robberies, and, in some areas, "only one-tenth of the total number of certain kinds of crime are reported to the police."

The recommendations call for changes in police operations, schools, prosecutors, employment agencies, social workers, prisons, housing authorities and probation and parole officers.

When the report was issued

The Supertanker Torrey Canyon continues spilling oil toward southwestern England's beaches as it lies split in two Sunday on Seven Stones Reef. Officials fear the continued breakup will release even more of the 120,000 tons of oil the American ship was carrying when it cracked up. Some 280,000 gallons of detergents have been sprayed on the slick. About 15,000 birds have died and another 30,000 are trapped in the oil. Divers are trying to save valuable oyster beds. Age 60 Is Cutoff Year For Blood Donations

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr Molner: I have been a blood donor for 13 years and have given 64 pints. I am now 60 and they say I cannot give any more. What is the reason please? — H.M.E.

It is an arbitrary age limit adopted by the Red Cross and other blood banks. 60 is currently the top age. It used to be 50. Possibly in time it will be increased further but I presume that certain precautions will be observed.

Dr. Molner

The rule is for your own protection. Your blood is as good as ever but as we grow older there is the possibility that taking a pint of blood could alter your blood pressure abruptly and perhaps cause some vascular trouble.

The fact that this wouldn't bother everyone at that age is beside the point. The rule was adopted in the interests of everybody, particularly those who might be unusually sensitive to a change in pressure.

I bow to you, sir, for contributing 64 pints. You have certainly done your duty.

* * *

Dear Dr Molner: I am 66 and I am losing my potency and sex drive. Can something be done about this? At what average age should a man slow down sexually? My doctor gave me some capsules but they have not done the job so far. — J C S

I doubt if it is possible to establish any average age for slowing down because such an enormous difference exists from one individual to another. Fatigue, nervous tension, mental attitude, and many other subtle factors have a considerable bearing.

As an indication of the range in individual differences, my mail alone contains letters complaining about lack of vigor in the 30's to one from a wife complaining that her husband was extremely active at nearly 80.

* * *

Dear Dr Molner: I have a son, 3, and am concerned because he has some very feminine ways. He has three sisters and two brothers and as we are cramped for room they all sleep in the same room, the boys together and the girls together.

Our doctor says he'll grow out of this, but what can I do to help him? — Mrs. M H

I think you are judging him prematurely, at 3. He may be mimicking behavior of his sisters, but as he gets older the normal competitive influence of his brothers will take care of that.

If you are worried about his becoming a homosexual, forget it. This trait is found more in children who have over-indulgent and overprotective parents, and don't have the healthy competition of being in a large family.

My advice is to give the youngster a little more time to grow up and do not show your concern about his behavior.

I deleted your remarks about the playmate who sleeps with his mother. That is not a good thing and is often found in the background of a child who ultimately becomes a homosexual.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to leave coffee in the percolator all day, to drink late in the afternoon? — Mrs C W B

Not harmful — but like gum on the bedpost overnight, it loses some of its zest.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Is TV (either black and white or colored) bad for the eyes if watched, say, for six hours at one sitting? — A.T.S.

It won't harm the eyes, but for a reasonably healthy person that's an awful lot of sitting, and some exercise might be in order, instead. Something more stimulating to your brain is another matter. Depends on whether you can find six hours of TV that's worth watching.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Post-Crescent, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," enclosing a long self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dear Jerry:

I'll be getting out of the Navy in a few months and I'd like to start a little business of my own. I learned a lot about electronics in the service and would like to have my own TV repair shop. Can I get a small business loan through the GI bill?

George K.

Dear George:

Not as things stand now. The GI bill passed last year by Congress guarantees and in some cases gives home and farm loans, but not small business loans. The GI bill for World War II and Korean veterans did guarantee small business loans up to $2,000. And there is some talk that the GI bill Congress is expected to pass this year will include the same type of business loan. So, keep your fingers crossed.

The Post-Crescent
Appleton, Wisconsin 54911

Dear Mr. Arthur:

During the past few months noteworthy developments have occurred with regard to Super Valu's Post-Crescent advertising. Due to their favorable light, I believe they merit mention.

In early November we were proud to add a fifth member to our store group in the Fox Cities; we opened a new store in Neenah. For our "Grand Opening" advertising we elected to utilize a four-page colored-stock insertion in The Post-Crescent as the main "avenue" to the buying public. We were overwhelmed at the response obtained. The results were beyond our expectations.

Some interesting figures have also resulted from an analysis we conducted recently concerning our store group advertising. At present our sales are consistently reaching a level 15% above last year. An equally interesting fact is that our total advertising budget has declined [illegible]% of gross sales while, conversely, our spending on newspaper advertising has increased to a level higher than ever before. This reflects the true merit of your paper as an advertising medium. We have found The Post-Crescent does the job best.

Possibly you can find use for this information. It is testimony to the satisfaction we hold toward your paper.

Sincerely,
Harvey C. Doering

As exemplified by Mr. Doering's letter, advertising cannot be a game of whimsical choice, it has to be convinced selection based upon analytical fact. And the fact is, that where newspaper advertising is used imaginatively, colorfully and consistently, it proves itself the most informative and thus the most motivating of all medias. Put your advertising where the power is . . . in the newspaper . . . continuing to lead all others in advertising dollar growth. Specifically, put it in The Post-Crescent. For an analysis of your advertising needs, request consultation with one of our experienced advertising sales representatives.

Hat Show Sure Sign of Spring

Mrs. Lula Taylor, a Resident of Peabody Manor, studies her reflection in the mirror as she tries on a spring hat. Mrs. F. W. Elliott, a member of Peabody Manor Auxiliary, has chosen the next one Mrs. Taylor will wear. Members of the auxiliary and residents of the manor will model hats Friday afternoon at the annual millinery show.

Along with the first Robin or crocus, one of the first signs of spring is a colorful hat. Blossoming in all the colors of the garden, the hat may frame the face with flowers and bows or be the perfect perky topper to a gay new outfit.

The women of Peabody Manor Auxiliary have planned their third annual Millinery Spring Show and Silver Tea for 2 p.m. Friday.

Mrs. Clifford Vincent is general chairman of the event. She will be assisted by Mrs. Edgar Dickey, Mrs. John Haugner, Mrs. Richard Calder, Mrs. A. J. Pfankuch and Mrs. Martin Hupka.

After the show, a tea is planned, at which a new silver service, purchased by the auxiliary, will be used for the first time. Mrs. Frances Elliott is tea chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. David Watson.

Mrs. Gilbert Beglinger and Mrs. Roy Hauert will present musical entertainment.

Short Pantsuit

Mini-pants had to make the teen scene. For summer wear chopping off long pants is a natural development.

Mini-pantsuits have cool comfort and tanned legs built in. Worn under mini-dresses, mini-pants fill a desperate need — the one that happens when a girl raises her arms and her skirt goes sky high.

So far, so good. But there's a rub: Not all mini-pants are flattering to all girls. Becomingness depends on the cut of the pants and the contour of the legs. Wouldn't you know?

Generally speaking, summertime pantsuits take two directions with the pants cut along the lines of Bermuda shorts or fullish culottes. Pants with mini-dresses — jumpers, smocks, tunics — either snug like a stocking or stand away like a bloomer.

To make a good choice just remember. The wider the pant-leg, the more slimming the result. That makes culottes and generously cut Bermudas ideal for a heavy leg. Only a right slim leg can stand up to the plumping effect of bloomers and "snuggies."

But, please note, no style of mini-pants looks right when the legs are mini-groomed. Scuff and fuzz have got to go. Like any other leggy fashion, this one requires a clean sweep of the leg complexion. Only get to work on the project now and on the first summery day you'll be ready to step out. Perhaps in one of those ducky, white duck mini-pantsuits.

Double Ring Ceremony Performed

NEENAH — Miss Cheryl Lynn Gooding and George La Maide exchanged wedding promises at 1 p.m. Saturday at Our Savior Lutheran Church. The Rev. C. Richard Johnson officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gooding, 865 S. Commercial St. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Boyce, Berry Lake, route 1, Gillett.

The bride chose Miss Darlene Pagel, her foster sister, as her maid of honor. Miss Marilyn Schultz was bridesmaid. Miss Mary Jo Patt attended as flower girl.

Kenneth La Maide performed the duties of best man for his brother. John Boyce was groomsman. Billy Gooding was ring bearer. Guests were seated by Henry Quast and Chester Gooding Jr.

A reception was held in the church fellowship Hall.

Mrs. La Maide has been employed by Dr. L. W. Warrowen as a dental assistant. Her husband, who recently returned from Vietnam, is stationed with the Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. La Maide will honeymoon enroute to California, where they will reside.

Correction

The Fox Valley Artists will sponsor their annual potluck supper at Moose Hall at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. The date of the event was incorrectly listed in the Friday Post-Crescent.

Finessing To Shut Out Opponent

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Most bridge players go after finesses as a small boy goes after candy. The results are much the same, except that the pain is in the wallet rather than in the tummy. Test your self-control by choosing the right finesse in each article this week.

West opens the six of hearts, and you play the queen of hearts from dummy. Do you plan to try the finesse in clubs or in diamonds? The answer depends on what happens to dummy's queen of hearts at the first trick.

Opening lead — ♡ 6

If the queen of hearts wins, you know that West holds the ace. You can safely let West win a trick, but if East gained the lead he would return a heart and then West would defeat the contract with the rest of his long suit. You must, therefore, develop your tricks in such a way as to keep East out of the lead.

Win the first trick in dummy with the queen of hearts and lead the queen of diamonds for a finesse. West takes the king of diamonds and returns a club.

Refuse Finesse

Refuse the club finesse. Go up with the ace of clubs and take your nine tricks: three spades, one heart, four diamonds and one club.

Your plan would be different if East could play the ace of hearts to win the first trick. He would return a heart, and you would refuse the trick. You win the third heart, and now you recognize that West is the dangerous opponent. If West gets in he will take the rest of his hearts.

After taking the king of hearts you lead the queen of clubs for a finesse. East wins and returns a diamond. Go right up with the ace of diamonds and take your nine tricks: three spades, one heart, one diamond and four clubs.

In a case of this sort you choose the finesse that loses to the "safe" opponent. You refuse to take the finesse that would lose to the dangerous opponent.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade and the next player passes. You hold: S-9 6 5 3 2, H-10 9 7, D-6 5 3, C-K 7. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two spades. You have only 3 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, plus 1 point for extra length in spades. The total is only 5 points, with 6 points usually needed for a response. Nevertheless, you are advised to raise to two spades because this bid helps shut the opponents out of the bidding. If your partner goes down at a spade contract, the odds are very good that the opponents could make a good score at a contract of their own.

Your Problems

Hotels Can Scarcely Afford High Costs of Having Guests

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A most unusual thing occurred recently at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles. I believe it will interest you. A woman drove up in front of the hotel and left a box with the doorman. The note pasted to the box read as follows:

Landers

"Dear Sir: Here are the items my son took from Acapulco Hilton. — An Embarrassed Mother."

Clipped to her note was a copy of your column which dealt with stealing from hotels under the guise of "souvenir collecting."

The contents of the box contained the following items which would have an approximate value of $300 to $400:

2 silver wine coolers
6 silver finger bowls
1 14-inch silver service tray
3 bread and butter knives
3 dinner knives
3 forks
3 teaspoons
2 soup spoons
1 ice tong
4 drinking glasses
2 face towels
2 bath towels

As a past president of the California State Hotel and Motel Association, I'm sure I speak for all hotel and motel managers when I say thank you, Ann Landers, for your help. The problem of hotel pilfering is reaching incredible proportions and running into millions of dollars annually.

The fact that at least one young man was influenced by your comments to the extent that he returned the stolen articles, is evidence that some people do listen to you. We are most grateful for your support. — Robert A. Groves, General Manager, Beverly Hilton

Dear Mr. Groves: Thank you for your letter. When I was a guest at another well-known Beverly Hills hotel in December, someone stole my diamond earrings. If his mother would return them to the doorman my day would be complete.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 19-year-old girl who has a problem I have never heard of before. I'll bet you have never heard of it either.

I have been looking for a job for six months. Almost every job that interests me requires that I take a physical examination. I just can't bring myself to undress in front of a doctor. I also can't bear the thought of having a doctor put his hands on me.

I realize this is crazy, but I don't know what to do about it. My mother can't understand why I have not landed a job in all this time and I can't tell her. Please help me. — Petrified

Dear Pet: I assume you mean male doctor, so for heaven's sake go to a female doctor and get your physical so you can go to work. Then, use some of your salary for psychiatric help. If you expect to lead a normal life you must conquer your crippling inhibitions about your body.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Swinging Set

Of Castles and Camelot

BY SYLVIE REICE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. Castles, swords, armors, lovely maidens in cloth of gold — part of the fairy-tale past? No — part of the "once and future" set where I watched "Camelot" being filmed! Behind scenes of the spectacular is an unbelievable world — more unbelievable for its technical prowess than for the magic Merlyns and Excalibur swords it seeks to reproduce. To watch Warner Bros. create this ten million dollar extravaganza is to see legendary Hollywood at work!

Would you believe, for instance, that an entire Castle of Camelot has been constructed? I saw the trucks moving about, the men with plaster, paint, saws. As we stood and watched a tractor came rolling along with a giant tree to be rooted near the castle. This was only the outdoor set — and I was told to my great pleasure it was going to be a permanent addition to Warner's outdoor sets. We went on to see the non-permanent sets . . .

The Great Hall and Throne Room (where the huge Covent Garden set stood for "My Fair Lady" and where was once the sea upon which raged the naval battle in "PT 109") was staggering in its largeness and magnificence. Gargoyles that had been specially carved, architectural features that were worthy of kings and princes were worth possibly $400 thousand-$500 thousand and had been worked on for longer than a month! And there are a total of 45 sets!

Real Trees

We stepped into Merlyn's Magic Forest: it was amusing to see it marked with Stage 8. The proud set man explained to me that these were all real trees. In fact, he wouldn't let me in at first. "We've just sprayed the air for termites. They come in with the trees . . . That imitation tree cost us $1,100," he said. "A real big tree can come in for about $250." There was a large but shallow indentation for a pond (it would be filled in with real water) and live grass would be planted everywhere. At another part of the studio we saw the entrance to the woods. A permanent set at Warners, it has been used often as a tropical jungle. Pruned down now, and with a few changes, it was the Camelot forest!

"The actors are in Europe," I was told. "For long shots, we worked against a real castle. Later, for close-ups and indoor shots, we'll use this castle." Now the actors are in Hollywood shooting on the set.

The most staggering extravagance of all to me was the work in the costume department. John Truscott, the noted designer of the London and Australian productions of "Camelot" said: "We've made a calculated effort to create our own Camelot period — one which draws from the medieval past, of course, but is styled from our own resources of invention and imagination." I watched a dressmaker drawing threads of gold through a pale delicate fabric. "Why are you doing that?" I asked. "The designer wants the threads to make a certain pattern in this gown." (Guinevere's played by Vanessa Redgrave.) The head of the costume department told me it would take 13 women to make Miss Redgrave's wedding dress. It is hand-crocheted over India silk and decorated with pumpkin seeds and pearlized shells. "We have people combing the beaches for the little shells," she said. The dress will cost $12,000. There was a dress made of gold chanin (really plastic so it would be lightweight), muslins on tables and dressmaker forms.

As we left, we passed a table where three girls were smearing black and brown paint on dilapidated costumes. "We're dirtying them up," one girl told me. "They're the peasants' costumes."

"I assume they're old ones from your stock," I said.

"No—" She nodded her head towards some girls at sewing machines. "They're making the costumes in there. Then we dirty them up in here."

You may see these peasants' costumes and the wedding gown for but a few seconds when you finally see "Camelot," (it premieres Oct. 25.) nonetheless, each designer of costume, set, color, etc. will bring all his talent and integrity to each detail of his work, that's what makes a spectacular!

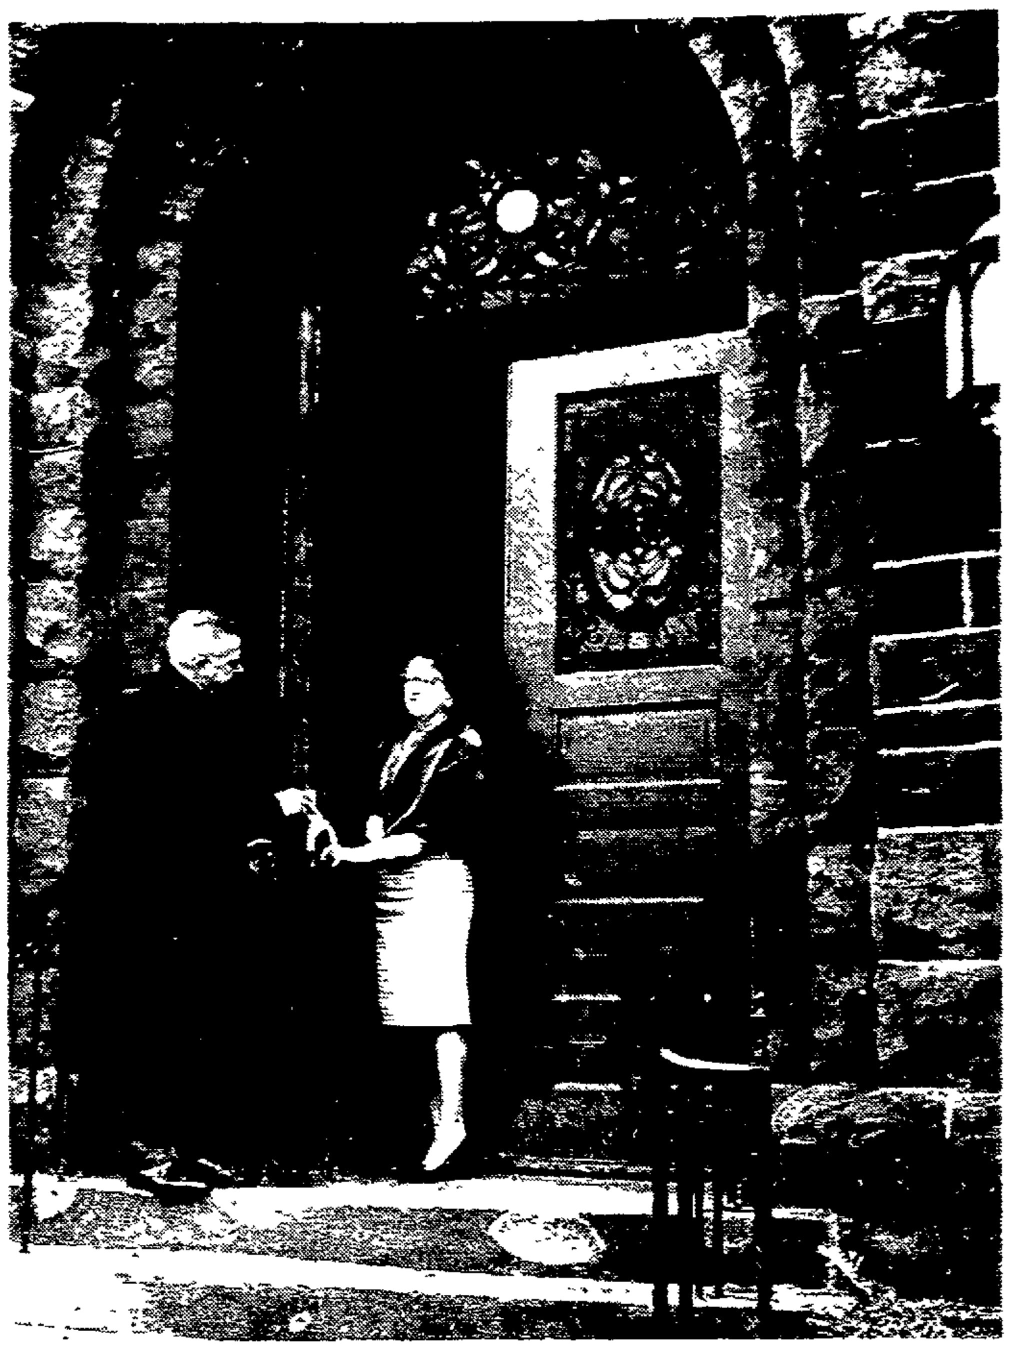
Families Attend Easter Morning Services

The day was bleak and sunless, but the rain held off until afternoon. In the morning, throughout the Fox Cities and the world, men and women attended church services in observance of Easter.

Families followed traditional customs, often rising early to attend sunrise services. Others went to later services, often together.

Family get - togethers were the rule for the holiday, with groups gathering for dinner or a quiet Sunday afternoon.



Mr. and Mrs. Harold Podzilni are shown as they arrived for the 11 a.m. Sunday service at First Congregational church. Churches throughout the area scheduled special services and sermons in observance of Easter. (Post-Crescent Photos)

The Trees have not yet begun to bud, for the early Easter date this year has scarcely permitted the melting of a heavy winter snow. But the spirit was springtime Sunday as families attended Easter services together. Above, parishioners are shown arriving at St. Joseph Catholic Church. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gunderson and son David and James Osterhout are shown outside the First Baptist Church before the 10.30 a m. service.

Furniture Finish Quality Is Deeper Than Surface

Satin or dull finishes on most furniture today tend to emphasize natural wood grain and are less likely than high gloss finishes to show dust, scratches and other marks, says Jane Graff, home furnishings specialist at the University of Wisconsin

"Surface" finishes on furniture are produced with stain, filler, sealers and spray coats of varnish or lacquer. The furniture is sanded after each coat. From seven to 20 processes are used in this finish.

Durability of the finish depends upon the number of coats, the care used in applying the finish, and the care in rubbing down between coats, Miss Graff continues.

May Wear Off

Look for finishes that feel smooth with no rough areas when purchasing furniture. Finishes with a thin, brittle shallow appearance may chip and wear off easily. A thick, "painted" look often covers up unattractive wood and may wear off.

The natural oil-rubbed finish of Scandinavian furniture is often found on American-made pieces. This finish gives a soft, satiny appearance and is maintained by rubbing in more oil as needed

Better quality painted pieces of furniture have a soft, rubbed-down appearance. Painted finishes tend to show damage more easily than natural wood and require more careful use.

Compare Furniture

Workmanship is important for attractiveness and durability regardless of finishing method Compare pieces to find out differences in appearance and quality. Some finishes are more resistant than others to heat, water and alcohol. None will withstand real abuse

Unfinished furniture may be a good choice for some needs. Watch for smoothly sanded surfaces and simple styling. The construction of unfinished pieces can be judged by the same criteria as finished furniture.

Planning Helps Party Success

In most cities you can rent almost everything you need for a party — glasses, dishes, punch bowls, large kettles, and even canopies and awnings. Be sure you decide early on your needs and order the equipment far enough ahead so the firm can deliver it on time.

Maybe you should deal with a bakery, restaurant or caterer to ease pressure on the cook. This is something to consider, even though enough friends and family members have agreed to help you.

How many people are you inviting? If you're likely to be crowded, consider inviting them in shifts. Invite some in the afternoon, possibly, and another group in the evening An hour between groups will give the host or committee a short time to relax It's often a good idea to invite those who may want to stay longest for the second shift.

Rich Hermits Pay Dearly for Few Weeks' Privacy

BY KELLY SMITH

ANTIGUA, British West Indies (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy lolls on the beach near breaking whitecaps, a towel over her face, tanning. Nearby, police and Secret Service agents keep watch in swim suits and trenchcoats.

Three hundred miles south, on an island called Barbados, Randolph Churchill walks across the living room of his villa where he is working on a biography of his late father. "I came to be alone."

Nearly 2,000 miles west, on the island of Jamaica, it is night and Princess Grace of Monaco is frugging in a miniskirt. Prince Rainier is beating kettle drums. Outside, more guards.

These are the rich hermits. These are three of the rich who enjoy sun parties and privacy and are willing to pay highly for it in the emerald waters of the Caribbean.

Winter Glow

There, on three of many islands—Antigua, Barbados and Jamaica—the rich hermits have built homes that run up to $450,000, on land up to $50,000 an acre, just to tan in privacy a few weeks a year.

They hire special guards. They fly in private jets. They come first for the December holidays, then eight weeks later for that envied status symbol, the February tan.

They come from Paris, London, Montreal, New York and Rome. They come from social registers, divorce courts, nobility and wealth.

They come to be hypnotized by the pounding surf, by the haunting lyrics of the calypso. Some come to lose their troubles in planter's punch and to bronze their bodies in the tropical sun.

The rich hermits cluster together behind signs which read "PRIVATE" and guards who wear helmets. They pay up to $1,000 a season to belong to clubs which make it their job to keep people out

High Minimum

In Antigua, the hermit is called a "Reefer" and he lives at Mill Reef Club.

Mill Reef is an American-owned millionaires' retreat covering nearly 1,000 acres on this eastern Caribbean island. There are some 50 homes—minimum price $60,000.

The entrance is a bumpy dirt road guarded by natives white. An old sugar mill stands behind the gate. Olive trees grow out of the rocks.

Membership in Mill Reef is gained only through active member One can be a guest there only once, unless he buys stock.

Homes in the complex include the rambling stone mansion of the Paul Mellons, a tiered cliffside castle which has its own overseer and rooms for a dozen guests. Jacqueline Kennedy has stayed there twice

Mrs. Kennedy spent most of two weeks there this winter, swimming in Half Moon Bay, below the mansion, tanning by the Mellon pool, taking unnoticed shopping excursions into town, and dining with friends inside the complex.

Not Outsiders

The rich hermit is not bothered by the island natives The hermit is "boss man" More likely, it is the society set itself who intrude upon one another

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson poet Archibald McLeish and the Macy department store family also have homes here. One can play golf, tennis, swim, sail and entertain unobserved Servants live in Islanders—mostly poor cane cutters—rarely see Reefers outside of the complex

Most food and liquor is flown in by private jet. There are no telephones, except a primitive microphone hook-up for relaying messages to the downtown office, an hour away. Newspapers arrive days late.

The Antigua government is adamant in its protection of Reefers

"We insist on privacy," said Premier-elect Vere Bird. "When these people come to Antigua, they want to be left alone. It's a government responsibility to see that they are."

In Barbados, the rich hermit lives along Sandy Lane on the Caribbean only 200 miles or 40 air minutes south of Antigua It is the easternmost island in the Caribbean, only 200 miles from Venezuela. It is remote—just what the hermit likes.

Too Many People

"Other islands are getting too public," says Marian Javits, wife of New York Sen. Jacob Javits "We came here to get away, to be left alone"

Claudette Colbert entertained singer Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow at her mansion in January and made it plain they were not to be bothered.

"This is a private visit during which he hopes to be able to get the absolute privacy and quiet which has eluded him everywhere else in the world," she said. "I have assurd him his wishes will be respected" Guards were added assurance.

From Barbados, the trail of money swings northwest 2,000 miles across the Caribbean, to Jamaica. One bypasses Puerto Rico The jet set considers it passe, strictly for tourists and politicians. The hermits call San Juan "East Miami Beach."

Minimum Charge

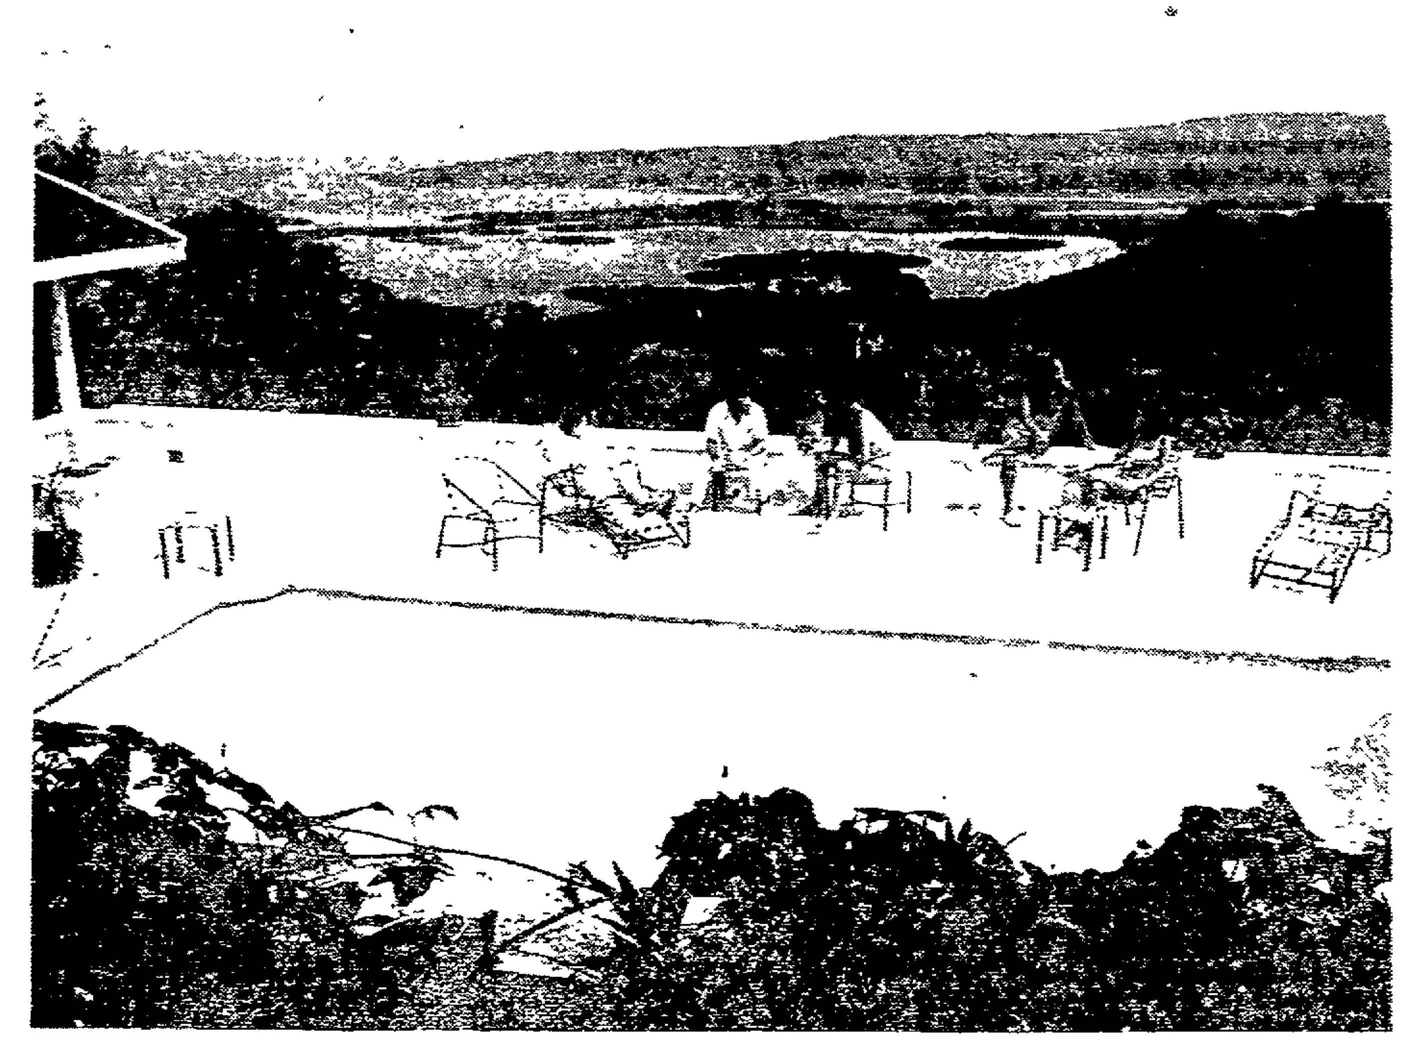
For a boating hermit, St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands offers a brief stopover. At $2,000 a week, one can have wall-towall carpeting, caviar and bone china aboard a chartered yacht.

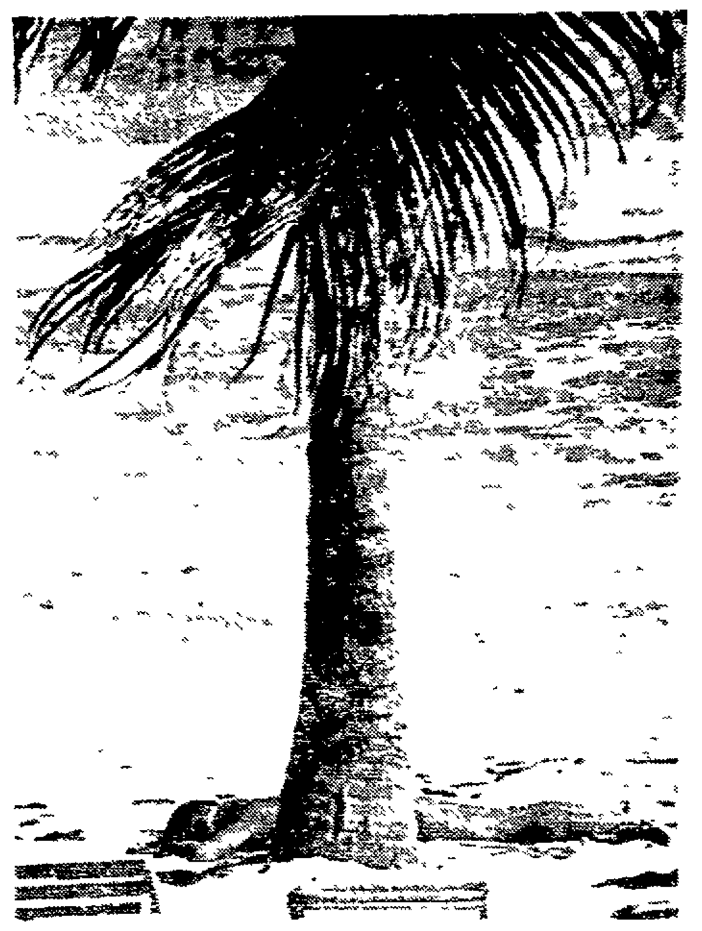
"Most of our customers are everyday people, though," says skipper Frank Burke. "The real rich guys own their own boats."

In Jamaica, the rich hermit lives at Round Hill and Tryall both near Montego Bay on the sunny, northern beach strip of the island.

Jamaica is different from the aristocratic Antigua and remote Barbados. Jamaica swings, dances, moves day and night. Instead of sprawling out on a virgin beach alone, one is more apt to attend a beach party.

The hermits who seek Jamaica still seek privacy, but of a different kind. The privacy of parties, the privacy of taking shoes off with friends and raising a ruckus behind closed doors They do.





If a Jet Setter Doesn't Get a Tan, the jaunt to the Caribbean is a waste. "People don't know where you've been otherwise" Above guards have kept out the curious as a New York Blonde acquires the proof on Half Moon Bay Hotel beach, next to Mill Reef The islands of Antigua, Jamaica and Barbados are currently 'in' for a few winter weeks. When too many tourists arrive, the wealthy will move out.

Kill Wasps By Burning Nest Now

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: We live in an upper duplex Late last summer it was perilous to go out on the rear upper porch because of the yellow jackets I was stung several times while hanging pieces of wash Last fall they built a big nest up in the roof peak, right over the porch Now what? More stings come spring?

A: Now's the time for that nest to be knocked down, while the wasps are still dormant. If you can prod it into a big paper bag, soak with kerosene and burn it. If you'd rather not try (don't blame you!) Get an exterminator. But do it now.

Q I was thinking of covering my basement concrete floor with plywood paneling over two by four strips then painting A friend suggested asphalt tile instead saying it would last longer Is he right?

A: I'm with him: Agree 100 per cent.

Q: What is the method of "antiquing" unfinished furniture?

A: Here's the principle, whether you do it with an antiquing "kit" or your own materials: Paint the entire table white, or a very light color. Let it dry. Sand smooth. Next, wipe on the coat of glaze — tinted black, brown or what ever color you like. Wipe it on across the grain. While still wet, wipe it off: you'll need a good supply of cloths. This will remove nearly all the coloring from the surface, and will leave the grain with a trace of color. Makes a very nice effect. Easy, too.

Q Is there any way to make my metal casement windows more rainproof? Especially when accompanied by heavy wind, rain can work in here and there particularly at the bottom This is hard on the sill's finish

A: Get any type of foam-type stripping at the hardware store, preferably one-half inch wide. If you can get the kind with its own press-on adhesive, so much the better. Then apply this weather-stripping along the inside edges of the frames, so they make an airtight closure. Not a difficult job. In addition to rainproofing, you'll be draft-proofing the windows.

Exercises Can Return Sparkle To Tired Eyes

Most beauty conscious women are aware of the benefits of facial exercise but many do not include the eyes in the beauty workout A routine of eye exercise can reduce tiredness and help restore the customary sparkle.

Start the "eyesometrics" by rolling the eyes as far as possible from left to right and back again several times Then roll the eyes in a circle clockwise and then counter-clockwise Next, look at some distant object and follow immediately by focusing on a nearby object

If the eyes water frequently or if there is pain, get a professional eye examination. If the eyes feel tired and lack their usual lustre, it may be from lack of sleep or from reading in a poor light A quick nap can do wonders, especially if the eyes are covered with cotton squares soaked in good quality witch hazel

Contort Face

One of the most effective of facial exercises is face making This consists simply in contorting the face into as many grotesque expressions as possible The tired feeling that sets in is proof positive that the face gets all too little exercise Without exercise facial and jaw muscles eventually lose tone, and wrinkles, pouches and dewlaps appear Unstimulated skin is apt to get flaky and look lifeless Follow up the facial calisthenics with a witch hazel massage Spank the face and throat smartly, and massage with upward strokes

For problem skin, particularly the too dry type, add this hot-cold alternating compress treatment Cleanse the skin with warm water and superfatted soap and then massage with cosmetic oil Soak a face towel in hot water wring out the excess and hold it to face Repeat once or twice until the cream is nearly removed

Finish by applying a cold towel, removing the last of the cream Splash with chilled witch hazel and let the lotion dry on itself

Parents' World

Bright Girl Needs Chance To Pace Herself at All Tassk

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Dr. Jones: We have tried reverse psychology, gentle persuasion and heavy-handedness trying to get our daughter to do her school work and simple jobs around the house She is very bright, with an IQ of 130, but she doesn't complete her school work assignments most of the time

The school trouble started when, at our request, she was boosted to first grade after seven weeks of kindergarten The second day of school she didn't complete her work on time so the teacher punished her by not letting her play with the other children at lunch time This went on for months, and it took almost until summer before she would complete her work

This year she is at another school with a different teacher, but there's still the same old problem Added to that, she is really absentminded at home Conferences with her teacher haven't helped and all physical punishment can't be stopped because of course, we lose our temper

We want to have a happy child we can be proud of and we know she is very unhappy, so please give us a formula we can use with her She is the oldest of four children so we have no experience with this kind of problem MRS. G.P.

It's time you stopped the basic conflict between you and your oldest child. You're trying to push her, and she's trying to show you she can't be pushed.

She needs the opportunity to pace herself at reasonable tasks. She also needs the reassurance that you can keep control of your temper at least to the extent of not punishing her.

Settle within your own mind which you consider more important, her school work or her chores at home. Then, tell her that until she's carrying out all her responsibilities in the more important place — school or home — you don't expect her to take care of anything else.

If you decide in favor of home, make certain you don't go beyond having her help with a single chore for the family each day in addition to keeping her bed, clothes, and toys in order. If you decide in favor of school, make certain you reassure her that this will be between her and her teacher, and you will not intervene in any way if the teacher decides her school work is so poor that she must repeat this grade.

If you find you can't control you drive to get your daughter to excel, better write to me again so I can refer you to a mental health agency where you can get some counselling help.

For a copy of her pamphlet, "To Spank or Not to Spank" send 25 cents and a stamped self-addressed envelope to Dr. Eve Jones in care of The Post-Crescent.

War Hurting Johnson In New Hampshire

Hawks and Doves Opposed to His Tactics; Scored Big Vote in 1964

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Shocking evidence of President Johnson's decline because of the Vietnam war can be found in New Hampshire today.

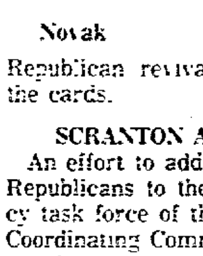
During an unscientific sampling of New Hampshire voters last week, we asked registered Democratic voters whether they would vote for Mr. Johnson if the election were today. Less than half gave an unequivocal yes.

Out of 32 registered Democrats, 14 said they definitely would vote for him, 8 definitely would not, and 10 said it would depend upon circumstances and Mr. Johnson's Republican opponent.

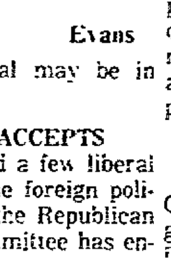
Moreover, most of the anti-Johnson and undecided voters named Vietnam as the reason for their disaffection. "No, sir," a plant guard in Concord told us, "I'm not voting for anybody who ships American boys around the world to die." But slightly more criticism came from the hawkish side. "We ought to win the war or get out," said a hardware store owner in Dover, who told us he may switch to the Republicans in 1968.

Granted, this anti-Johnson sentiment may diminish once a Republican nominee is selected. Still, any defections in Democratic ranks can be disastrous in a state where Republicans still hold a decided majority.

Indeed, the decline of New Hampshire Republican fortunes, which began in 1962 and climaxed in 1964 when Mr. Johnson won 63.6 per cent of the vote against Barry Goldwater, seems at an end. If the President runs as badly as now seems likely, a



Novak



Evans

Republican revival may be in the cards.

SCRANTON ACCEPTS

An effort to add a few liberal Republicans to the foreign policy task force of the Republican Coordinating Committee has enjoyed one conspicuous success.

William W. Scranton, former Governor of Pennsylvania, who is now in Europe, is by all odds the brightest catch of National Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

Bliss and Robert L. McCormick, research director of the National Committee, have been scouring top-level Republican ranks to enlarge the Foreign Policy Advisory Panel and diminish its strongly conservative tone. Another catch is Phillip Crowe, a professional diplomat who was President Eisenhower's ambassador to South Africa.

Chairman of the panel is another Eisenhower ambassador, Robert C. Hill, who, before going to Mexico City in the late 1950s, was Assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Affairs. Hill, a leader in the Nixon-for-President movement, insisted to Bliss and McCormick that the panel was overweighted with conservatives.

The list of present members, for example, includes retired Admiral Arleigh Burke; Yale professor David Rowe, a foreign policy hard-liner; right-wing Governor Tim Babcock of Montana; and former Representative Walter Judd of Minnesota, one of the party's toughest anti-Communists.

A footnote: Another announcement expected soon is the appointment of Richard Fleming, now on McCormick's research staff in the National Committee, as executive secretary of the Republican Governor's Association. Fleming's appointment will give Bliss an open channel into the Governors' Association, which hasn't always agreed with Bliss on policy matters.

HATFIELD-MCCALL FEUD

Newly elected Republican Governor Tom McCall of Oregon is heaping more fuel on his fast-growing feud with his predecessor as governor, freshman Senator Mark Hatfield.

Returning to Oregon from the governors' meeting with President Johnson, McCall told a press conference that he had informed the President Oregon was "back on the track" in regard to Vietnam. It was an unmistakable crack at Hatfield's doveish line on Vietnam, and was resented as such by Hatfield. Earlier, McCall had attacked the state budget he inherited from Hatfield.

All this raises the possibility of the state's two leading Republicans colliding in Oregon's Republican Presidential primary next year. Hatfield, who says he will not permit his own name to be entered, is looking for a candidate with Vietnam views close to his own. McCall is apt to go the other direction.

A footnote: Some Oregon Republicans grumble that Hatfield is too close to maverick Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon's Republican-turned-Democrat who is up for re-election next year. When Hatfield delivered an anti-Vietnam speech before the Harvard Young Republican Club recently, it was inserted in the Congressional Record by none other than super-dove Morse.

Your Money's Worth

Need Funds to Send Your Child to College?

BY SYLVIA PORTER

These are the weeks when teen-agers and their parents the nation over are grabbing for the mail, eagerly searching for the special letter which will begin: "The Committee on Admissions is pleased to inform you that you have been accepted for admission to. . ."

We've just gone through it. Cris, 17, going on to college this fall, has received her special letter, we have appropriately congratulated her and now Sumner and I are studying other pieces of mail which outline "minimum" costs per college term and suggest what the "extras" can mount up to.

So now I know in terms of our own bank accounts what I've been writing about when I've been reporting the soaring costs of college education in our era. Now I'm beginning to appreciate how these costs can crush the middle-income family with youngsters who are just average students. This family isn't poor enough to qualify for assistance on the basis of financial need. These youngsters haven't good enough grades to qualify for merit scholarships. And the interest rate-repayment terms on the typical education loans they could obtain aren't easy enough to soften the month-to-month pinch.

What's The Answer??

What then is the best answer for this middle-income family and this average student — numbering in the millions on this March 27, 1957?

Their best answer today is a low-cost college loan under the 1935 Higher Education Act's new program of federally-guaranteed loans.

The 1966-67 academic year marks the first full year this program has been in operation. Although 480,000 loans totaling $400 million have been made to date, this is only a starter and the program is yet to be fully implemented. Millions of families who could and should take advantage of the program still have only a vague idea of what it is and you may not even know the program exists. Thus, this two-column series of Q. & A. to give you vital information.

Q. What are the key provisions of the program?

A. Under this program, long-term low-interest loans are available to students attending or accepted for admission to an accredited institution of higher learning.

Regardless of your family's financial status, you, the student in good academic standing of an approved institution, are eligible for these loans, and the loans are made directly to you, not your parents. The objective is to encourage you to take over from your parents at least part of the financial burden of your education.

Borrowing Limits

Q. How much can the student borrow?

A. As an undergraduate student, you can borrow up to $1,000 for each academic year of full-time study to a total of $5,000. As a full-time student in graduate or a professional school, you can borrow as much as $1,500 a year. The combined maximum for both undergraduate and postgraduate study is $7,500. The loans, in short, can cover a significant percentage of today's average higher education costs.

Q. What about interest charges on the loans?

A. The rate charged cannot be more than 6 per cent simple interest, meaning it's really 6 per cent a year and not double or more than double the stated rate as it may be on other popular forms of loans.

If the family's adjusted gross income is under $15,000 a year, the federal government pays the entire 6 per cent interest cost while the student is in school, and pays half of this interest or 3 per cent during the period of loan repayment.

If the family's adjusted gross income is more than $15,000, the student must pay the 6 per cent interest while he is in school and while he is repaying the loan. (adjusted family income is total income minus $600 for each exemption claimed.)

About Repayments

Q. What are the repayment terms?

A. They are designed to make repayment comparatively easy. Monthly repayments do not start until nine months after you, the student, leave school. You may repay as little as $360 a year. If you borrow more than $2,000, you may have from five to 10 years after your graduation to repay in full. If you join the Peace Corps after college or you enter military service, there is a special moratorium on payments. If you wish to speed up your payments, you can do so without penalty.

Q. Are there any other costs besides interest?

A. There may be an insurance premium up to ½ per cent per year on your unpaid principal balance. This will be charged by the student loan guarantee agencies in accordance with the 1965 Act.

Tomorrow's column will give you simple guides on where and how to get the guaranteed low-cost college loans.

Valley Clergy, Social Workers Set Conference

Discuss Role of Church, Agencies in Adult Education

A one-day conference for the clergy and social workers in Outagamie County and the Neenah-Menasha area regarding continuing education for adults, is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday at Fox Valley Center.

Questions to be discussed include a role of the church and social agencies in adult education, how illiterate adults can be reached and the responsibility to these people.

Representatives of the library, the YMCA, YWCA, Valley Center and two universites will speak on their programs.

Milton Ness, director of the School of Appleton Vocational, Technical and Adult Education, will discuss the role of the vocational school in educating the illiterate.

Mrs. Maxine Vanevenhoven, women and girls program director at the Appleton Family YMCA, will view the role of the "Y" in adult education. Concluding the morning session will be Mrs. Jane LeDain, coordinator of community programs at the Center, who will speak on continuing education for women.

The program will resume at 1 p.m. with a talk on clergy urban re-orientation effort, presented by an instructor from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

Gordon Bebeau, chief librarian at Appleton Public Library, will discuss the role of that facility and Robert Dick, director of community progress, University of Wisconsin, "The Difficult Art of Communication."

A general question period will follow at 3:45 p.m.

Alan Bussel, assistant to the dean at the center, will bring the opening remarks and Max G. Hensel, coordinator of community affairs at the center, will be moderator.

$500 Damage Set in 2-Car Accident

KAUKAUNA — Damage was estimated at more than $500, but no one was injured in a 2-car accident at Main Avenue and Fourth Street about 5:45 p.m. Friday.

According to police, a car driven by Mrs. Marie Taylor, 421 Dixon St., was traveling south on Main Avenue about to turn left onto Fourth where her car was struck from behind by a car driven by Paul Rabideau, 25, 122 W. Sixth St.

"I'll Carry This Sign until I'm blue in the face," said Duane Coenen, route 3, Appleton, as he participated in picketing today in front of Consolidated Badger Co-operative, 1815 W. Spencer St. National Farmers Organization pickets were placed at dairies across the state to appeal for higher prices for milk. The sign Coenen is carrying reads: "All we are asking is 2 cents a quart raise . . . fair prices for farmers." NFO officials said the picketing would continue 24 hours a day for an "indefinite" time. Appleton Voters to Choose 5 Aldermen, 2 on School Board

Five Council Candidates Have No Opposition; 21,144 Registered

Five Appleton council candidates are unopposed for two-year terms, while five council contests will be decided at the city-wide election April 4.

The futures of two incumbent board of education members — Kenneth R. Sager and Victor Sumnicht — will also be decided in a four-man race for two board positions.

Seats Assured

—Ald Richard Huisman (1st), 1002 N. Superior St.

—Ald. Alvin E. Tews (5th), 1128 W Lorain.

—Ald John MacDonald (7th), 1615 Orchard Drive

—Ald. William F. Errington (15th), 1807 E. Glendale Ave

—Ald. Orville A. Strutz (17), 733 E. Grant St.

Not seeking re-election this year were Alds. Arthur Mueller (19th), Robert Ebben (9th) and Paul Klemmer (11th) — the latter two one-termers.

The two top vote-getters in the race for the unpaid school board posts will be elected for three-year terms.

Don S. Smith, 1702 Ravina Place, and John R. Stevens, 3117 N. Morrison St., ran strong in their primary bids.

Sager, 525 N. Douglas St., led the ballot-battle in the primary, finishing well ahead of the field However, Smith and Stevens ran comparatively close to Sumnicht, who resides at 17 Silver Spur Lane.

In the council contests:

—Ald. Roland Voss (3rd), 812 W. Oklahoma St., is opposed by William H. Wachtendonk, 908 N. Harriman, former park board president.

—James F. Bethke, 2000 S. Jefferson St., and Edward R. Maloney, 601 E. Coolidge Ave., will engage in a run-off for the 9th Ward post.

—Arthur J. Hoolihan, 632 E. Harrison St., and Frederick G. Kafura Jr., 94 Estherbrook Court, will vie for the 11th Ward council seat.

Being Challenged

—Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) is being challenged by Howard F. Stumpf, 28 Weimar Court, the former alderman who was defeated last time around.

—Ralph C. Gertsch, 1833 N. Mason St., and Ralph E. McHugh, 1119 W. Frances St., who came close in 1965, are battling for the 19th Ward position.

City Clerk Elden Broehm said Saturday there are 21,144 Appleton residents registered to vote.

Combined Locks Man Fined After Mishap

LITTLE CHUTE — James Butcher, 39, 432 Patrick St., Combined Locks, pleaded guilty of inattentive driving and was fined $15 when arraigned before Raymond Sanders, municipal justice, Friday night.

Butcher was arrested March 20 after being involved in a minor accident.

State Survey Recommends Three Bridges in Fox Cities

Legislature's Requested Inventory Of Highway Bridge Needs Lists Two in Appleton, One in Menasha

Two major bridge projects at Appleton and another at Menasha are included in an inventory of Wisconsin highway bridge needs filed with the Legislative Council's Highway Advisory Committee today.

No priorities were given in the first survey of its kind ever prepared by the Wisconsin Highway Commission at the request of the legislature.

Green Bay, Oshkosh, Manitowoc and Sheboygan were singled out as other Fox Valley communities in need of bridge construction.

Estimate Costs

Eighty-two structures — costing an estimated $114 million — are needed to meet the requirements of Wisconsin communities, the survey said.

It was recommended that 48 bridges be considered on the state highway system and 34 are on roads other than the state network. Some are on city streets.

For the Fox Cities, the report is somewhat vague but does positively identify some proposed projects. The report says that:

—A new long bridge should be constructed over Little Lake Butte des Morts. (Menasha has been working for such a structure for years.)

—A bridge should span the Fox River at Oneida Street, leading into the heart of Appleton's central business district.

—U.S. 10 in Appleton is in need of an expanded facility which also would cross the Fox River.

On the last recommendation city and regional planners were unable, this morning, to pinpoint what area the state may have in mind.

Plan Six Lanes

The state report said proposed replacements of existing bridges included a six-lane structure across the Fox at Appleton.

Wisconsin engineers may be talking about the Memorial Drive bridge, which is handling peak traffic at near capacity now, or, a new structure bordering the northern end of Stroebe's Island as a link in the proposed Tri-County Expressway.

In Sheboygan, the existing bridge across the Sheboygan River on Pennsylvania Street would be replaced.

A replacement recommended at Oshkosh would call for a new bridge on Main Street and also on Congress Street across the Fox River.

And Manitowoc was listed for a harbor bridge with a removable span to allow vessels to enter the city.

A new four-lane bridge also has been proposed across the Fox on Tower Drive in Green Bay.

Other proposed replacements at Green Bay, which would get the lion's share of Fox Valley projects, include the Main Street bridge on U.S. 141 across the Fox River, the Walnut Street bridge, and Mason Street bridge estimated to cost $12 million.

The Mason Street structure, said to be the most costly of any proposed in the Valley, would be a four-lane span, 6,000 feet long. The portion across the Fox River would provide a 30-foot verticle clearance for small craft and a moveable span for larger vessels.

Appleton Reacts

Appleton officials today reacted favorably to state recognition of the need for the new bridge on Oneida Street. The other bridge improvements and replacements listed for this area have long been recognized, they indicated, so the list came as no surprise.

The state for many years has earmarked $200,000 a year for bridge building, a total considered inadequate to meet growing needs. The committee requested the survy on future bridge requirements to serve as a start on possible steps for providing more funds.

Tom Hart, director of planning and research for the commission said the estimated costs were based on available data and noted that a detailed investigation would be required at most locations to determine an accurate estimate.

At Combined Locks

Citizens to Vote On Youth Services

COMBINED LOCKS — The village board unanimously approved the request to include a referendum on the April 4 ballot on whether or not Combined Locks should provide land, sewer, water lines and sidewalks for a youth building.

The vote came in a special session last week when the board met to consider the petition for a youth facility, signed by almost 500 citizens.

The building itself will be financed, built, maintained, and supervised by the Combined Locks Jaycees, Inc.

A door-to-door campaign to secure the signatures for the petition was conducted by high school students and members of the Jaycees, prior to the meeting.

Speaking for the facility was the Rev. Thomas Downs, Jaycee Youth Committee chairman, who explained the importance of assisting the high school students in their quest for "a place to call their own."

A public meeting regarding the Jaycee plans is scheduled at 8 p.m. April 3 at the pavilion. A movie on the subject will be shown after a question and answer discussion. Pamphlets explaining the idea will be circulated.

Answering questions will be Father Downs, David Pennings, Jaycee president, Jerry Van Hoof, village lawyer, and six student representatives from the senior high school.

Appleton C of C Officials to Attend National Convention

Oscar Boldt, president elect, and Del Drumm, manager, will represent the Appleton Chamber of Commerce at the 55th annual meeting of the national organization in Washington, D.C., April 30-May 3.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will speak at the first general session May 1. The meeting will be in Constitution Hall. Topics scheduled for discussion include Vietnam, foreign aid, foreign affairs, economics, labor and congressional activities.

J. R. Zickler Dies Sunday In Appleton

Owned Shoe Store 50 Years; Active In Music Circles

Joseph R. Zickler, 73, 818 S. Weimer St., who owned and operated a shoe store on S. Walnut Street for almost 50 years prior to his retirement in 1960, died unexpectedly Sunday morning.

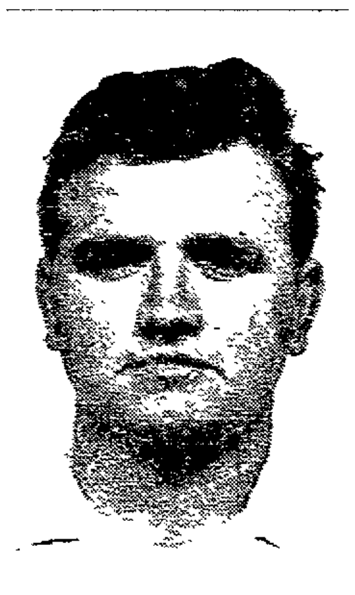
Zickler

He was noted as a musician, playing in the pit orchestras for the shows which came to Appleton in the silent movie days and as a cellist in the Fullinwider trio which played for many weddings, and furnished dinner music at many events. Active in the Appleton Civic Symphony, Zickler did not miss a Wednesday night performance from the time it was founded in 1930 until it was disbanded in 1944.

Zickler also was an avid gardener and spent much time since his retirement in his flower garden.

Survivors are the widow and one daughter.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Tuesday at St. Bernadette Catholic Church with burial in St. Joseph Cemetery. Friends may call at the Ellenbecker-Brown Funeral Home after 4 p.m. today.



Agents of the FBI have seized Donald Roger Peters, 28, 916 Ridge Lane, Appleton, on a warrant charging interstate transportation of stolen property. The charge stemmed from the robbery last March 19 of a coin collection valued at $40,000 from the home of Ervin A. Wanserski in Menasha. Peters was arraigned Saturday night, placed under $50,000 bond and released on his own recognizance. He is charged with transporting stolen coins from Wisconsin to Illinois. An Oshkosh man, Lawrence V. Miller, 22, was charged with armed robbery last week. The FBI said 85 per cent of the stolen coins have been recovered.

Contracts Awarded In Bank Expansion

$100,000 Project at Northern State Expected to Start This Week

Construction on a $100,000 expansion project at Northern State Bank, E. Wisconsin Avenue and N. Drew Street, is expected to start this week, according to J. A. Hennessy, bank president

Formal contracts have been signed for the project, which will add approximately 3,000 square feet of space to the bank building and two additional drive-up teller islands, and will include resurfacing of the entire lot

P. G Miron Construction Co., Inc. holds the general contract and Mickey Kuchenbecker, who was foreman of the original construction in 1962, will be construction foreman. Langstadt's, Inc. has the electrical contract and Azco, Inc. will handle the heating and plumbing.

June 15 is the target date for completion, Hennessy said. The tellers' drive-up will be covered with a protective canopy and underground access will be provided for employes from the main facility.

A temporary drive-in facility will be built on the northeast corner of the bank lot to provide service while construction is underway Additional equipment also will be required for the new drive-in windows. Hennessy pointed out that the bank has grown to $5.5 million in deposits with more than 5,500 depositors since it opened Jan. 7, 1963

A building permit for $57,600, covering base contracts, has been issued to the Miron firm City officials waived a setback requirement to permit the construction

Village Youths Are Apprehended

KIMBERLY — Two youths, one 16-year-old from Kimberly and one 15-year-old from Combined Locks, have been turned over to village police for disciplinary action after being apprehended in a stolen car Friday night by Ernest Danielson, Combined Locks chief of police

Walter Wildenberg, 109 Edward St., Kimberly, reported his car missing from a parking lot at Holy Name of Jesus Church following services Friday night. About an hour later, Danielson spotted the stolen car and stopped the two youths. He turned them over to Sgt. Donald Schmeck, Kimberly juvenile officer.

Seven Sessions

Kaukauna Candidates Reminded on Expenses

KAUKAUNA — City Clerk Karl E. Marzahl reminded candidates for the spring election that pre-election expense statements are due at his office by 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Industrial Park

Commission Moves To Rezone Airport Land

The Appleton plan commission added a new twist to its deliberations today — acting favorably on its own application to rezone old dounty airport property into an industrial park.

Now owned by Outagamie County and zoned for single family residential purposes, the 153-acre tract is being considered for a heavy industrial region.

Up until last week, the city reportedly had a firm which was eager to purchase 20 acres of land at the old airport to build a new plant. The deal fell through.

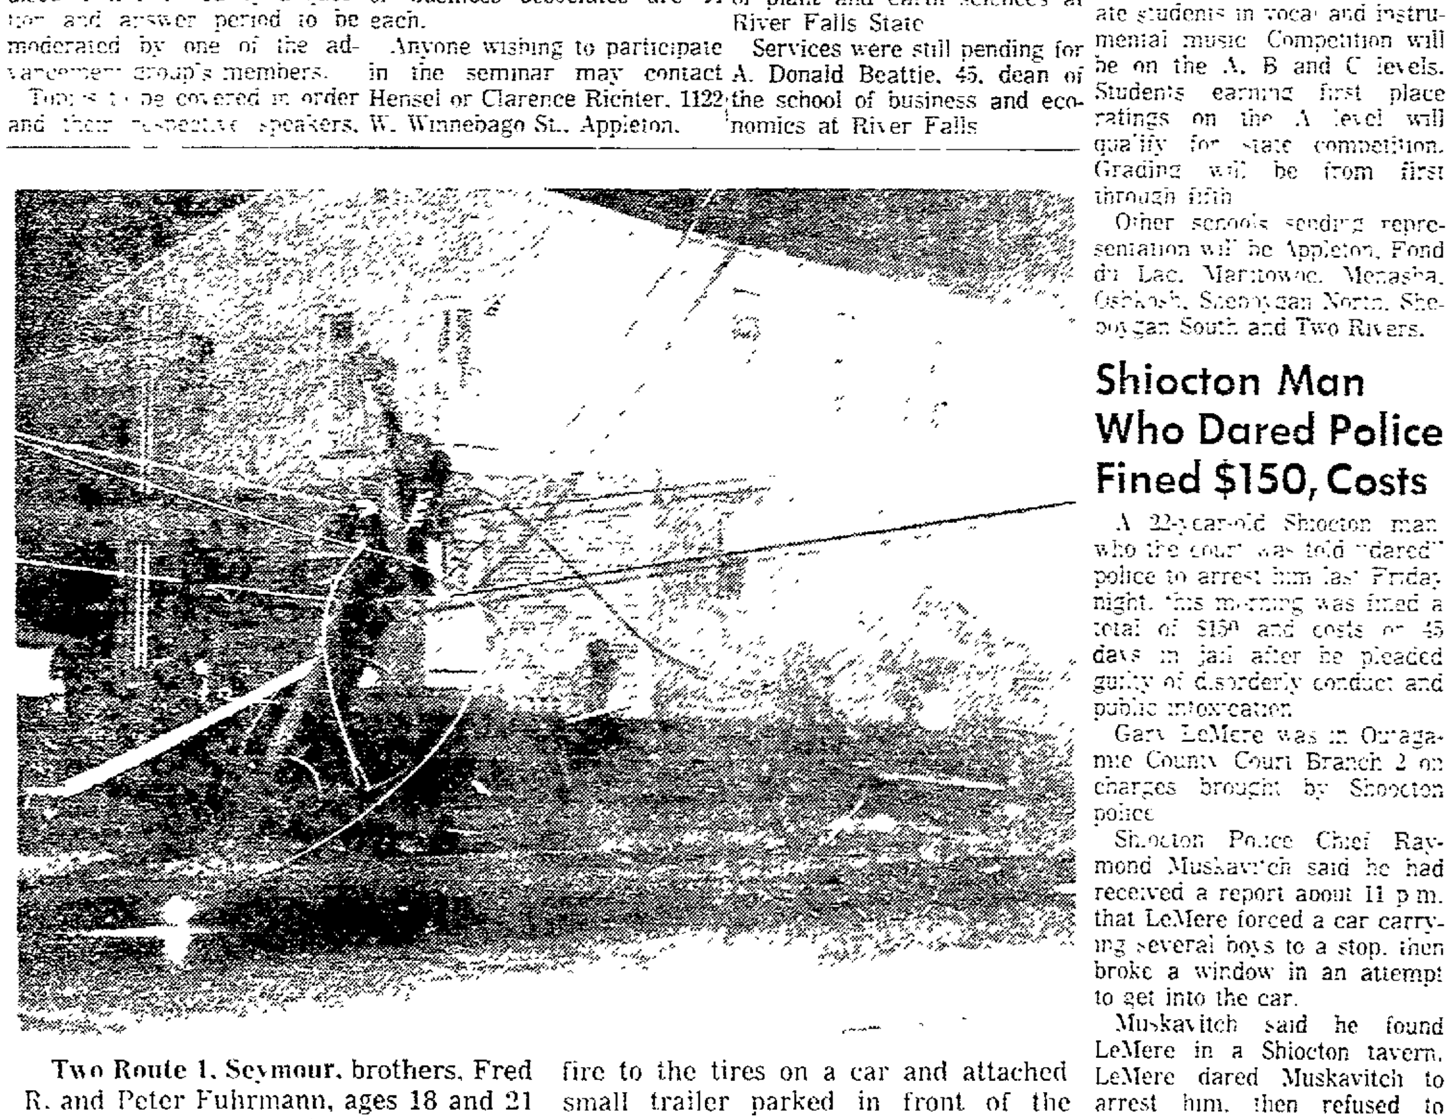
However, Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce spokesmen said the city should still pursue the industrial park development project.

The rezoning recommendation of the commission will go before the council April 5

When the city is desirous of having property rezoned, the plan commission has authority to initiate the application and also act on it.

In other action, the commission reaffirmed its recommendation that an eight-acre area in Colony Oaks subdivision would be a suitable site for a park. Owners of the property are asking $58,000 for the land

The commission merely recommended the land use — not the purchase—in keeping with its stautory authority.



Two Route 1, Seymour, brothers, Fred R. and Peter Fuhrmann, ages 18 and 21 respectively, escaped injury about 2:25 a.m. today when a car driven by Fred left N. Ballard Road, near Pershing Street, snapped off a ulitity pole and crashed into an apartment house at 2419 N. Ballard Road. Fallen power lines set fire to the tires on a car and attached small trailer parked in front of the building. Police reports show the car was leased to a Robert Knight. Fred Fuhrmann, who told police he fell asleep at the wheel, was charged with reckless driving. Appleton firemen were called to the scene. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Shiocton Man Who Dared Police Fined $150, Costs

A 22-year-old Shiocton man who the court was told "dared" police to arrest him last Friday night, this morning was fined a total of $150 and costs or 45 days in jail after he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and public intoxication

Gary LeMere was in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on charges brought by Shiocton police

Shiocton Police Chief Raymond Muskavitch said he had received a report about 11 p.m. that LeMere forced a car carrying several boys to a stop, then broke a window in an attempt to get into the car.

Muskavitch said he found LeMere in a Shiocton tavern. LeMere dared Muskavitch to arrest him, then refused to leave the tavern. Once in the squad car, LeMere leaped out, was caught a short distance away and was handcuffed for the trip to jail

Muskavitch said he was aided in the arrest of LeMere.

Issue Permit For $100,000 Warehouse

The Presto Corp of Appleton has obtained a building permit for a new $100,000 warehouse structure at 1850 W Highland.

Building Inspector Richard Atkins said the manufacturing firm intends to erect a 115 by 207-foot building basically of masonry construction

The addition is in keeping with the firm's expansion plans in an area zoned for heavy industrial purposes

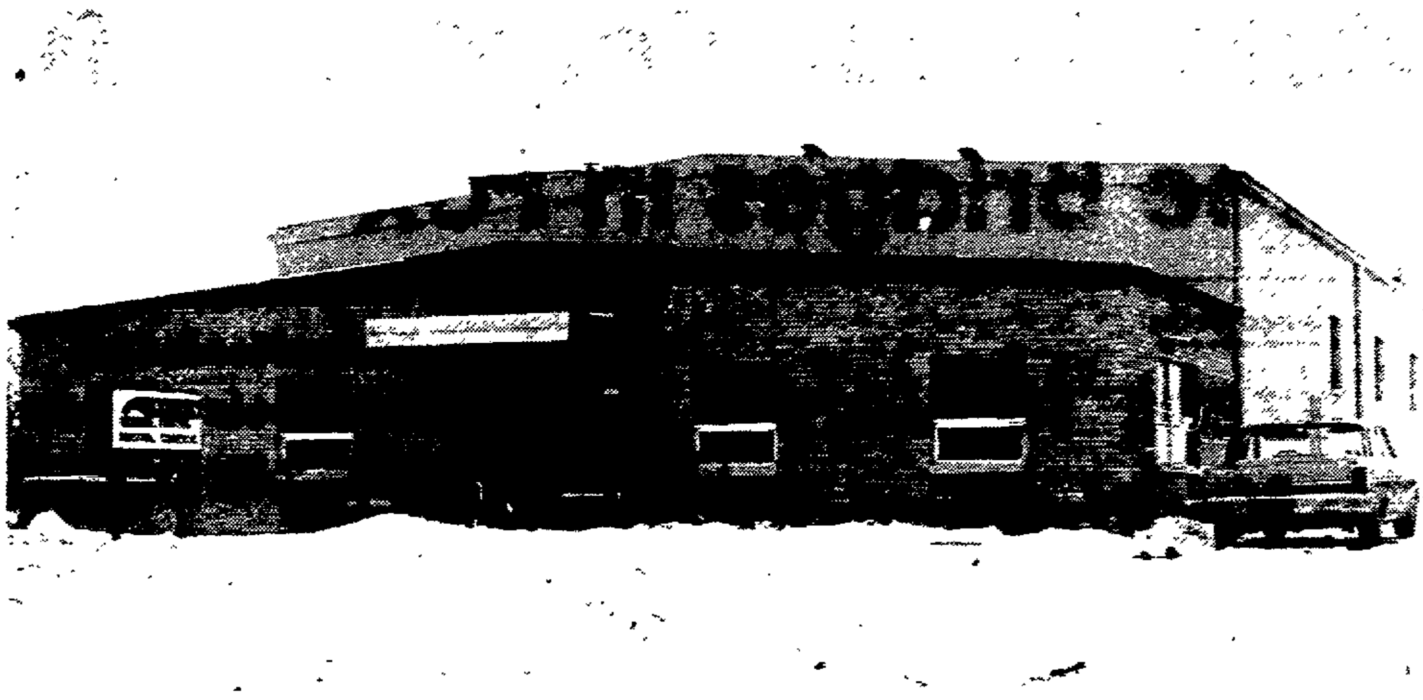
Police Investigate Village Car Theft

KIMBERLY — Police are investigating the theft of a car owned by Greg Marciniak, 323 N. Wilson St., which took place sometime Saturday night.

Marciniak noted his 1957-model car missing from in front of the Kozy Korner Tavern, Combined Locks, about 11:55 p.m.



One of the New Buildings completed in Appleton during 1966 was constructed by Van Eperen General Painting at 1001 S. Lynndale Drive. Construction of the building began in late 1965, according to Bernie Van Eperen, the owner. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Appleton May Affect Menasha School Plans

Dropping of Summer Studies Might Add To Student Load

MENASHA — The detailing of summer school plans for the public schools, one of the items for consideration at the board of education meeting at 7 p.m. today, may have an interesting issue.

A preliminary outline of the summer school classes, which will include remedial work at the elementary and junior high school levels and enrichment at the high school level, indicated that the 1967 summer offerings will be similar to other years.

Last summer 352 students were enrolled in Menasha public schools, both public and non-public school children; however, since summer school has been cancelled this year in the Neenah and Appleton school systems, Menasha's numbers could double, even triple.

Mrs. Fern Gaertner, president of the board, said some consideration had been given to the possibilities by the curriculum committee, headed by John Pawlowski. "We have never turned a youngster down for summer school who is a resident of our district. It is unlikely that there would be any startling number of students from outside the area."

Tuition for non-residents students has been one deterring factor for limiting the number of summer school students.

Need Staff

One board member asked "if we doubled our enrollment where would we get the staff? The tuition paid would have to take care of all costs over and above the $8,500 provided in the 1967 budget for teachers and $1,000 for instruction costs."

Transportation from Neenah or Appleton to Menasha, would limit the number of outside students, also, particularly at the elementary level, one educator surmised.

The board will also act tonight to authorize the teachers contracts for the 1967-68 school year. Supt. M. J. Gegan will present several contract recommendations for the new year, one or primary grades and one for vocal music.

Automobile Fire

MENASHA — Firemen put out a fire in the seat cushion of a car driven by Richard O. Perrin, 1437 E. Amelia St., Appleton, after Perrin drove the auto to the fire station Saturday at 10:25 p.m.

By Car, On Foot

Appleton Police Chase Halts Two Car Thefts

Two police chases, one on foot and the other by car, brought a quick end to an alleged car theft and an apparent attempted car theft early today.

Appleton police also are holding a 25-year-old man in connection with the alleged theft of a 1960 Cadillac early Sunday from an Appleton auto agency.

A patrolman was checking warehouses in the vicinity of S. Douglas and W. Haskell streets when he spotted a black 1955 Chevrolet leave a parking lot at a high speed.

Pursued Car

He pursued the car for several blocks on the west side, at sueeds about 60 miles per hour. The car went through several stop signs and finally pulled into a driveway at 1231 S. Mason St.

Although the driver shut off the headlights, the pursuing patrolman spotted the vehicle, and took the 20-year-old driver and his 15-year-old girl companion into custody. The Appleton youth, who is on parole, allegedly stole the car from in front of a home on E. Amelia Street. He told police the ignition was in an unlocked position.

The car is owned by Howard R. Melby, 320 S. Mason St., but Melby told police he is in the process of selling the auto to a man who lives on Amelia Street.

The girl who was in the stolen car reportedly had been released for the weekend from a Green Bay girls' home.

Pair Apprehended

In an incident that may have been related, according to police, an 18-year-old youth and a 22-year-old man, both from Appleton, were apprehended after they allegedly tried to take a car from the home of J. A. Dougherty, 1313 E. Amelia St. about 1:20 a.m. today.

Dougherty told police he frightened the two away after he observed them cross Owaissa Street, walk to his car, and open the doors.

The two fled between houses on Owaissa Street when Dougherty shouted at them.

Police spotted them a short time later near Charlotte Street and E. Wisconsin Avenue. The pair fled across a field, but one of the men fell face first in mud when a patrolman ordered them to halt. The second suspect was taken into custody a short time later. Neither is being held, although investigation is continuing.

Confer on Charges

Appleton detectives were scheduled to confer with Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer today in connection with charges against a 25-year-old Appleton man who allegedly stole a Cadillac from the lot at Gibson Motors, Inc., about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

The man was apprehended in the back year of a Neenah home by Neenah police. The car was found parked in the 900 block of Higgins Avenue in Neenah.

The Appleton man, who reportedly drove the car to Oshkosh before going to Neenah, said a 17-year-old youth had told him about the vehicle being parked in the lot with the keys in the ignition. The car, owned by a Watertown man, had been left in Appleton for repairs, police were told.

Believed Part of Loot

Police Take Coins To FBI Crime Lab

MENASHA — Local police were in Washington, D.C. today with coins believed to be a small portion of those taken in the $40,000 holdup of Ervin Wanserski a week ago.

The coins were to be examined in the FBI crime laboratory for possible further clues, after having been positively identified by the grocer-coin dealer as coming from his collection.

The coins represent the smaller of two portions found since the robbery. They were turned in last Tuesday to Winnebago County Dist. Atty. Thomas Fink by a man he would identify only as "a citizen." Fink revealed the discovery this morning.

Found Loot

Late Saturday, the FBI in Chicago had revealed finding coins there in an amount believed to represent about 90 per cent of the total loot from the robbery.

Fink said this morning the "citizen" turned in three boxes, each measuring about 18 by 24 by 30 inches and each only partially filled with coins.

They were found "in or about Oshkosh" by the citizen, Fink said.

He added they are "not significant" in value, compared with the coins turned up in Chicago, but said it was hoped examination might reveal other clues to aspects of the case still being investigated.

2 Arrests Made

Two arrests have been made, but authorities are still searching for at least two of the three gunmen who invaded the Wanserski home and grocery store, a week ago Sunday and held the family captive with ropes and pistols during a three-hour ordeal.

Lawrence V. Miller, 21, 603E W. South Park Ave., Oshkosh, who turned himself in Friday at the sheriff's office, made his second appearance before County Judge James V. Sitter today. Sitter granted the request of Miller's attorney to reduce bail on the armed robbery charge from $15,000 to $10,000. The judge also set further proceedings for April 3.

While Miller is charged with taking part in the robbery itself, Donald R. Peters, 28, 916 Ridge Lane, Appleton, is free on his own recognizance with bond set at $50,000 on a federal charge of transporting stolen goods over a state line. He was arrested by the FBI Saturday at his home.

Pair Accused of Cabin Damage

Summer Homes Are Vandalized Around Iola Lake Area

WAUPACA — Two 17-year-old youths, one from Iola and the other from rural Ogdensburg, have been accused of causing extensive damage to two cottages north of Iola, according to Waupaca County Sheriff William Mork.

The vandalism at both cottages occurred, Saturday, and the youths were taken into custody the same day following an investigation.

Three bottles of liquor and six bottles of beer were taken from a cottage owned by Bruce Fedler, Chicago. The cottage is six miles north of Iola on Long Lake in the Town of Iola. In addition, the two youths allegedly took seven dozen eggs found in a refrigerator and smashed them on the walls and furniture. Several pieces of furniture also were damaged.

At a cottage owned by Willard Eaton, 95 Fox St., Menasha, which is in the same area on Selmer Lake, the youths allegedly broke out 21 windows and caused extensive damage to the interior and cottage furnishings.

Both break-ins were reported to the sheriff's office Saturday morning.

The youths will be referred to juvenile authorities.

Candidate for Town Post Drops Out

NEENAH — Ballots for the Town of Neenah election April 4 have been printed, but the name of Kenneth Heinz, route 1, Neenah, does not appear as a candidate for town chairman.

Nominated by voters at the caucus earlier this month, Heinz said this morning his reason for withdrawing from the contest is that "people seem to be well satisfied with the present administration."

He had been nominated to oppose Laurel Heaney, the incumbent chairman.

Heinz said he is supporting Heaney.

Of the seven positions to be filled April 4, two are contested following the withdrawal of Heinz from the chairman race.

Denver Buser, a former supervisor, is opposing incumbent Harold Mulvey. Constable George Anderson is opposed by Robert Etwood.

The remainder of the slate is composed of unopposed incumbents, including Heaney, chairman; Birt E. Oberlies, supervisor No. 2; Richard Roudebush, clerk; Robert G. Williams, treasurer, and Paul Becker, assessor.

The polls will be located at Lakeview School, where the annual town meeting will be held the night of the election. Business will include action on a proposed master park plan.

Boys Sports Begins $50,000 Fund Campaign in Menasha

MENASHA — Boys Sports Inc. today kicked off a $50,000 fund drive and revealed future expansion plans for its property in the Town of Menasha.

Norman Bunker, president of the organization, announced that Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston, Green Bay Packer all-pro offensive guard and Menasha businessman, has accepted the fund drive chairmanship.

The project is the largest ever attempted by Boys Sports and its ultimate goal is a year-round program for Twin City youngsters with the construction of a football field, tennis courts, archery range, basketball courts and hockey rink on the land, which is located north of the city off Airport Road.

The immediate program, much of which already is underway, includes the completion of two regulation Little League diamonds, a Babe Ruth League field, fencing, backstops, dugouts, blacktop drives, parking area and a building 30 feet by 60 feet to contain toilet facilities, equipment storage area office space, locker room, shower area and a concession stand.

It is hoped that the baseball fields will be ready for the beginning of play in the spring of 1968.

First Facet

Thurston said the first facet of the fund program will be to contact all local industries for contributions.

Letters have been sent to the firms explaining the program and they will be followed by personal visits from fund-raising campaign volunteers.

The volunteers are Irv Hemb, Andrew "Bud" DeLeeuw, Kenneth Holmes, Don Reichelt, Dr. E. T. Hansman, Bunker, Randy Haase, Bob Weyenberg, Gene Patterson, Dick Roesler, Bill Gierke, Howard Hanson, Dick Utley, Bob Pawlowski, Tom Bohmke, Albert Becher, Lee Forman, Jack Williams and Jack Gullickson.

Another step in the campaign will be handled by more than 40 women of the Women's Auxiliary, who are selling blocks which will go into the new building.

They will contact local retail businesses and any firm contributing $25 or more will have its name inscribed on a plaque displayed in a prominent place on the property. The blocks will be sold for $5 apiece.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND REFERENDA ELECTIONS

APRIL 4, 1967

STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss.
OUTGAMIE COUNTY }

Office of County Clerk

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts in the County of Outagamie on the 4th day of April, 1967, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, in the sample ballot below.

Information to Voters

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

At a nonpartisan election, the voter shall place a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of any other candidate.

If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and the signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is visually handicapped, he may have anyone assist him in marking his ballot or operating a voting machine. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballots;

Planners Deny Zoning Change On Newberry

Rezoning Petition Attracted Protestors At 1966 Hearing

A thorny Newberry Street rezoning request, which attracted a full house of objectors at a council hearing last year, was recommended for rejection today by the Appleton Plan Commission.

The vote to deny was unanimous. The park board representative was absent.

James Vanden Boogaard petitioned to have a lot on the north side of Newberry, between Briarcliff Drive and the city limits, rezoned from multiple family to commercial-light business.

City and regional planners took strong positions — based on planning procedures and other factors — against rezoning the property.

Arouse Owners

A year ago when the rezoning, along with others for the Newberry Street area, was before the council it aroused property owners in the new Colony Oaks residential subdivision, and others in the surrounding area.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen said he was taking a longer look at the future and felt that with the development of a new shopping center underway near the edge of Kimberly leading to Appleton, the Newberry Street area could not support another commercial development.

Plan commissioners indicated they were not aware of what Vanden Boogaard wanted to do with the property if rezoned.

Commissioner Maurice Lewis felt the commission had an obligation to take into consideration "problems of people — not just planning and procedures."

Question Harm

Lewis questioned how much Vanden Boogaard may be harmed financially by not having his property rezoned.

Rasmussen and Eugene Franchett, executive director for the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, agreed with Lewis that the human element also must be considered.

However, the planners said that element must be weighed against the common good of the community, and in this instance it would be best for the southside of Appleton if the lot was not rezoned.

"We recognize you have to weigh the welfare of the city against the individual," Franchett declared.

Rasmussen recalled that a year ago the commission recommended rezoning the entire strip east to the Kimberly-Appleton line, but petitions were withdrawn before the council had a chance to vote.

Near Expressway

Rasmussen did not think any more commercial activity could be supported on that side of Newberry Street, and said it would still be suitable for multiple-family housing even though the area was near the proposed Tri-County Expressway.

Ald. Orville Strutz (17th) and Commissioner Lloyd Doerfler felt it would not be right to rezone just the Vanden Boogaard property. They leaned toward rezoning the entire stretch — providing there was a definite need shown for additional commercial development.

"I feel the same way," added Commissioner Raymond LeVee. "If it boils down to rezoning all the street or just one lot — I go along with the professional planners."

It was disclosed the city's new zoning ordinance, suggested by Harland Bartholomew and Associates as a part of the comprehensive plan, would give the city authority to control planned shopping centers.

Under the existing ordinance, once rezoning is granted, the city has no control of what will be constructed on the property if its falls within the commercial or business category.

Hearings on the new ordinance will be held this spring or summer.

YGOP State Conclave To Hear Gov. Knowles

Congressman Steiger Also Will Address Young Republicans in Sheboygan April 29

SHEBOYGAN — The Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans (YGOP) announced today that Governor Warren P. Knowles and 6th Dist. Congressman William A. Steiger (R-Oshkosh) will be featured speakers at the federation's 1967 state convention here April 28-30.

The chief executive will address delegates at their noon luncheon April 29 at the Executive Inn.

Steiger is scheduled to address the convention banquet April 29. He was elected to Congress in 1966, after serving in the Wisconsin legislature for six years.

A veteran of state YGOP conventions, Steiger served as national college chairman of the Young Republicans from 1959 to 1961. From 1961 to 1963 he was chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Young Republican National Federation. He was assistant chief page at the 1960 Republican national convention in Chicago.

Other speakers at the annual conclave are Congressman Edward Derwinski (R-Illinois); Dr. Robert P Hungate, Dean of the School of Business Administration at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, and Wisconsin Lt. Gov. Jack Olson. The three will appear at "Issue Briefing" during the April 29 morning session to discuss U.S. Foreign policy, U.S. economics policy, and state government, respectively.

More than 700 delegates are expected to attend.

Thousands Wait At Shore to See Results of Tide

PARIS (AP) — Thousands of tourists flocked to the Channel beaches in Normandy and Brittany today to see effects of one of the greatest tides of the century.

Unsettled weather and poor visibility disappointed early arrivals. No spectacular discoveries of wrecks or ancient villages were reported in the early hours of the day as the tide rolled back, baring hundreds of square miles of mud usually covered by water.

A new low tide was due later today, and the weatherman predicted that the skies and visibility might clear.

The unusual tide occurred because the sun and a full moon were directly in line over the equator and exerting their greatest pull on the water. This happens once in 18 years.

18 Youths to Receive Governor's Citations

Gov. Warren P. Knowles will present a special citation for bravery and service to 18 Wisconsin young people at the 10th Governor's Conference on Children and Youth, Friday and Saturday in Madison.

Among them are Karen Lindsay, and Dean Rudoy, Oshkosh; Karen Louise Wescott, Keshena, and William Draves, Fond du Lac.

Police Chase Car; Youth Claims Kidnapping

Charges reportedly are pending against a 17-year-old Bear Creek youth whom Outagamie County police allege led county and state police on a 100-mile-per hour chase early Sunday, then, after losing his pursuers, told authorities he had been kidnapped at gunpoint.

An Outagamie County patrolman said he first observed the 1966 auto traveling at a high rate of speed on County Trunk A, near County Trunk OO. The car did not stop for a signal, then continued south on A, stopped at A and U. S. 10, turned west on State 125, did not stop for a stop sign at U.S. 41 and State 125 and turned north on 41.

Police said the car went out of control, crossed sideways into the median strip and went back onto the road, with the squad car right behind. The 1966 auto began pulling away from the squad car as the two autos continued north on 41, at speeds over 100 miles per hour.

The auto turned north on County Trunk N near Little Chute and a state police patrol car began pursuit, followed by the county car.

The auto ran a road block at County Trunk OO, where it turned east. Police said the driver then ran several more roadblocks near Kaukauna before continuing out of Kaukauna on State 96, toward Wrightstown. It was at that point that he lost pursuing policemen.

Outagamie County authorities later were informed by Brown County police that the youth telephoned them saying he had been kidnapped at gunpoint and was made to lie on the floor near the back seat while the driver held a gun on him and drove the car.

The auto was found a short time after the chase near a Wrightstown telephone booth.

Hugo J. Deno Found Dead

Rural Menasha Man Apparently Took His Life Early Today

The death this morning of a 65-year-old rural Menasha farmer was listed as an apparent suicide, according to Calumet County Coroner Leroy A. Hughes.

The body of Hugo J. Deno, route 1, a lifelong resident of the rural Menasha area, was found in the barn of Deno's recently-sold farm by Mrs Deno. The coroner said death was caused by hanging. Deno apparently died about 7:15 a.m., Hughes said.

Deno reportedly had sold his farm and was in the process of moving to a home in Kimberly at the time of death.

Hughes said Deno went into the barn at approximately 7 a m. and his body was found by Mrs. Deno a short time later.

Deno is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter, two brothers and four sisters. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Fargo Funeral Home, Kaukauna.

Appleton Man Jailed For Disorderly Conduct

Duane Krueger, 26, 2219 N. Appleton St., this morning was sentenced to 15 days in jail after Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller found him guilty of disorderly conduct.

Krueger, whose trial was in County Court Branch 2, had pleaded innocent to the charge brought by his estranged wife, who said he forced his way into her apartment, beat her, took her money and destroyed some of her personal papers.

Students to Play In Pops Concert At Hilbert Gym

HILBERT — A variety of musical groups will perform at 8 p.m Friday in the pops concert presented in the school gym by the music department of the high school under the direction of William Huebner.

The concert band, girls chorus, 17-piece dance band and Tijuana brass band will participate. An added attraction will be dancing after the program with music furnished by the dance band, Tijuana brass and Kuszen's Polka Band.

Tickets may be purchased from band and chorus members, or at the door. Children under six will be admitted free.

State Survey Lists Bridges In Fox Cities

Wis., and Stillwater, Minn., are included in the list.

Wisconsin's share of the total estimated cost of these six bridge projects was put at $16.5 million.

"Many of the bridge projects are urgently needed now to either replace ones which are inadequate, or to provide crossings of new routes for relief of those which are presently overcrowded," H. B. Schultz, commission bridge engineer, said.

He added, "Nearly all of the listed structures will be needed in a few years, certainly before revenues are available to finance them unless additional revenue sources are made available."

Among the proposed new bridges would be a $1.2 million structure across the Wisconsin River at Merrimac south of Baraboo, thereby putting out of operation Wisconsin's sole surviving state-owned ferry.

Proposed replacements of existing bridges included plans for six-lane structures on U.S. 41 across the Menominee River at Marinette.

Bridges proposed by the Highway Commission at new sites would include six - lane spans across the Chippewa River on U.S. 12 to Sixth Avenue in Eau Claire and across the Milwaukee River at Humboldt and at Keefe avenues in Milwaukee.

Suggested new four - lane bridges included spans across the harbor entrance at Manitowoc, across the Rock River on Crosby Avenue and at St. Mary's Avenue in Janesville, across the Wisconsin on Main Street in Stevens Point and across the Wisconsin in an extension of Third Street in Wausau.

Elderly Appleton Woman Dies After Fall Down Basement Steps

A 73-year-old Appleton woman died about 11 p.m. Sunday in St. Elizabeth Hospital after she suffered an apparent stroke and fell down a flight of basement steps at her home earlier in the day.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Mrs. Peter Paters, 323 E. Washington St., suffered a skull fracture in the fall. Doctors said she had a stroke before the fall.

Paters told authorities he and his wife were preparing to drive to Green Bay to visit a daughter. He said he was in the car waiting for his wife.

When she did not come out, he went inside and found her lying at the bottom of eight basement steps. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance about 10 p.m. Sunday.

The body was released to the Brettschneider-Trettin Funeral Home.

Brewer Goes 26-Under-Par At Pensacola

Rains Thwart Try For All-Time Mark; Bob Keller Second

By WILL GRIMSLEY

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I think I can win the Masters — that's the one I really want," Gay Brewer said today after making a travesty of par in winning his second straight Pensacola Open Golf Tournament.

"I'm playing well. I feel I have a good chance at Augusta. I'm going all out for it."

Winning the Masters holds a special allure for the 35-year-old veteran from Middletown, Ohio, just as repeating in Pensacola enabled him to prove something to himself and others.

Last year Brewer backed into the Pensacola crown when the popular Doug Sanders, leading by four strokes, was disqualified after the third round for failing to sign his score card.

Later Was Sorry

"Nobody spots me four strokes and beats me," a disgruntled Sanders remarked bitterly afterward — a comment said in haste for which he later was sorry.

Brewer took it to heart. "I'd have liked the chance to see whether I could have caught him or not — it's been done," Brewer said. "So I was really anxious to win this tournament this year." He won spectacularly.

Spewing birdies and eagles over the 6,380-yard par 72 Pensacola Country Club course, he scored a near-record 66-64-61-71—262 for a six-stroke victory over 36-year-old home pro Bob Keller of the nearby Eglin Air Force Base.

After firing 26 birdies and an eagle in the first three rounds to go 25 under par and increasing that to 29 under par through 66 holes, Brewer looked ready to catch Mike Souchak's all-time record of 257 for 72 holes, set on the Brackenridge course at San Antonio, Tex., in 1955.

Finishing Holes

But the rains came, Brewer bogeyed three of the finishing holes and he had to settle for a score of 26 under.

At the Masters last year, the pug-nosed midwesterner had the traditional green coat virtually in his closet when he came to the final hole needing only a par to win. He three-putted from 40 feet, missing a crucial seven-footer, and tied Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 288.

In the playoff, Nicklaus won with a 70. Tommy shot a 72 and Brewer skied to a 78.

Brewer, in scoring his first tournament victory since the same tournament a year ago, won $15,000. Keller grabbed $9,000, thanks to a fine trap recovery on the final hole, beating out Sanders, who won third money of $5,625. Keller shot 65 for 268, Sanders 64 for 269.

Then came Ken Still, 71 for 271, followed by a quintet at 272 — young Jim Colbert, George Archer, Bobby Nichols, Dan Sikes and Tommy Jacobs.

Kathy Whitworth Captures Title

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Kathy Whitworth, plagued by four bogeys on the back nine, won the $10,000 Venice Open Golf Tournament Sunday by one stroke over Gloria Ehret and Clifford Ann Creed

Miss Whitworth's 4-over-par 76 final round gave her a 217 total and the $1,500 top prize. Miss Ehret and Miss Creed c .h hdd9rhTO taoi banked $1,000 each.

Althea Gibson's final round of 68 at the Lake Venice Golf Club course was the low of the tourney.

Miss Nancy Greene, of Canada, wipes away a tear after hearing she had just won the world cup for women in ski championships at Jackson Hole, Wyo. Sunday. Miss Greene won the slalom event in the Wild West Classic which gave her enough points to edge Marielle Goitschel of France. (AP Wirephoto)

Today's Games

No games scheduled

The San Francisco Warriors and the St. Louis Hawks now are getting ready for the battle for supremacy in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, but the Boston Celtics surprisingly have a little unfinished business in the East.

The Warriors, who won their third straight playoff victory from Los Angeles Sunday, 122-115, play the Hawks in the Cow Palace Thursday night in the opener of their series.

But the Celts, who had beaten New York 21 times including two recent playoff triumphs, were upended by the Knicks 123-112 in Boston and the series moves back to New York Tuesday.

The rest of the schedule between St. Louis and San Francisco has the second game on the Coast Saturday and then it's back to St. Louis for the third game on April 5 and the fourth game on April 8.

If additional games are needed, the fifth will be at San Francisco on April 10, the sixth at St. Louis on April 12 and the seventh in San Francisco on April 14.

Rick Barry led the Warriors Sunday with 37 points, and the Lakers sorely missed Jerry West, out of the game with a broken finger. Elgin Baylor had 37 points for Los Angeles.

Willis Reed had 38 points for the Knicks and dominated the boards in the upset. Cazzie Russell had 24 points and Walt Bellamy added 23. John Havlicek had 29 for Boston.

Green Bay Signs Kicker Bill Shear

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers announced today the signing of Bill Shear, a kicker from Cortland State in New York and a 10th-round choice in the recent pro football draft.

Shear, who is graduating from Cortland this year, kicked the longest collegiate field goal last season, 61 yards. He boots with his left foot.

Canadian Girl Wins Cup

Killy, Nancy Greene Toasted By the World's Top Skiers

By CARL HILLIARD

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP) — Canada's Nancy Greene and France's Jean-Claude Killy were toasted by more than 100 of the world's top skiers in this western Wyoming community Sunday night, capping three days of rugged competition for the World Cup of Skining.

Miss Greene, a pert 24-year-old member of the 1964 Canadian Olympic team faced the leader of the World Cup competition 22-year-old Marielle Goitschell of France.

On the men's side, Killy was striving to end his season on a victorious note and follow his giant slalom victory Saturday in the Wild West Classic with a win in the slalom.

Miss Greene had turned back Marielle in Saturday's giant slalom and needed a 25-point victory in the slalom to win the massive Crystal Cup in its first year.

She answered that challenge finishing second in the first run behind Florence Steurer of France while Miss Goitschel was close behind in third.

But in the second heat, Nancy, known as the Tiger to her teammates, flashed down the 1,250-foot course in 44.51 seconds, which was coupled with her first run time of 46.16 seconds for a 90.67 total.

Miss Goitschel recorded a 46.21 and a 44.53 for a 90.74 seconds total. In third was Miss Steurer with 93.02.

Meanwhile, Killy was having his trouble with the first run on the 72-gate, 1,875-foot course.

The usually wild Frenchman, who had taken his ninth consecutive victory the day before in the giant slalom, abandoned his style for a conservative race and finished sixth in a time of 62.46 while Austrian veteran Karl Schranz was flashing to victory in 60.71.

Killy caught an edge approaching the midpoint on the 67-gate second course for the men and tumbled. He did not finish.

The Americans started badly in the final day of competition. Jimmy Heuga, 23, of Tahoe City, Calif., who consistently pursued Killy in the last three World Cup races, fell during his first run and did not finish.

Big Jim Barrows of Steamboat Springs, Colo., was disqualified during his first run and Harry Ryan of Rutland, Vt., also fell and did not finish. Rick Chaffe, also of Rutland, was disqualified

But the U.S. picture was brightened when Valdmir (Spider) Sabich of Twin Bridges, Calif., turned the first heat in 64.7 seconds and came through in 65.14 in the second to finish sixth in the final results

Two tips to cut oil bills

1. Don't block heat outlets. Keep both heat and cold air return ducts free.
2. Use a heating oil that helps guard against deposit build-up in burner passages. In a clean, well adjusted burner, Shell Heating Oil can reduce fuel consumption significantly.

Indians' McDowell Holds Cubs Hitless for 6 Innings

Cleveland Holds Off Rally For 4-3 Win; White Sox Nip Mets in Extra Frame

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The verdict on Sam McDowell may not be final for a couple of months yet, but the Chicago Cubs think they see the jury coming in.

McDowell, of course, is the fireballing Cleveland left-hander who was supposed to make everybody forget about Sandy Koufax. He ran into arm trouble last year and had a mediocre season.

But Sunday, with the opening of the major-league baseball season just a little more than two weeks away, McDowell went six innings against the Cubs at Scottsdale, Ariz., and gave up not so much as a single hit.

The Indians had a little trouble scoring themselves, but finally pushed across three unearned runs in the eighth inning and added another in the ninth, then withstood a Chicago challenge and won 4-3.

In all, Sudden Sam struck out six and walked one in the Cleveland triumph. The Cubs' runs all came in the ninth, two of them on Ron Santo's two run homer in his first appearance since being spiked on March 17.

In other exhibition games Sunday, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 3-1, Kansas City edged Houston 5-4, California blanked San Francisco 5-0, Philadelphia outslugged Atlanta 10-9, the New York Yankees bounced Cincinnati 9-3, Pittsburgh and Washington tied 5-5 in 15 innings, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Mets 4-3 in 10 innings, Minnesota blasted Boston 7-1 and St. Louis beat Detroit 6-2.

Pinch Single

Cleveland's Dick Radatz set the Cubs down without a hit in the seventh, but Jim Stewart broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out pinch single off Vince Romo.

Dave Johnson knocked in two runs for the Orioles with a double and two singles in the victory over the Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla. Dave Duncan drove in two runs, one on a homer, for Kansas City as the Astros fell at Cocoa, Fla.

George Brunet set San Francisco down on two hits in six innings in the Angels' triumph at Palm Springs, Calif. Tom Satriano had three hits and two runs batted in for California.

Two balks by Charlie Vaughan sent in the tying and winning runs for Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla. The Phillies blew a 7-2 lead before coming back for the victory.

Horace Clarke had four runs batted in and four hits for the Yankees at Tampa, Fla., and Lou Clinton homered for the Yanks. Whitey Ford was the winning pitcher.

Howard Has 3 RBI

The Senators-Pirates game was called off at Pompano Beach, Fla., after four hours and 15 minutes because of darkness. Frank Howard had three runs batted in for the Senators and Matty Alou and Maury Wills each had four Pittsburgh hits.

Tom McCraw's single with the bases loaded in the 10th gave the White Sox their win at St Petersburg, Fla. Ron Swoboda and Jerry Grote homered for the Mets.

Jim Kaat gave up five hits in seven innings in the Minnesota triumph at Orlando, Fla. Rico Petrocelli homered for the lone Sox run.

Bruhn Backs Big 10 Stand On Slush Fund

Says Wisconsin Adheres Strictly To League Rules

MADISON (AP) — The Big Ten's stand in the Illinois slush fund scandal "will make the conference stronger," says former Wisconsin football coach Milt Bruhn.

"Ten or 20 years from now this decision might be considered a very important one for football," he said. "If we go off in tangents, football won't survive. If we do it the right way, it will work."

Bruhn, assistant athletic director, represented Wisconsin and voted with the majority at the conference meeting that resulted in an ultimatum to Illinois to dismiss three coaches or leave the conference.

Coaches Resigned

The coaches all resigned.

Bruhn, in an interview with Tom Butler of the Wisconsin State Journal, said Wisconsin has adhered strictly to the rules.

"We've all been told by Ivan to live within the rules or get fired — one or the other. That's the way it was when I became head coach and those are the rules John has to work under."

Bruhn was referring to Ivan Williamson, Wisconsin's athletic director, and John Coatta, Bruhn's successor as head football coach.

"We've been living within the rules absolutely," Bruhn said.

Illini supporters have claimed that all other schools in the Big Ten have been bending rules. Bruhn denied this.

"I can assure you Ivan runs this office with the rule book in his hand," Bruhn said.

Terror Track Team Launches Season Against Two Foes

Squad Smallest in Many Years; 7 Lettermen Currently Available

The smallest Appleton High School track squad in several decades launches its campaign at 4 p.m. Tuesday with a triangular indoor meet against Whitefish Bay and Manitowoc on the Ships' track (John F. Kennedy Fieldhouse).

Coach Keith Kohlman, who describes the 1967 season as "The greatest challenge of my career," has only 44 candidates working out. This is less than half the total that ordinarily reports.

Kohlman says that the lack of numbers stems primarily from the split schedule AHS is employing this school year. Indoor workouts haven't been able to start until 5 p.m. although, later, outdoor practice will start at 4 p.m. for those who aren't on the afternoon class schedule).

Boys who get out of school at 12:30 p.m. — many of whom have secured part-time jobs — don't report back for track at such a late hour, Kohlman indicated.

This is the year Kohlman had hoped for a large number of candidates so he could, in effect, develop two track teams for the future (for AHS-West and AHS-East in 1967-8).

Has 7 Lettermen

Kohlman has a nucleus of seven active lettermen, around which to begin his extensive rebuilding. They are seniors Dennis Kray, John Vogt, Gerard Hendriks, Randy Thomas and Dave Romenesko and juniors Steve Kagen and Bill King.

Two other lettermen are not available. Sprinter Gary Vivoda, who was elected co-captain, along with Kray, has a back injury (he is wearing a brace). Long jumper-high jumper Steve Lamers is currently ineligible.

The top returnee is quarter-miler Hendriks, Fox River Valley Conference champion and third-place finisher in the state in 1966.

Kray, a good half-miler, ran a 2.02 last year. King, an excellent low-hurdles prospect, broke Chuck McKee's AHS sophomore record in 1966. Kagen set a soph record for the 220-yard dash.

Pole vaulters Bob Manwell and Cliff Tierney last year set a soph record of 11 feet, 3 inches.

Seagren Sets NCAA Record

Sophomore Vaults 17 Feet, 3 1-4 Inches In Easter Relays

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An NCAA pole vault record belongs to Bob Seagren of the University of Southern California.

The soaring sophomore vaulted 17-feet-3¼ Saturday at the 29th Easter Relays here as USC handily captured the team title.

Seagren's teammate, Earl McCullough, was named outstanding athlete of the meet. He won the 120 high hurdles in a record 13.7, placed third in the long jump and ran on the record 440 and 880 relay teams.

His high hurdles mark broke the oldest record in the Easter Relays book, a 13.8 set by Trojan Olympian Jack Davis in 1956.

Seagren's pole vault mark broke former Bruin Marc Savage's year old national collegiate record of 16-feet-9

The Trojans, who emerged from the meet with 39 points from the relays, won 11 of 17 open events and set a total of two school and four meet records.

Fox Cities Prep Athletes to be Honored Tonight

The first banquet ever held to honor athletes chosen on The Post-Crescent's All-Fox Cities teams will take place tonight, under the sponsorship of the Little Chute Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the Darboy Club.

The function, honoring the area's top high school football and basketball players of 1966-67, will start at 6:30 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door for those who did not secure them in advance.

The Green Bay Packers' Jerry Kramer will be the featured speaker. Notre Dame Captain Rocky Bleier will also be a guest.

Three Bruins Selected on NCAA Star '5'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Lew Alcindor was named the most outstanding player in the NCAA national championship basketball tourney, and two of his UCLA teammates were selected to the all-tourney team.

Others selected for the all-tourney team by sportswriters and sportscasters covering the semifinals and finals were Mike Warren and Lucius Allen of UCLA, Elvin Hayes of Houston and Don May of Dayton.

Alcindor and Hayes each got 110 votes, May 109. Warren had 104 while Allen gained the fifth spot by edging teammate Lynn Shackleford 43-34.

Others receiving votes were Rusty Clark and Larry Miller of North Carolina, Don Chaney, Ken Spain and Melvin Bell of Houston, Dan Sadlier and Bob Hooper of Dayton and Ken Heitz of UCLA.

Alcindor got 68 votes as the outstanding player, May 16, Warren 14 and Hayes 11.

Fregosi 15 Pounds Lighter, Eyes Better Season in '67

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Jim Fregosi's weight went up, his batting average went down and he figures the two were related.

"I was just too heavy last year, all year," says Fregosi, the California Angels' shortstop, who reported about 15 pounds lighter at 196 this spring.

"I don't lose weight during a season, so for the last two months before reporting to spring training, I ate just one meal a day."

He passed up the groceries until an early dinner late in the afternoon. Fregosi also worked out with weights and did 150 sit-ups a day in his personal battle of the bulge.

Manager Bill Rigney heartily approved the plan.

"I decided and I'm glad he did too, that if there was going to be one guy on this club ready for opening day, it was going to be No 11

Pace Himself

"Last year he had an idea he should pace himself during spring training and he never did get ready for opening day."

The San Francisco native was the starting shortstop for the American League in the 1964 All-Star game, a season when he hit .277, the same average he posted for 1965.

Last year he slipped to 252 and wasn't satisfied even though he led the club with 78 runs, 239 total bases and 32 doubles.

He also led the league shortstops with 125 double plays.

"I feel better this spring," he says. "And I think this club will get more runs than it did last year."

He alluded to the winter acquisition of Jimmie Hall and Don Mincher in the trade which sent pitcher Dean Chance to the Minnesota Twins.

In spring training, Rigney has on occasion had Fregosi batting in the No. 2 spot followed by Hall, heavy hitting Rick Reichardt and Mincher.

Don Brandenburg Fires 256 Game; Verbeten Rolls 644

Don Brandenburg slammed a 256 game and Joe Hinkens cracked a 650 series to lead the way in the Fox Valley League at the Little Chute Recreation Lanes Friday night.

Hinkens had a 235 game with the high series and Brandenburg was runnerup in the series department with a 622 count. Leo King was next in line with a 605 aggregate.

Hemie Staedt and Chuck Bayer shared honors in the Tavern League at Hahn's Lanes Friday night as Staedt smashed a 234 game and Bayer came through with a 615 series.

Staedt finished with a 583 set and Bayer's high set included a 225 singleton. Other counts over the 600 mark included a 606 by Milt Drier and a 605 by Bob Lichtfus.

Slams 590 Series

In the Sportsman's League at Hahn's Friday night, John Van Eperen led the way with a 590 series. The only other honor score in the league was a 569 by Bob Schmitz.

Friday night's Commercial League at Sabre Lanes was paced by Lauren Hensen with a 563 series. Steve Paul had a 556 count and Bud Wegner rolled 554.

Ryun Cops Mile and 880, but Jayhawkers Are Downed by UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World record holder Jim Ryun of Kansas toyed with the opposition Saturday in winning the mile in 4:05.1 and the 880 in 1:48 1 but UCLA, the defending national collegiate champions defeated the Jayhawkers 88-55 in their dual track and field meet. It was Ryun's first outdoor appearance of the season

"I thought both races were pretty good although the mile pace was a bit slower than I expected," said Ryun, who added that his first big mile effort will come in the Kansas Relays April 21.

The 7-minute interview:

We invented it to give you a chance to size up a life insurance agent and still have an out.

How do you know whether or not you want to do business with a man until you talk to him and have a chance to see if he's your kind of person? That's why a Mutual Benefit agent offers a 7-minute interview.

In seven minutes, he's not about to solve your problems, though he may very well spark a couple of ideas that will save you money.

The important thing is, you will have a chance to see that he knows his stuff and to size him up. To determine if he's a person you would find it easy to talk to.

We're pretty sure that the kind of personal adviser you've wanted, but never have known where to find, is here in our office. Phone me at 739-1044 and I'll ask him to get in touch with you. I think you'll be impressed.

NFO Claims Major Gains In Minnesota

13 Minnesota Dairies Reportedly Agree to Hike; Boycott Continues

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Farmers Organization claimed its first major success Sunday in its 13-day campaign to increase by 2 cents a quart the price paid to farmers for milk.

The NFO said 13 Minnesota dairies, handling 235 million pounds of milk yearly, had signed contracts on NFO terms. Other signings were rumored, but not confirmed, in Wisconsin.

Withholding, meanwhile, is being continued through the 25-state area. In Tennessee the Teamsters Union joined the NFO to shut off the flow of milk to homes and stores.

Picketing Lull

Many of the states affected by the boycott reported a lull in picketing and acts of violence over the Easter weekend.

In Chicago the Pure Milk Association reported deliveries of milk to the city's wholesalers had been reduced by only 5 or 6 per cent and that milk supplies remained adequate in all stores. No price increases were reported. The association represents Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana farmers supplying milk to the Chicago market.

The situation was reversed in Nashville, Tenn., where the combined Action by NFO pickets, Teamsters and members of the Meat Cutters Union forced processors to curtail operations, kept milk off store shelves and halted home deliveries. Nashville milk processors serve some 1.5 million residents of Middle Tennessee and south central Kentucky.

Lawyers for the Teamsters Union delayed the enforcement of an injunction against the milk withholding action in Chancery Court at Nashville by petitioning for a U.S. District Court order in their favor. A hearing on the motion was set for today.

More than 300 NFO, Teamsters and other pickets appeared early today at major dairies in Nashville and a dairy spokesman said milk would be delivered only to hospitals.

Pickets also appeared at dairies in several Pennsylvania communities early today.

Sixteen NFO pickets appeared at Abbott Dairies in Philadelphia, announced they had been recognized by the Teamsters, and told police they would not allow milk trucks to enter or leave the plant. An Abbott spokesman said the Teamsters were not supporting the NFO.

Pickets appeared at midnight at major milk processing plants in four other Pennsylvania counties. A spokesman for the NFO said pickets would remain "until we get the job done."

Fire on Trucks

In other NFO action in Pennsylvania Sunday pickets delayed milk trucks at a plant in New Bethlehem. State Police said a bullet was fired into the radiator of a milk truck in Mayport in Clarion County. In Venango County an NFO spokesman said contract negotiations will open with two dairies today.

In St. Paul adverse reaction to reports of milk dumpings brought the announcement of a project to send milk to India.

Dr Sidney Aurbach of St. Paul said contacts have been made in India and transportation arrangements are nearly complete. The Rev. Robert Chalmers of Redwood Falls, Minn., field representative of the World Church Service of the Minnesota Council of Churches said his group would supervise the program "with the highest integrity and honesty, and only for humanitarian purposes."

But Oren Lee Staley, NFO president, was quoted as saying the NFO has no manpower to aid the project. "Our first thought," Staley said, "must be to correct our own injustices, otherwise, the shipment of NFO milk to India would amount to little more than the poor feeding the poor."

Ex-Nun Weds Catholic Priest At Milwaukee

PEWAUKEE, Wis (AP)— A Roman Catholic priest and a former nun went into seclusion after a weekend wedding performed by a Lutheran minister.

"It was a very inspiring service," said the Rev. LeRoy Andersen, of the brief, 15-minute, ceremony Saturday in which Father Edmund Kurth, 35, Pewaukee, and Shirley Weis, 34, Chicago, a former nun, were wed

Andersen, pastor of Galilee Lutheran Church here, said only a small number of persons attended the service. He confirmed that he officiated, but declined to say where or when the ceremony was held.

Andersen said he could not disclose where the couple went after the wedding, but he said no trip was planned

He also said he was not at liberty to reveal what Kurth planned to do for a living.

Kurth had said earlier he assumed the wedding would mean excommunication.

President Is Squirming

Foes Stall Johnson's Latin Program

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate critics of his Vietnam policies are making President Johnson squirm a bit before handing him a resolution of Latin aid support he wants to take to the Punta del Este hemispheric summit conference April 12-14.

They already have stalled the measure to the point where Johnson will not have it in his pocket when he entertains Latin American ambassadors at his Texas ranch this weekend.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has scheduled its next hearing on it for April 3.

Johnson has been on the telephone to Senate friends haranguing them to get action. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen reported a 30-minute conversation in which Johnson urged him to rally GOP support for the resolution.

Alliance Programs

As it stands, the resolution, passed by the House would have Congress "recommend" that the United States provide financing for Alliance for Progress educational and economic programs on a matching basis with Latin American nations. It also would put Congress on record for support of a common market for the area.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee raised the point that this was the kind of advance commitment Congress gave the President in the Tonkin Gulf resolution in 1964, which Fulbright contends Johnson used to expand the Vietnam war.

Some senators who have seen their protests against intensifying the war bounce off the White House without seeming effect, joined Fulbright to peck away at the current resolution although one war foe, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., is sponsoring the measure.

Won't Deny Resolution

While they apparently already have succeeded in making the President uncomfortable, the group indicates it doesn't really intend to deny him some resolution.

Fulbright repeatedly has said he is only objecting to "procedure, not substance." He wants individual Latin aid programs checked with Congress and not put into effect by presidential order.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., has challenged Johnson's contention that about $1.5 billion can be added to Latin American aid without cutting back on domestic programs. He objects to the "blank check" aspects of the administration's original proposal.

"The whole concept is fallacious though undoubtedly it's done with good intentions," he said.

The critics are expected to push to say that Congress "supports" Johnson's proposal so long as aid is given "in accordance with constitutional processes."

It will be up to Johnson to decide whether this represents more than the "empty words" Secretary of State Dean Rusk said would be worse than no resolution at all.

Higher Wages, Shorter Hours

Kansas City Firemen Start Second 'Sick Leave' Strike in Two Years

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Firemen are continuing with plans that will leave Kansas City virtually without fire protection by Tuesday morning. They are seeking higher wages and shorter hours.

Stanton Gladden, a battalion chief and president of the Fire Fighters Local 42, said two more men in each company would take sick leave today. About sixty reported sick Sunday in the first move toward a walkout.

Gladden said all other men supporting the move will report they are sick Tuesday. In a similar dispute last summer only a handful of firemen opposed the union.

Mayor Ilus Davis said the city has a plan of action if the walkout becomes complete. He wouldn't disclose the details.

"We don't deal in threats," the mayor said.

Remain on Duty

Last summer, at the city's request, the National Guard was called out to protect the fire stations, although firemen remained on duty during that dispute.

The climax will come during the city election Tuesday, in which the 12-member city council and a mayor are elected.

Charles Shafer, attorney for the firemen's union, is a candidate for councilman, a post he formerly held.

Gladden has accused the present council of failing to keep its promises. The union has urged defeat of the council majority in the election.

Mayor Davis, seeking re-election, said the "threat to stop fire protection, if carried out, would be an irresponsible and vicious attempt to blackmail the voters."

Unofficial Strike

"I can't believe that most of the firemen would leave their fellow citizens unprotected in order to further the political ambitions of Gladden and Shafer." Davis said.

Gladden said the stoppage was not an official strike or an action by the union.

"It's just a spontaneous action of the men." Gladden asserted.

The firemen are demanding a 10 per cent wage increase and reduction of their work week from 56 hours to 50. There are about 850 firemen, and the average salary is $6,700 a year. They are on duty 24 hours and off 48 hours.

The council has offered a five per cent cost of living wage increase to all city employes, but the firemen say that is not enough for them.

Country Club At Milwaukee Hit by Flames

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Investigators continued to seek the cause today of a $125,000 fire that struck the Tuckaway Country Club in suburban Greenfield Saturday.

It was the second major blaze at the club in six months. Last October, a fire caused $75,000 damage.

Fire Chief Charles Rule gave the damage estimate and said no cause for the fire had yet been determined.

Three firemen were injured. They were part of a force of 55 firemen from five suburban departments called to the scene. No one was injured seriously.

Tuckaway is the site of the Milwaukee Jaycee Open—one of the stops on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour. The open is scheduled for mid-June this year.

Body of Mexican Bishop Found

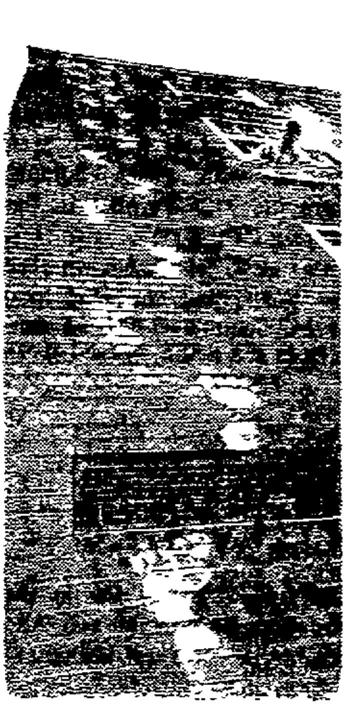
CIUDAD OBREGON, Mexico (AP) — Police are searching for five men suspected of killing Bishop Jose de La Soledad Torres Castaneda, whose body was found strangled and beaten Saturday in a remote spot near the Sierra Madre Mountains.

The bishop of Ciudad Obregon, 48, had been missing since March 4. A crowd of some 5,000 persons gathered Sunday to pay homage as the body was brought back for burial. A funeral mass will be celebrated Tuesday and burial will be at the local cathedral.

Easter Bunny Missed Spirit of the Holiday

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — Three-year-old Willie Cornell excitedly urged his sleepy mother to come see the Easter bunny early Sunday.

Mrs Cornell arrived too late. The bunny she had been awakened to see already had eaten the crocuses she was growing near the house.



Students returning from spring vacation at Willamette University, Salem, Ore., found big white footprints on one of the halls. Looking out the window is Elinor Lindquist, publicity office secretary, who said she had no idea how the 19-inch prints got there. School officials suspected pranksters used a ladder to get white paint on the wall. (AP Wirephoto)

Officials Urged to Lift Bombing Limits

Johnson Praises Brooke for Changing Stand, Stennis Demurs

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee today urged officials to lift bombing restrictions in the Vietnam war. But President Johnson gave his figurative embrace to a senator newly converted to administration war policy.

The critical survey came from the watchdog Senate Defense subcommittee headed by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., which sent four investigators to South Vietnam last fall for a check with U.S. commanders and combat units.

The panel said the cost of tactical air operations in Vietnam, including restricted bombing of targets in North Vietnam, "has been heavy for the limited gains achieved.

Raids Costly

"The air raids over North Vietnam have made it more costly for the North Vietnamese to wage aggression, but it has been through the sacrifice of many American lives and aircraft losses extending into billions of dollars."

But Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., just back from Vietnam, maintained Sunday that the bombing should continue under present circumstances, then said Johnson had praised him for presenting his views and had asked for a personal meeting.

Meanwhile Democratic Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania advocated a trial halt in bombing to test Soviet intentions on peace talks while Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said this would be dangerous.

Second Suggestion

The defense subcommittee's report was the second of six that Stennis has promised as a result of an investigation of the war by the panel.

A Defense Department statement published as part of the censored report protested that the Senate findings were "in important respects marred by errors of fact and inference."

But the Pentagon made no denial of the subcommittee statement that "selection of targets to be struck in North Vietnam is still controlled in large measure from Washington. The striking forces must operate outside of certain prohibited areas and to the exclusion of specific targets."

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a member of the subcommittee, said in a separate report on his December visit to the war theater that U.S. pilots want to be free to hit airfields in the North.

M 16s Tough

He said the pilots told him the Soviet-built MIG fighter forces are tough, aggressive and sophisticated and the pilots want to be released from Washington restrictions so they can destroy runways and MIGs on the ground in the North.

The United States "continues its policy of not employing with maximum effect its conventional air and sea power against the more meaningful targets in North Vietnam," Symington said.

"The time is approaching," the former Air Force secretary said, "when we must decide whether we will move forward or move out."

Brooke, who once advocated a reduction of the U.S. military effort in Vietnam and had called for a reassessment, said in the Senate Thursday and repeated Sunday that the present military level is essential.

Pecatonica, Kickapoo at Flood Stage

Southwestern State Residents Prepare for Trek to High Ground

DARLINGTON (AP) — Some merchants in this southwestern community have been forced to once again engage in their all too frequent pastime of stock switching.

That means moving the dry goods in your store to higher shelves — if you want them to remain "dry" goods. For auto dealers, it means moving the cars to higher ground — unless they are amphibious.

In other words — the Pecatonica River is planning its annual spring floor. It rose 4.4 feet above flood stage during the weekend, and rain Sunday posed a serious flood threat.

Crest at Gays Mills

Spring floods threatened along other southwestern rivers, too.

Crawford County authorities reported that the Kickapoo River had risen over the weekend, and was cresting at flood stage at Gays Mills. It crested as much as 1½ feet over flood stage at Steuben, Wis., according to the hydrologist for the Minneapolis river district.

Lafatyette County trunk highways C and G were closed at Calamine and County Trunk K was shut at Gratiot during the weekend due to the Pecatonica's overflow

The Mississippi was rising from St. Paul downstream through Guttenburg, Iowa La Crosse and Prairie du Chien, Wis. — on the banks of the Mississippi — were in no immediate danger of being flooded, however, according to the hydrologist.

Herman Franks Says Giants 'Will be Stronger' in 1967

Key to Pennant Chances Lies Between Short and Second Base

By JACK STEVENSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Key to success or failure for the San Francisco Giants' pennant chances this season lies between shortstop and second base.

If the combination there clicks, it could be a great season and the Giants could finish first or second.

Manager Herman Franks already terms the situation improved both around second base and in the outfield where the fellows flanking Willie Mays struck the ball lightly if at all last year.

Even with ace pitcher Juan Marichal staging his long spring holdout, the Giants figure strong in the hurling department with additional strength possible if Mike McCormick or Ray Sadecki produce from the southpaw side.

"We'll be stronger," forecasts Franks who brought home second place finishers in his prior two seasons at the San Francisco helm.

Bench Strength

Mays feels the same way and points to the added bench strength with left-handed hitting Norm Siebern from the California Angels and Billy Sorrell, drafted from San Diego.

Despite the absence of Marichal, who posted a 25-6 record last season and held out for $110,000, the Giants have set a hot pace in the Cactus League exhibition race.

Gaylord Perry, 21-8 in 1966, bids to become the opening day pitcher with a skein of scoreless frames in the desert. Bob Bolin won his right to the No. 3 rotation spot early and a fight continues for the fourth position amid hopes Sadecki or McCormick will win it.

The bullpen has both Lindy McDaniel and Frank Linzy on the right-handed side plus Ron Herbel, who prefers starting.

Switch Hitting

Hal Lanier holds down second base and this season promises more double plays as he takes a stance nearer the bag. At the plate, he's making an attempt at switch hitting to boost an average which sagged to .231.

Injury-prone Tito Fuentes started the spring at shortstop and promptly hurt an ankle. Cesar Gutierrez, up from the California League, took over and hit three triples in as many games. The Venezuelan infielder could be on the opening day roster or even win the position.

Mays hit 37 homers last year, became the leading right-handed home run hitter in baseball history and slipped to .288 in the average department. He's been hitting the ball sharply in the spring and appears set for another big season at 36.

Jesus Alou, youngest of the baseball playing brothers from the Dominican Republic proved a disappointment last year. He's hit at a .400 clip in the spring. Alou moved to left field with Ollie Brown of the rifle-arm in right.

Willie McCovey and Tom Haller provide left-handed power to go with the right-handed slugging of Mays and third baseman Jim Hart. McCovey belted 36 homers last season, Hart 33 and Haller 27.

Detroit at Chicago

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bobby Hull, a non-combatant in the National Hockey League's runner-up brawl, has opened a second front — by declaring war on his shadow.

While Montreal and New York closed ground on Toronto Sunday in the three-cornered battle for second place, Chicago's regular-season champions bowed to Detroit 4-2 in a game marred by the resumption of hostilities between superstar Hull and superpest Bryan Watson.

Hull and Watson, who tangled several times last season when Watson was assigned to hound the Black Hawks' ace, traded punches in the second period and spent the rest of the night shoving and elbowing each other.

Ninth Shutout

Montreal, meanwhile, struck for six goals in the third period and whipped the Boston Bruins 6-3 for a share of second place with Toronto, which fell to New York 4-0 as Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin registered his ninth shutout — tops in the league.

The Rangers' victory lifted them within one point of the Leafs and Canadiens going into the final week of the campaign

Hull, sidetracked from his assault on the goal-scoring record he set last season, failed to get a shot off against the Red Wings and drew 14 minutes in penalties — including a pair of five-minute majors after the second-period melee.

Watson, a brash, 24-year-old checking specialist, gained prominence by stymying Hull as the Red Wings ousted Chicago in a semifinal playoff series last April. He'll probably be shadowing Hull, who needs three more goals to break his 1965-66 record of 54, when the teams meet for the last time Tuesday night.

Prentice Scores

Dean Prentice scored twice for the Red Wings, who pulled away on goals by Floyd Smith and Bruce MacGregor in the last two minutes of the second period.

The Canadiens, unbeaten in their last eight games, wiped out a 2-0 Boston lead with their third-period scoring spree. Gilles Tremblay triggered the rally and John Ferguson, Leon Rochefort, Bobby Rousseau, Ralph Backstrom and Jean Beliveau kept it rolling. The first five Montreal goals were scored in less than six minutes.

Giacomin stopped 31 Toronto shots in becoming the first New York goaltender since 1932 to record nine shutouts in a season. The second-year netminder has blanked the Leafs three times.

Orland Kurtenbach and Vic Hadfield scored first-period power-play goals. Earl Ingarfield connected with the Rangers short-handed in the middle session and Ken Schinkel's unassisted third-period tally completed the rout.

Bill White May be Used as Pinch Hitter Soon, Says Mauch

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Bill White, the Philadelphia Phillies' injured first baseman, may be used as a pinch hitter before long, even though doctors say he will not be able to play regularly before June.

"He could pinch hit on opening day (April 11)," Manager Gene Mauch said Sunday.

3-Time World Champion Cyclist Killed

MALLORY PARK, England (AP) — Fritz Scheidegger, 35, a three-time world champion motorcyclist who retired after the death of another Swiss rider a year ago and then came back, was killed instantly in a race crash Sunday.

The Swiss driver's three-wheeler slid off the Leicestershire track at a bend and hit a barrier. John Robinson, his British passenger in the sidecar, was seriously injured

They were competing in the Daily Mail's Sidecar Race of the Year.

Scheidegger announced his retirement last year after Florian Camathias, a former world champion from Switzerland, was killed in a race in England

But Scheidegger returned to racing — "it's my life," he said — and won the famed Isle of Man's Tourist Trophy race. Later, the victory was taken from him on a technicality over the use of a certain brand of petrol.

Stottlemeyer Cuts Eye in Practice

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — New York Yankee Mel Stottlemeyer suffered a cut over his right eye in batting practice Saturday and missed his turn to pitch against the Detroit Tigers.

Largest Crowd In History of PBA Watches Finals

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Carmen Salvino of Chicago won his ninth Professional Bowlers Association championship Saturday before the largest crowd ever to see a PBA finals in the history of the tournament.

The Mobile Municipal Auditorium was the scene as 4,250 persons turned out to see Salvino overwhelm Wayne Zahn of Atlanta, Ga., 232-169, in the nationally televised finals of the $70,000 Mobile Sertoma Club's open.

The issue was never in doubt as the 33-year-old Chicagoan threw five straight strikes to knock out Zahn's bid for his first title this year. Zahn was a three-time champion and the leading money winner last year with earnings of over $54,000.

Les Schissler of Denver, Colo., met Butch Gearhart of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in the opener of the four-game finals and Schissler emerged the winner 216-199. Schissler then disposed of Skee Forensky of El Paso, Texas., 216-170. Zahn strolled into the title match with a 226-163 victory over Schissler.

$5,000 to Winner

The $5,000 first place check raised Salvino's earnings for the year to $18,715. Zahn made $2,500 finishing second, Schissler collected $1,500 for third, Forensky, $1,400 for fourth and Gearhart got $1,300 for his fifth place finish.

The PBA winter tournament tour winds up next week in Akron, Ohio, where 48 champions will battle for the $25,000 first place money in the $100,000 Firestone Tournament of Champions.

Casper Classifies Award as 'Among Most Cherished'

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Golfer Billy Casper has another trophy to add to his collection, but this one he says "will be among the most cherished of my life."

The 1966 PGA Player of the Year and top money winner in professional golf was honored by the Associated Men Students at Brigham Young University Friday night. They gave him BYU's "1967 Exemplary Manhood Award."

"I hope and pray that I live up to this award," Casper told the students. "I hope you will help me with your love."

Casper and his wife were guests of honor at a banquet. He was a recent convert to the Mormon Church in 1966, and BYU is owned and operated by that faith.

Who's Top 'Swinger' in Atlanta? Braves' Jones

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mack Jones is what's happening in Atlanta.

The 28-year-old Atlanta native has a 15-minute sports show each evening on a station (WAOK) which he describes as "strictly for teen-agers, the happening crowd."

Jones does the show throughout the year, phoning his comments during spring training and when the Braves are on the road. He is so popular that the program is the No. 1 sports show in Atlanta.

"When the Braves first moved to Atlanta," Jones said, explaining his big break in radio, "I was talking to a fellow who has a television show, Hank Morgan. He has this early morning show for women, and I used to tease him about it. I told him I'd like to do it

"Shortly afterward this guy at the radio station was looking for someone to do sports and mentioned it to Hank. Hank called me and asked me if I would do it. It was a challenge, and I wanted to try it.

"At first it was enjoyable, but now it's beginning to be more of a task. I have to get some kind of material and call in every day. It's really demanding. Twice a week would be nice, but every day's a task."

Still, Jones added to his duties during the winter by becoming a part-time disc jockey.

"The girl who was doing an afternoon disc jockey show got sick one day, and I happened to be at the station," he said. "I didn't have anything to do so I did it. From then on Ernie Wheelwright, the fullback of the Falcons, and I split the work. We filled in whenever the station wanted us to.

"I think I was more popular as a sports announcer than a disc jockey, but I wouldn't mind being a deejay. It seems to be a nice easy job."

Most of Jones' sports reports during the season deal with the game the Braves played that day or the day before. Asked if he's ever had to explain a bad game he played, the outfielder replied:

"I try not to."

WSU-O Tennis Team Captures Tour Opener

EGLIN, Fla. — Oshkosh State University's tennis team got off on the right foot in a spring southern tour by routing the Eglin Air Force Base netters, 8-1, Saturday.

The Titans lost only one doubles match, when the combination of Brown - Sawatsky defeated WSU-O's Ralph Kjornes and Bob Kraus in straight sets.

WSU-O moves on to Pensacola to take on the Pensacola Air Force Base in its next match Tuesday.

Toros Win First Pro Soccer Tilt In U. S. History

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Los Angeles Toros kicked their way to a 2-0 victory over the Philadelphia Spartans Saturday before 1,510 fans in the debut of the National Professional Soccer League on the American sports scene.

After a scoreless tie until the 80th minute, Novak Tomic, formerly of Yugoslavia, kicked the first goal from 12 yards on a penalty ruling.

One-School Supremacy Wouldn't Hurt College Basketball: Wooden

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — John Wooden, coach of UCLA's NCAA national basketball champions, isn't sure what the word dynasty means but he may have one on his hands.

Led by giant Lew Alcindor and tiny Mike Warren, the Bruins wrapped up their third national title in four years Saturday night to cap a perfect 30-0 season.

And with all five starters returning, Wooden won't deny that UCLA may be back to claim the title next year.

"I've never been quite sure what the word dynasty means. I've never looked it up," Wooden said after the Uclans had squashed Dayton's game Flyers 79-64 in the championship game.

"But I do hope we can stay up there and be a power," he said. "We're certainly going to continue trying and I hope we'll be back next year, and the year following, and the year following and the year following.

Perfectionist

"I never want us to do less than we did this year in order to get here," Wooden said.

Wooden denied that a basketball dynasty, at UCLA, if there is to be one, would be harmful to college basketball.

"I'd say the New York Yankee regime wasn't bad for baseball," Wooden said. "I think a winning team should give others incentive to build to the level of the best."

Don Donoher, the Dayton coach, agrees.

"When you see a team like this it makes you want to build toward it," he said.

The Flyers fell behind 20-4 as the game started and never really knew what hit them.

Dayton's biggest scoring threat, Don May hit only three of 12 baskets in the first half and the team hit only 23.8 per cent from the field. May wound up with 21 points but the Flyers team shooting only warmed up to 34 per cent.

Presence Intimidates

Alcindor's mere presence was enough to intimidate Dayton, but he scored 20 points and nabbed 18 rebounds for good measure. Lucius Allen had 19 points and Warren 17.

It was the third straight year in the playoffs for Dayton and the third time it had been eliminated by the No. 1 ranked team. The Flyers finished 25-6 this season.

Guy Lewis, whose Houston Cougars did only what was necessary to defeat North Carolina, 84-62 in the consolation game, also is optimistic about next season.

"We lose two starters, but I think that we can have a team just as good or better next season," Lewis said. "When you wind up you season with a win over the number three ranked team in the country, it's a pretty good indication."

Russia, Canada Clash in Meet's Showdown Game

The Americans, laboring under a lengthy toll of injuries, clinched a berth in the 1968 Olympic Games with a 2-0 victory over Finland Sunday.

It was the second straight shutout for goalie Carl Wetzel of Detroit and assured the Americans of no worse than a tie for fifth place in this tourney. The top five teams here qualify for the Olympics.

Wetzel, who played a 0-0 tie against East Germany Saturday, kicked out 27 shots, despite a second period tumble that aggravated an old back injury.

Gerry Melnychuk of Minneapolis and Craig Falkman of St Paul, Minn., scored the American goals.

Russia, with five straight victories, held a one-point edge over Canada, which had four victories and a tie before today's game.

Control of Platting Lands Near Public Use Property Is Endorsed

3 Lettermen Lead Kimberly Tennis Team

Letter winners include Dave Hofkens, Bruce Weiland and Jim Vanden Heuvel. Sophomores showing promise include Bill Lamers, Mark Kneepkens, Mike Maier and Dave Van Hammond. Dave DeValk, another returnee, could also crack the line-up.

Play will open at Rhinelander April 8. The first home meet is April 20 against Clintonville. Lourdes will play at Kimberly April 26 and the day after, the Papermakers will be at Kaukauna. The team will travel to Lourdes for a May 2 match and on May 4 be at Shawano.

Kimberly will play at Menasha May 11 and entertain Kaukauna May 13. Shawano will be at Kimberly May 15 and a day later, Neenah will be at Kimberly to close out conference play. The conference meet will be at Neenah May 23, and the sectional meet is scheduled May 27.

Kimberly will entertain Fond du Lac in a non-conference test May 23. A tentative match at Clintonville is set for May 8.

Lack of Hitting Still Chisox' Big Woe

By JACK HAND

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox got off fast this spring, just like they did last season when they won the Grapefruit League title in the American League. But the same old problems still plague Manager Eddie Stanky.

The hitless wonders of the league who were last in club batting at .231 and last in homers with only 87, still have a power shortage.

Pitching has carried the White Sox for years and it figures to do the same this time. The staff had the best earned run average in the league last season and should be as good as ever. Subtract Juan Pizarro, an 8-6 disappointment who was traded to Pittsburgh, and add Jim O'Toole, a 5-7 flop with Cincinnati, and things remain unchanged.

Williams Untested

A deal with the St. Louis Cardinals to get more batting sting from the bat of Walt (No Neck) Williams still can not be evaluated because Williams suffered a hairline fracture of the right wrist in Puerto Rico during the winter.

Williams reported to camp with the arm still in a cast although he has been able to swing the bat in practice games.

"We figure to have good pitching and base running and will play heads up baseball," said Stanky. "That just about sums up our attack.

"Williams always has got a lot of hits. He doesn't strike out often. His size (5-6) is no problem if he can hit that ball. Les Moss (coach) says he reminds him of a miniature Minnie Minoso."

Host of Injuries

The Sox, who finished fourth, 15 games back, last season, were hit by a series of damaging injuries. Hoyt Wilhelm, the veteran knuckler in the bullpen, missed the first months of the season due to a broken finger.

Ron Hansen, the regular shortstop, underwent a disc operation in June and did not come back. Pete Ward, one of the club's few long-ball men, was out with a hernia.

"We were last in batting last year," said Stanky. "But we do not anticipate the same results this year. We have a young catcher in Duane Josephson, who hit .324 in Indianapolis, and have added Williams and Ed Stround (.309 at Indianapolis) to the outfield candidates.

"Ken Berry (.271) has found himself and Tommie Agee (.273) should be even better with his rookie year under his belt. A healthy Pete Ward has to help and Don Buford (.244) gets on base a lot."

Bad Year

Ward, a young man who hit over 20 homers and knocked in 84 and 97 runs in his first two years with the Sox, 1963 and 1964, has disappointed for two seasons. Of course, his injury cut into his production last season when he hit only three homers and batted .219.

Stanky played him in left field part of the time although he was a third baseman in his first years. He also is getting a look at first base.

Bill Skowron (.249) still is available at first base but he has opposition from fleet Tommy McCraw (.229) and possibly Ward. Jerry Adair (.249) moves back to second with Hansen (.176) returning to short. Ward or Buford (.244) probably will play third. Stanky also took a look at rookie Dick Kenworthy (.290 at Indianpolis) at third.

Unsettled Outfield

Agee will be in center and Berry in right or left with the third up for grabs among Williams (.330 at Tulsa), Stroud, Bill Voss (.252 at Indianapolis) and Charles Bradford (.299 at and Evansville).

Rookie Josephson who hit .324 at Indianapolis, is the only catcher with a solid batting average. J.C. Martin (.255) and Gerry McNertney (.220) are the holdovers. Smoky Burgess has reconsidered his retirement and is back at 40 to do the pinch hitting.

Pitching is the strong point of this White Sox club, just as it has been for several years under other managers.

Tommy John (14-11), Gary Peters (12-10) and possibly O'Toole (5-7 at Cincinnati) can be the lefty starters. The right-handers are Joe Horlen (10-13), Bruce Howard (9-5), John Buzhardt (6-11) and Jack Lamabe (7-9).

Wilhelm (5-2) still is the king of the bullpen with help from Bob Locker (9-8), Dennis Higgins (1-0) and Wilbur Wood (14-8 as a starter with the Pirates' Columbus farm).

The Sox have one more plus—stolen bases. They led the league and the majors with 153 including 51 by Buford and 44 by Agee. Stanky's problem is age old. You still can't steal first base.

Stanford Cops Swim Crown

Greg Buckingham Leads Indians With Three Gold Medals

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Big Greg Buckingham, 6-foot 4 and built like a football end, was the giant killer who led Stanford to its first NCAA Swimming Championship Saturday night and dethroned defending titlist and four-time winner Southern California.

Buckingham was the meet star with his three gold medals for the Indians. He won the 500-yard freestyle Thursday night, the 200-yard freestyle Friday night and topped his impressive performance by anchoring the Stanford team that won the finals event Saturday—the 800-yard freestyle relay.

The 21-year-old, 190-pound junior from Atherton, Calif., had been almost unheralded coming into the meet. Most of the attention focused on Don Schollander, Yale's winner of four medals in the 1964 Olympics. Schollander didn't win an event.

Southern California still was clinging to hopes for a fifth straight title when it beat Indiana in the preliminary of the 800-yard freestyle relay.

But the Indians reversed the results in the final, ending out the second-place Trojans. Stanford's victory was well deserved on six firsts in 18 events. Southern California didn't win a single first place.

Stanford won wth 275 points, Southern California had 260, Indiana 249, Michigan 184, UCLA 148 and Yale 135.

State Economy Continues Level Trend Last Month

MADISON (AP)— Wisconsin's economy continued to level off in February with small losses in some areas offset by small gains in others, the Industrial Commission reported today.

Unemployment and jobless benefits rose significantly during February, primarily because of a second major layoff at American Motors' plants.

New car sales continued to follow the national trend and ran well below previous levels. Sales dipped 2.4 per cent from January and 9 per cent from one year ago.

Consumer prices in Milwaukee dropped last month for the first time since October 1965. Food prices were 111.4 points in February, or .2 lower than November, 1966. Transportation and cosmetics also showed marked declines.

Interior Department Official Set for Post At Consolidated Edison

NEW YORK (AP)— Charles F. Luce, undersecretary of the Interior Department, has been chosen for the $152,000 a year position as chairman and chief executive officer of the Consolidated Edison Co., New York, the New York Times said Sunday.

Luce, 49, is a 1941 honor graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

The giant utility did not confirm the report but said discussions have been taking place with Luce.

Home Has All the Comforts of the Road

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — Police in this suburban San Diego County community investigated an anonymous tip that two young men were seen pushing a compact car into the living room of a house, after removing sliding glass doors.

The two young men, officers said Sunday, pleaded inability to afford a radio, and said they chose this method of bringing music — from the auto radio — into the home.

Women Hurt In Crash On U. S. 10

Mishap Injures Two From Stevens Point; One From Kimberly

WAUPACA — Two women from Stevens Point, and one from Kimberly, suffered injuries about 11:20 a.m. Sunday in a three-car crash at Sunset Curve on U.S. 10, three miles west of Fremont.

Mrs. Harry H. Groshek, Stevens point, suffered severe face and head cuts and her daughter, Mary, 20, received minor head cuts. Both were taken to an Appleton Hospital by Holly Ambulance.

Mrs. Maureanus VandenWyngaard, 341 S. Railroad St., Kimberly received a cut on her forehead and was advised to see a doctor.

The car in which the two Groshek women were riding, was driven by Harry H. Groshek, 24, Stevens Point and Mrs. VandenWyngaard was a passenger in a station wagon driven by her husband.

According to county police, Vanden Wyngaard was traveling west and making a left turn into a restaurant driveway when the cars collided. Groshek was driving east. A third car, driven by George C. Capen, 56, 213 Baldwin Ave., Oshkosh, which was also west-bound struck the rear of the VandenWyngaard car.

The car driven by VandenWyngaard was listed as demolished. An estimated $1,000 damage was caused to the Groshek car and an estimated $500 to the Capen car.

Five children riding in the VandenWyngaard station wagon escaped injury, as did Mr. and Mrs. Capen.

CAPTIVATING COLONIAL

From the minute you walk in you feel the charm that has been built into this elegant colonial. The lovely wallpaper, the harmonious color scheme, and the cloud like carpeting are enough in itself to sell you this house . . . Then there is the intercom throughout, the gracious family room with its cozy fireplace, the four good sized carpeted bedrooms, the loads of closet and storage space, the large airing porch . . . Just to mention a few of the many features that make this truly a home for you. MLS 287E

Mao, Chou En-Lai, Lin Piao

Three Chinese Leaders Reported Involved in Struggle for Power

TOKYO (AP)—Two developments suggest that Red China's Mao Tse-tung has decided that his heir apparent, Lin Piao, has grown too big for his britches. He may be playing off Premier Chou En-lai against Lin.

The more important of the two events is the rapid—and unexpected — emergence of the army of 2.5 million into virtual control of Mao's campaign to overthrow the "authority faction" headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

By all indications, Mao did not originally want it this way.

Six months ago, when he began his climb back to power he deliberately kept the army aloof from his struggle. He entrusted it to the young Red Guards and the Cultural Revolution purge group led by old crony Chen Po-ta and his own wife, Chiang Ching.

Army Called

Eventually the army had to be called in to put down violence and resistance the other forces had stirred up.

Mao's idea seemed to be that the army should act as an example, occasionally move in with its guns to put down the opposition, and in general lend a helping hand. He assigned it only one of three places in his "rebel" struggle committees.

But in the past few weeks, the army has not only contributed a hand but put body and soul into the purge movement, taking over leadership of the committees, giving orders to politicians, eating and living with factory workers, standing over the peasants in the countryside during the critical period of spring planting.

The object of Mao's campaign to wrest power from Liu Shao-chi is to put the Communist party—not the army—in command. He faces the prospect of seeing military men entrenched in every position of authority before his campaign is over. When that time comes, the man who leads them—Defense Minister Lin Piao—will be in a position to challenge Mao himself.

That Mao does not relish this outlook appeared borne out by the second development—the appearance in Peking of a rash of posters praising Chou En-lai and describing him as Mao's "close comrade-in-arms."

Chou Versus Lin

If the posters were inspired by Mao, it means that the 68-year-old Chou now is elbowing Lin for the place at the chief's right hand.

If Mao indeed has raised Chou to the same eminence as Lin Piao, it would be belated recognition that there are not two but three power blocs involved in the mainland tug-of-war.

The first is the Lin Piao faction whose key figures are Chen Po-ta, Mrs. Mao and party leader Kang Sheng. Until now, Mao has lent his great prestige to this group.

At the other extreme is the authority faction headed by President Liu, who has counted party general secretary Teng Hsiao-ping and many other top administrators among his followers.

In between is Chou's group, the government apparatus which includes some powerful vice premiers Chou has asked be spared from purge critics. Renewed attacks on these vice premiers partly prompted the poster counteroffensive in Peking.

So far, Chou has thrown his weight behind Mao while openly criticizing the Lin Piao faction, wildcat tactics. Because of this, he has won a reputation as a moderate, though the word "opportunist" might better describe him.

What Chou seeks is self-survival.

Chou Goes Along

A man eminently qualified to judge—Mao's predecessor as leader of the Chinese party in the 1930s, the aging Chang Kuo-tao—gave this evaluation of Chou to a Japanese correspondent in Hong Kong:

"Chou En-lai's golden rule is 'not to quarrel.' It is in his nature. If the vogue of the day is Maoism, he will go along with it. If it is Cultural Revolution, he says 'All right, I will go along with that also.' Chou goes along with the trend. And when the time comes for revising it, he will come out and do it."

Chou has an advantage in any fight for pre-eminence between Chou and Lin. He is in the thick of the fray, ordering, counseling, exhorting the Maoists and running the government at the same time.

Lin Piao continues mysteriously absent. He may be exercising his power from a sick bed, a fact which could have prompted Mao—a stubborn realist—to lean more heavily on his 68-year-old premier.

Chou seems to be situated to leap wherever the grass seems greener. Newly raised to the nation's top military body—the party Central Committee's Military Affairs Commission—he now has a louder say in what the army should do.

The Liu Shao-chi machine, propped up by anti-Maoist provincial and regional party bureaus, stands in his way. But Chou has been careful not to slam the door in Liu's face; he has repeatedly called for the use of kid gloves in handling the president and his fellow dissenters—many of them veterans with brilliant party histories.

The pendulum, which in recent years has swung wildly from extremes of the left to those of the right, may finally come to rest in the middle and point at Chou En-lai.

Earthworms Learn Best In Pre-Midnight Hours

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Every American yearns to own "a place in the country," but most have decided the best place to make hay is in the city. Only 6 per cent of the U.S. population now dwells on the farm.

It has been found that earthworms are more susceptible to learning before midnight than after. The same thing is true of college students, but you can't make some of them believe it.

Shoplifters are most active between Thanksgiving and Christmas. During that period they steal an estimated $26 million worth of merchandise from retail stores.

Marriage Value

Marriage is the best masculine protection against self-murder. Statistics show that married men are only about half as likely as single men to commit suicide and only one-sixth as suicidal as divorced men.

In some Caribbean islands natives wash the floors with oranges but if I ever catch my wife doing that I'll certainly hit the ceiling.

Quotable notables: "The world is only beginning to see that the wealth of a nation consists more than in anything else in the number of superior men that it harbors."—William James.

Ever wonder how much that skin you love to touch weighs? Well, if you are of average size, your skin weighs six pounds and covers about 3,000 square inches. It varies in thickness from 1-50th of an inch over your eyelids to 1-3 of an inch on the soles of your feet.

Working Women

In America, woman's place is on the job. The U.S. work force now includes nearly 29 million women, up 1½ million from a year ago. A girl born today can look forward to spending one-third of her life working outside the home.

We are a traveling people. Americans now take more than 257 million trips a year and spend two billion nights away from home. One billion of those nights the travelers spend as guests in the homes of friends or relatives.

Touch football now causes more injuries per player among college students than varsity football.

He Who Talks

Worth remembering: "He who talks without thinking runs more risks than he who thinks without talking."

Folklore: Eating hazel nuts will help cure mouth sores. To heal a sore throat, tie a piece of salt pork around your neck. Your rheumatism won't ache you as much if you peel a potato and carry it in your pocket. Wildcat grease is a good remedy for lameness—but first you have to catch the wildcat.

It was Francois de la Rochefoucauld who observed, "You are never so easily fooled as when you are trying to fool someone else."

Production Of Milk Up 8 Per Cent

MADISON (AP)— Wisconsin's dairy herds produced milk at a high rate in February—8 per cent more than in the same month in 1966 and 1 per cent more than the national average, the State Department of Agriculture noted today.

The production boost was due to more output per cow, the agency said. The average was 750 pounds, or 10 per cent more than during February last year.

The increase more than offset the 2 per cent reduction in milk cow numbers and boosted total production to 1.5 billion pounds for February, or 8 per cent more than a year ago.

Planners to Report At Brillion Session

Madison Firm to Present Council With Up to Date Progress Report

BRILLION — At a special city council session at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, representatives of Candeub, Flessig and Associates will report on the city's comprehensive plan. The council also will meet in regular session tonight.

The Madison firm was hired in January to update all phases of the plan, with emphasis on capital improvement, annexation, zoning ordinances and areas that now hinder modernization or growth.

The firm said at that time that the scope of Brillion's general planning is designed to give a logical sequence of studies including inventories, analyses, concept planning, a revised general plan and an "action program."

According to the $9,200 four-month contract, representatives of the firm are to meet periodically wtih the city council and planning commission to assist in local decision-making.

Recertification of the city's plan for community improvement by July 1, necessitates the updating.

Original certification of the comprehensive plan by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) came from Secretary Robert E. Weaver last June.

Must Renew

Continued certification makes the city eligible to apply for federal loans or grants for new projects.

Brillion recently received approval from HUD for a loan of $484,672 to finance the construction of 32 low-rent apartments for the elderly.

Other loans or grants are available for slum clearance, recreational facilities, sewer and water extensions, added sewage disposal facilities, mortgage and home improvement loan insurance for properties in urban renewal project areas and housing for low-income families.

Sewage Plans At New London Get Go Ahead

City Will Advertise Bids; Begin Plant Addition in June

NEW LONDON — Work on the $172,000 sewage treatment plant addition should begin in late June, Ray Pelishek, public works director, said.

The city has been notified that its engineering plans for the addition have been approved by the Federal Water Pollution (FWPCA). Pelishek said written notification of the approval was received after Tuesday's council meeting.

"This letter constitutes authorization to advertise for bids," the federal agency said.

Tuesday the city council approved a resolution to allow the board of public works to advertise for bids as sooon as plans were approved by the FWPCA.

Pelishek said plans were to advertise for bids for about five weeks, then take about 30 days to study them before awarding the construction contracts. Bids would be studied by the board of public works and Donohue and Associates, Sheboygan, the city's consulting engineers.

The city has received a $13,950 federal grant for the addition and is seeking additional aid from the State Water Pollution Control Administration.

Students will begin classes Aug. 28 and the first nine weeks period will end Oct. 27.

Thanksgiving vocation will be Nov. 23 and 24. The first day of Christmas vacation will be Dec. 21 and school will resume Jan. 2.

School will dismiss at Noon April 11 for Easter vacation and will resume April 16.

Waupaca TV Service Firm Burglarized

Change Taken From Drawer Sometime During Weekend

WAUPACA — An undetermined amount of change was taken from a cash drawer in a break-in at Ellingsworth Waupaca TV Sales and Service, 111 W. Fulton St., sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The entry was discovered after store owner, William Ellingsworth, received a call from a telephone company workman Sunday evening, telling him that a telephone receiver at the store was off the hook. Upon investigating, Ellingsworth discovered a small window in a side door broken. The door also was open.

YGOP State Conclave To Hear Gov. Knowles

Congressman Steiger Also Will Address Young Republicans in Sheboygan April 29

SHEBOYGAN — The Wisconsin Federation of Young Republicans (YGOP) announced today that Governor Warren P. Knowles and 6th Dist. Congressman William A. Steiger (R-Oshkosh) will be featured speakers at the federation's 1967 state convention here April 28-30.

The chief executive will address delegates at their noon luncheon April 29 at the Executive Inn.

Steiger is scheduled to address the convention banquet April 29. He was elected to Congress in 1966, after serving in the Wisconsin legislature for six years.

A veteran of state YGOP conventions, Steiger served as national college chairman of the Young Republicans from 1959 to 1961. From 1961 to 1963 he was chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Young Republican National Federation. He was assistant chief page at the 1960 Republican national convention in Chicago.

Other speakers at the annual conclave are Congressman Edward Derwinski (R-Illinois); Dr. Robert P Hungate, Dean of the School of Business Administration at Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh, and Wisconsin Lt. Gov. Jack Olson. The three will appear at "Issue Briefing" during the April 29 morning session to discuss U.S. Foreign policy, U.S. economics policy, and state government, respectively.

More than 700 delegates are expected to attend.

Appleton Gets Claim From YMCA

The YMCA has filed a claim against the City of Appleton, stating equipment in its new building was damaged by a break in a city water main in the early morning hours of Feb. 25.

James Warrick, general secretary for the Y, wrote city officials the amount of damage has not been determined. However, he said the figure would be sent the city when it is obtained.

"It is the position of the YMCA that the City of Appleton is negligently liable for the damages sustained as the result of the breakage of the city water main," Warrick said.

It was claimed that damage was caused to the Y premises at 218 E. Lawrence St., affecting fixtures and installations in the interior of the new building.

Warrick's letter will be officially received by the city council Wednesday night.

Normal practice is to refer all claims to the board of public works and city attorney.

$500 Damage Set in 2-Car Accident

KAUKAUNA — Damage was estimated at more than $500, but no one was injured in a 2-car accident at Main Avenue and Fourth Street about 5:45 p.m. Friday.

According to police, a car driven by Mrs. Marie Taylor, 421 Dixon St., was traveling south on Main Avenue about to turn left onto Fourth where her car was struck from behind by a car driven by Paul Rabideau, 25, 122 W. Sixth St.

Police Investigate Village Car Theft

Marciniak noted his 1957-model car missing from in front of the Kozy Korner Tavern, Combined Locks, about 11:55 p.m.

Police Check Fifth Burglary

Rural New London Home Broken Into; Nothing Missing

NEW LONDON — The fifth break-in reported here in two weeks occurred Friday night or early Saturday morning.

Gary Ingersoll, route 1, reported to city police about 6:50 a.m. Saturday that his home was entered during the night. Ingersoll lives on the Art Winkler farm on County Trunk S.

Ingersoll said he couldn't find anything missing although he had a motor bike, guns, binoculars and other items stored in the house. He told police that his wife heard a noise about 2 a.m. Saturday.

Police said a door frame was broken to allow entry.

During the recent series of burglaries reported to city police, only once has anything been taken. Mullarkey's Auto Service was entered and $50 taken from a safe.

FBI Arrests Polar Man For Transporting Stolen Pelts to Minnesota

GREEN BAY (AP)— George Klement, 59, of Polar was arrested at his Langlade County home by FBI agents Friday on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen mink pelts.

Authorities said the pelts, valued at more than $20,000, were taken from a Langlade County mink ranch and transported to Minneapolis.

Women Voters Join Political Parties in Referenda Support

Urge Four-Year Terms; Back Joint Candidacy of State's High Offices

Support of the referenda allowing four-year terms for Wisconsin constitutional state officials and the joint candidacy of the governor and lieutenant governor, which will be submitted to voters at the April 4 election, has been voiced by the League of Women Voters of Appleton as well as leaders of the Democratic and Republican parties.

Mrs. Arch Hoffman, president of the league, and speaking for the league, said, "We urge the voters to vote 'yes' on the first five questions. (On the ballot separate questions are posed on changing the terms of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer and secretary of state.) It is apparent the people most concerned with government agree that what might have been adequate for a frontier state will no longer do for a modern complex state like Wisconsin."

Educator Speaks

Lawrence D. Longley, department of government, Lawrence University, said, "The proposals for four-year terms for governor an lieutenant governor are attempts to grant the governor sufficient power and time as to insure an efficient and responsible administration. Democracy is little served by divided and weakened government; rather democratic control can best be insured by granting a state governor sufficient responsibility so that he might later be held accountable for his actions and those of his administration."

Mrs. Robert Taylor, Outagamie County Democratic chairman, said, "One of the things we must do to make our state government an effective, viable force is to change the length of office of our constitutional officers from two to four years. Two years is just a beginning, a training period.

"Campaigns have become so time consuming and expensive that the officials are forced to spend a great deal of their time on the campaign trail. A four-year term would considerably reduce this campaigning, thereby allowing our elected officials more time to govern.

"Wisconsin is one of the few remaining states which has the two-year term. Let us make the change now so that we are not the only remaining one.—"

Pass Resolutions

Resolutions passed unanimously at the annual Outagamie County Republican caucus, this month stated:

"Whereas the management and problems of the great State of Wisconsin become more complex each year;

And whereas time-consuming campaigning every two years takes the governor and other state officers from the desks and important duties.

And whereas less frequent state-wide elections would be less expensive to taxpayers, candidates and poltiical parties;

And whereas public judgement at election time might well be more reasonably given on the basis of a four-year term;

Now therefore be it resolved that the Republican Party . . . support the proposed referenda recommending four-year terms for state constitutional officers."

The Republicans also adopted a resolution recommending the governor and lieutenant governor run on one ticket, pointing out that having a governor and lieutenant governor of opposing political parties "has proven cumbersome and inefficient in the past."

New London Dilemma

Mixed Emotions Greet Spring Thaw, Water

NEW LONDON — Spring's high water and thaw is greeted with mixed emotions.

Fishermen can't wait for the ice covering to leave the Wolf River so they can get at the vaunted walleye. On the other side of the ledger is the skier who hopes for winter to linger on a bit longer so he can enjoy his favorite sport.

Saturday was one of the days where the skier could enjoy himself, while a few fishermen took to the Wolf River — the little of it is that's open. Two boats were launched at Riverside Park Saturday.

Although meeting with little success, the fishermen were able to enjoy themselves in the mild spring weather. The only opening in the river is about 15-20 feet wide and stretches along the southern shoreline. The remaining ice cover was used for anchoring the boat as the anglers tossed the lead weight onto the ice.

River Rises

The river continued to raise slowly as the level reached 3.6 feet, about six-tenths of a foot over the winter level.

However, a good rain Saturday and sky-rocketing temperatures began to swell surface waters. More rain Sunday pushed river levels even higher.

A basement wall was caved-in by the force of the fresh water. Roads became channels for little riverlets and unpaved streets became almost impassable.

A stream of water and mud poured into the basement of Mrs. J. Willis Eldridge about 12:30 p.m. Saturday turning the one-year-old home into a muddy mess. The water and mud pushed the east wall inward as the pressure built up to find a place to flow. Adjoining Werner-Allen Road was a sea of mud and vehicles driving over it acted as giant mixers.

Trenches Past Home

Along Oshkosh Street, south of Jennings Road, a lake was being formed, prompting one man to clear a trench past his home so the water wouldn't pour in. The area is probably seeing its last battle against the spring run off as work has begun on installing storm sewers along Jennings Street.

A torrent of water was running along Wyman Street, Waupaca County Trunk W. The water worked its way along the road and then passed under it through a culvert.

A recently-dug basement in the new Jennings Heights subdivision was threatened with water as the result of the running water from the Wyman Street area.

Actually, things were normal for the time of the season in the New London area and considerably less threatening than they have been on several occasions when the Wolf River level raised to more than nine feet and flooded the downtown area.

Village Youths Are Apprehended In Stolen Car

KIMBERLY — Two youths, one 16-year-old from Kimberly and one 15-year-old from Combined Locks, have been turned over to village police for disciplinary action after being apprehended in a stolen car Friday night by Ernest Danielson, Combined Locks chief of police.

Walter Wildenberg, 109 Edward St., Kimberly, reported his car missing from a parking lot at Holy Name of Jesus Church following services Friday night. About an hour later, Danielson spotted the stolen car and stopped the two youths. He turned them over to Sgt. Donald Schmeck, Kimberly juvenile officer.

Rosalie Gebhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Gebhart, route 2, Hilbert, has been named valedictorian of Stockbridge High School. Sandra Hemauer, Stockbridge is salutatorian. She is the daughter of Mrs. Leo Hemauer, Stockbridge.

Students to Play In Pops Concert At Hilbert Gym

HILBERT — A variety of musical groups will perform at 8 p.m. Friday in the pops concert presented in the school gym by the music department of the high school under the direction of William Huebner.

The concert band, girls chorus, 17-piece dance band and Tijuana brass band will participate. An added attraction will be dancing after the program with music furnished by the dance band, Tijuana brass and Kuszen's Polka Band.

Tickets may be purchased from band and chorus members, or at the door. Children under six will be admitted free.

Elderly Appleton Woman Dies After Fall Down Basement Steps

A 73-year-old Appleton woman died about 11 p.m. Sunday in St. Elizabeth Hospital after she suffered an apparent stroke and fell down a flight of basement steps at her home earlier in the day.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Mrs. Peter Paters, 323 E. Washington St., suffered a skull fracture in the fall. Doctors said she had a stroke before the fall.

Paters told authorities he and his wife were preparing to drive to Green Bay to visit a daughter. He said he was in the car waiting for his wife.

When she did not come out, he went inside and found her lying at the bottom of eight basement steps. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance about 10 p.m. Sunday.

The body was released to the Brettschneider-Trettin Funeral Home.

Great Decisions Luncheons

Speaker Says U.S. Must Change View on NATO

Any United States policy toward the NATO alliance which fails to take into account the desire of European nations for "a degree of national sovereignty" is apt to fail, in the opinion of Charles Breunig, professor and chairman of the Lawrence University history department.

Breunig told an audience of 35 at the recent Great Decisions luncheon at the Appleton YMCA that there is "no simple solution" to the problems of the alliance, but because a Soviet threat to Western Europe's security still exists, a policy of "collective security" remains essential.

Revise Concepts

"The U.S. will have to revise its conception of its position within the alliance," as a result, Breunig said.

The Lawrence professor spoke on the theme "NATO in Crisis: Will the Atlantic Alliance Survive?" The topic was second to last in an eight-week series of foreign policy programs sponsored by the Lawrence Alumni association in cooperation with the Foreign Policy association.

Breunig said that there is a legitimate question over the usefulness of the NATO alliance, particularly in view of a declining threat — in the opinion of some — of attack from the Soviet Union. Many Europeans and even some Americans are asking "whether the raison d'etre of the alliance is gone," he said.

On the other hand, some argue strongly that a Soviet threat still exists, and that there must be an alternative effort made to reform and strengthen NATO, perhaps using it as a means of relaxing tensions with the communists, he said.

See Changes

Whatever the case, Breunig said, there is no doubt that the alliance sees itself differently from what it was in 1949, largely because of fundamental changes in circumstance and the relationship of powers within itself.

These changes require that the U.S. evaluate carefully its policy of dealing "somewhat paternalistically and sometimes even patronizingly" with other members, and that it approach cautiously any encouragement of "supra-national political union" among NATO states.

"There is no question that exclusive U.S. control over the use of nuclear weapons denies other NATO members their sovereignty," and that this denial causes some members' unwillingness to go along with the U.S. proposal for a multilateral nuclear force, Breunig said.

Participants in the discussion following his talk spoke of traditional fears within the alliance, particularly between the French and Germans, and expressed reservations over U.S. willingness to respond with nuclear weapons to an attack on Western Europe.

$7.20 Per Foot Assessment Set by Water Department

Inflation hasn't affected Water Department assessments.

They will be the same for the 1967 construction season as last year, it was announced Wednesday.

The assessment cost of water mains will be $7.20 per foot — $3.60 per each side of the street.

The Water Commission recommended the assessment schedule earlier in the week after opening bids and awarding contracts for pipe and trenching.

Low bidders included:

—U.S. Pipe and Foundry, Chicago, 22,000 feet of six, eight and twelve inch pipe, $68,627.

Stockbridge Man Receives Sturgeon's Growth Report

STOCKBRIDGE — A sturgeon grows one inch in a year, according to a report received by Lloyd Karls, who speared a fish here during the recent season, which had been tagged by the conservation department.

Although compensation for tagged fish is no longer given, Karls returned the tag and received information from fish biologist Gordon Priegel, Oshkosh.

The sturgeon measured 46 inches when it was tagged off Calumet County Park in October 1955. In June, 1958 the same fish was netted by commercial fishermen off Blackbird Island and was 48 inches long. In May and August of 1964 it was again netted by commercial fishermen off Calumet Harbor and measured 53 inches.

When it was finally legally taken, 11 years after tagging, it measured 57 inches, weighing 55 pounds.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF JUDICIAL AND REFERENDA ELECTIONS

APRIL 4, 1967

STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss.

Office of County Clerk

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election is to be held in the several towns, wards, villages and election precincts in the County of Outagamie on the 4th day of April, 1967, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, together with the questions submitted to a vote, in the sample ballot below.

Information to Voters

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other can be used. Upon receiving his ballot the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

At a nonpartisan election, the voter shall place a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote, or by inserting or writing in the name of any other candidate.

If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and the signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is visually handicapped, he may have anyone assist him in marking his ballot or operating a voting machine. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

Unrest Flourishes As British Prepare To Quit South Arabia

Consider Asking United Nations Take Over Control as Arabian Factions War

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—The stealthy arms of terrorism—the knife, the pocketed gun and the bomb—contended for power in the declining days of British rule over South Arabia.

Violence has become a way of life in the Aden complex as the British prepare to extricate themselves, after 129 years of colonial - protectorate - control, without leaving the seeds of war among quarrelling Arab rulers

Statesmen are racing against time to prevent the violence from spreading in the Aden patchwork and through the Middle East. They have a year or so to do the job, for in 1968 the British are bound to leave their old coaling station and latter-day airbase at the junction of the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean.

Hub of Federation

Aden is the hub of the emerging South Arabia federation of 17 semi-feudal sultanates and sheikhdoms which the British hope to weld into a modern independent nation

Behind the pistol politics plunging the land and its people into a cycle of savage, ceaseless slaughter lies a big question: Who is to inherit power after the British go—Arabs loyal to President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic or those who follow King Faisal's Saudi Arabia?

Nasser and Faisal are contesting for mastery not only in South Arabia but in Yemen and in other parts of the Middle East.

For Britain and other Western powers the stakes are high.

—Peaceful withdrawal would presuppose some sort of accommodation between Britain and the UAR and between the UAR and Saudi Arabia.

—But a withdrawal leaving Aden at the center of civil war could inflame the vast Arabian peninsula and to the north the oil lands of the Persian Gulf.

The government of Prime Minister Harold Wilson faces a seemingly impossible task in the time available After months of hesitation, then negotiation, the British called for U.N. help to set the basis for a broad constitutional settlement that would embrace all the contending factions. A three-man U.N. mission is due in Aden this month despite threats by Egyptian-backed resistance men to give it a violent reception.

May Ask U.N. Takeover

Wilson's men are ready to go farther. They contemplate a move to have the United Nations take over entire responsibility for the security of South Arabia after Britain pulls out.

Why, if they are quitting in a year, are the British a chief target for attack in Aden?

The main aim of the nationalist Arabs is to destroy what remains of the authority of the federal setup—so that it does not automatically inherit power when the British go.

Thus the burden falls on federal supporters and their defenders—about 14,000 British soldiers.

The counter violence campaign of the federalists and the security forces has added to the casualties.

The official casualty scorecard for 1966-67 shows: British military and civilian—killed 12, wounded 307; local civilian—killed 49, wounded 380; Arab police and wardens—killed 5, wounded 42.

The nationalist contenders for power are themselves split and often fight each other in claiming to speak for South Arabia.

Strongest is the Front for the Liberation of Occupied South Yemen, or Flosy as it is called. Its leaders are Abdulla Asnag, 33, and Abdul Mackawee, former Aden premier whose three sons were killed by a bomb blast in Aden recently. Flosy is helped by Nasser but does not take his orders.

Hope U.N. Can Succeed

The South Arabia League is made up mainly of Arabs loyal to Faisal and therefore they are Flosy's sworn enemies

Britain's hope is that the U.N. mission will succeed where the British failed by getting all parties around a table where an independence constitution, providing for early elections, can be negotiated.

In this tangled situation it would seem obvious for the British to establish contact with the self-exiled nationalist leaders, and the Wilson government has sought to do just this in clandestine fashion.

But London has to face the fact that the federal government sees any such move as a diminution of its authority, even as a betrayal.

Their letters explored broad differences not only over South Arabia but over the Persian Gulf and the whole Middle East. They got nowhere after swapping three notes each.

A fairly typical black week in Aden recently serves to highlight the dilemma. Ex-Premier Mackawee's three sons were killed in a bomb attack. Crowds lynched two men at the boys' funeral. Two British women were wounded. Security troops accidentally shot a child and a former minister. Troops roamed the hot streets with tommy guns ready. Shooting and bombing echoed through the city. The undeclared war went on

E. Germany Would Like Good, Cheap Car as Party Achievement

By HUBERT J. ERB

KARL MARX STADT, East Germany (AP) — In East Germany the automobile is a symbol for the party and a goal for the people.

The ability to deliver a good, cheap car would symbolize Communist success in their centrally run economy. For the people, possession of a car is something tangible to show for hard work since World War II.

Against this background, the appearance of an American car of the low-price field becomes a focal point in this area

Whenever an American correspondent stops in East Germany his car provokes conversations with workers, passersby and officials.

Two questions are always asked:

"How fast does it go?"

"How much does it cost?"

And usually these are added:

"Can the average worker afford one?"

"How much does the average worker in the United States make?"

Given such information, East Germans react variously.

A young worker in Karl Marx Stadt — formerly Chemnitz — where the car drew night and day attention while parked in a lot, said: "I have put a down payment on a Wartburg (made in East Germany). They cannot even tell me when I can expect to get it."

In Rostock, a group of construction workers, including their foreman, stood around the American car and measured it with a carpenter's rule.

When the visitor came out of a harbor warehouse, accompanied by a local Communist functionary, the worker asked to see the engine, interior and trunk. The functionary said there was no time.

Replied the foreman: "Come on, Willi. Let him show us. How often do we get the chance to see something like this here?"

Similar experiences with workers occurred in Wittenberg and Dresden. In Dresden, as elsewhere, boys proved to be well informed.

They knew American cars "from pictures in youth magazines." They knew the different models made. They were up on what a car should be able to do and tried hard to show that what was available in East Germany also had its good points.

The Czech Tatra was praised for its speed. One boy asked about springs and said the East Germans had something new in springs that was very good. He said the Russian Volga had a couple of features similar to that on the American car.

Cars made in East Germany are the Trabant, with three models, and the bigger Wartburg, with five. The Trabant starts at 7,800 marks and the Wartburg is 15,000-17,000.

The dollar value is difficult to compute. The East German tourist rate is 4.2 marks to the dollar. West Berlin banks quote a rate of 11.8 east marks to the dollar.

Automobile prices are manipulated in order to keep demand in line with supply, which is limited by a shortage of materials.

The average wage in East Germany is about 550 marks a month. Tax in the price of a Wartburg may run as high as 10,000 marks.

In 1966, the East Germans are reported to have produced some 73,000 Trabants and about 49,000 Wartburgs. Some went for export, primarily to Poland. In 1959-65 official party figures show annual car production rising from 72,000 to 163,000.

In all, three Czech cars are sold in East Germany, the Tatra costing about 33,000 marks. The Soviet Moskovich goes for 15,000 marks, the Volga 22,000 and the Zaporozhets about 7,500. The Tatra and Volga go primarily to official government and business outlets.

Bikes, Scooters

About 660,000 cars were licensed in East Germany at the end of 1965, with well over two million motor bikes and scooters of various types. The population is 17 million.

Communist officials are sensitive about the situation. Said one official in a mill, "The problem with our cars — getting enough to meet the demand — is well known."

This sensitivity is heightened by the appearance not only of an occasional American car but of West German cars in far greater numbers. This makes for an all-German postwar comparison and the Communist output, despite allowances for the disadvantages resulting from division, suffers from the comparison.

A visitor gets no indication, however, that it is necessarily a West German or an American car that the East German wants. He would be satisfied with an eastern vehicle if it were cheaper, more readily available and its performance were comparable.

This was reflected in the face of a little boy in Weimar. He gave a parked American vehicle a thorough once-over. He had eight plastic toy cars on a little cardboard and he would look at the parked car and then at his models to see if he had one like it.

Hugo J. Deno Found Dead

Rural Menasha Man Apparently Took His Life Early Today

The death this morning of a 65-year-old rural Menasha farmer was listed as an apparent suicide, according to Calumet County Coroner Leroy A. Hughes.

The body of Hugo J. Deno, route 1, a lifelong resident of the rural Menasha area, was found in the barn of Deno's recently-sold farm by Mrs Deno. The coroner said death was caused by hanging. Deno apparently died about 7:15 a.m., Hughes said.

Deno reportedly had sold his farm and was in the process of moving to a home in Kimberly at the time of death

Hughes said Deno went into the barn at approximately 7 a.m. and his body was found by Mrs. Deno a short time later

Deno is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter, two brothers and four sisters. Funeral arrangements are pending at the Fargo Funeral Home, Kaukauna.

Thousands Wait At Shore to See Results of Tide

PARIS (AP) — Thousands of tourists flocked to the Channel beaches in Normandy and Brittany today to see effects of one of the greatest tides of the century.

Unsettled weather and poor visibility disappointed early arrivals. No spectacular discoveries of wrecks or ancient villages were reported in the early hours of the day as the tide rolled back, baring hundreds of square miles of mud usually covered by water.

A new low tide was due later today, and the weatherman predicted that the skies and visibility might clear.

The unusual tide occurred because the sun and a full moon were directly in line over the equator and exerting their greatest pull on the water. This happens once in 18 years.

nearly 40,000 copies were distributed free to state legislators, mayors, police and court officials, news media, congressmen and others concerned with law enforcement.

Second Printing

An additional 10,000 were printed for sale to the public at $2.25 each. The government printing office reports that about 8,000 have been sold and that it has already made a second printing of 10,000.

James Vorenberg, a Harvard University law professor on leave to be executive director of the commission, said comments he has received so far "run 19 to 1 in favor of the report and its recommendations."

But he added there has been "some minor criticism from the far left and perhaps a little stronger from the far right."

In the field of narcotics, for example, some critics have suggested that the United States adopt the British system of registering addicts and supplying them with whatever narcotics they need.

The commission recommended staff increases for the Bureau of Customs and Bureau of Narcotics and involuntary commitment of addicts.

But the commission believes that the emphasis should be taken off punishment and placed on treatment.

There also have been suggestions that the commission should have recommended a change in the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution to permit police wider latitude in questioning suspects.

The commission found, however, that while "every restriction that is placed on police procedures by the courts makes deterring or solving crimes more difficult it is also evident that police procedures must be controlled somehow."

Miranda Case

A key court decision in questioning of suspects was the Miranda case. The Supreme Court ruled that interrogation in the isolated setting of a police station, without counsel, constitutes informal compulsion to confess.

As if in answer to those who would amend the Constitution to make station house questioning constitutional, the commission said "it is too early to assess the effect of the Miranda decision on law enforcement's ability to secure confessions and to solve crimes. But this and other decisions do represent a trend toward findings by the judiciary that previously permitted police practices are unconstitutionally offensive to the dignity and integrity of private citizens."

Vorenberg places at the top of his priority list "the complete restructuring of the police departments — to get away from the idea there is only one type of police officer." He says it may take seven years to fully implement recommendations in this area, but a start should be made immediately.

Relations Programs

Vorenberg said police community relations programs should be established now in all large communities, especially those with a substantial minority group population.

The commission found that too many policemen "misunderstand and are indifferent to minority group aspirations, attitudes and customs, and that incidents involving physical or verbal mistreatment of minority group citizens do occur and do contribute to a resentment against police that some minority group members feel."

Another key area for immediate action, Vorenberg believes, is the setting up of possibly three types of police officers. The commission suggested the "community service officer," "police officer" and "police agent."

Most Responsible

The college-educated police agent "would be the most knowledgeable and responsible member of a police team."

The police officer would perform the normal duties of enforcing laws and investigating those crimes that could be solved by immediate follow-up investigations.

The entrance requirements for community service officer, the commission said, would be set at a level to help attract minority group representation to police departments. Typically, this officer would be between 17 and 21 years old with an aptitude for police work. He would not carry arms or have full law enforcement powers, and he would work closely with the police officer and police agent.

tary leaders are refugees from North Vietnam. Southern civilian politicians accuse them of trying to maintain themselves in office.

The draft constitution was written by the 117-member constituent assembly and forwarded to the military junta for approval shortly befor and Thieu met with President Johnson at Guam a week ago.

Thieu and Ky are the leading possibilities for presidential candidates, with Ky particularly eager to run for the job, sources said. The president must be a civilian, and Ky and Thieu would have to resign their military commissions to run.

American Embassy sources said it was hoped the generals would agree on a candidate among themselves but not attempt to force him on the public or even announce his name until the constitution is promulgated.

firm this morning said picketing began Saturday night. He indicated the holding action itself, however, was losing some of its force.

'Decrease by Third'

"Our impression is that the percentage of milk held off the market is easing," Arthur Jepson said. "The percentage of milk that was held back has been decreased by a third," he added.

Galloway Co., Neenah, was the only picket site reported in Winnebago County. Henry Stark, route 2, Berlin, member of the county's NFO dairy bargaining committee, said, "This will keep on indefinitely."

Farmers' wives also will take their places on the picket line, he said. Shifts have been arranged to follow the farmers to keep the schedules of their daily chores.

Eight pickets were reported at Consolidated Badger Cooperative, Shawano. Other picket sites were Borden Co. and Weyauwega Dairy Products in Waupaca County and Lake to Lake, Kiel, and Thiel's Milk Products, St. John, in Calumet County.

Pickets also were reported at Consolidated Badger of Wittenberg, according to a company official. They have been parading around the clock since Saturday night, the spokesman said.

An official of the Kiel plant said "The number of farmers holding shipment is decreasing and it has been since about Thursday."

Interviewed on the picket line in Appleton, Theodore Kirchner, Shiocton, today said this was the first time he carried a picket sign. "We worked on the farm for nothing and now we're working in town for nothing," he said.

'You Never Know'

Asked for his impression of the picketing, Kirchner said, "It's just like a new car. You never know what it's going to be like until you try it."

It remained difficult to determine how effective the NFO action, started March 15, has been in the Dairy State. Some small processors, such as cheese factories, have been forced to suspend operation. But there has been no apparent effect on milk needed for bottling.

The Wisconsin Agriculture Department reported that only about 10 per cent of the state's daily output was being withheld.

Roy W. Johnson, state NFO director, said he had "heard of one county having signed with 14 dairies" and of other negotiations nearing success. The reports could not be confirmed.

New York Bank Cuts Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP)—First National City Bank of New York reduced today its prime interest rate to 5½ per cent from 5¾ per cent.

The prime rate is the interest charged by banks to their biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers.

Last week Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York and Bank of America of San Francisco, the nation's largest, cut their rates from 5¾ per cent to 5½ per cent.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge is being replaced by Ellsworth Bunker.

Komer is considered here a take-charge man who is well acquainted with pacification problems. He also is regarded as a man who demands quick results and has an abrasive personality.

The last two traits could mean trouble in dealing with the Vietnamese, who are extremely sensitive about any suggestion of taking orders from Americans.

As pacification boss, Komer would have President Johnson's assurance of ambassadorial rank and would report directly to the White House. Vietnamese sources said Komer is expected to spend some of his time in Washington.

Confusion Feared

There was some concern that dividing his efforts between Saigon and Washington could cause confusion in the program.

Gen. Creighton D. Abrams, Army vice chief of staff, came to Saigon unannounced Sunday, reportedly to help coordinate American military efforts in the pacification field. Brig. Gen. William Knowlton heads the U.S. Revolutionary Development Support Directorate, which covers part of the military effort.

Under the new system, sources said, Abrams will oversee pacification training for Vietnamese government troops and efforts to increase Vietnamese cooperation with U.S. military advisors assigned to military subsectors, roughly comparable to American counties.

Humphrey Arrives For Europe Talks

aimed at countering the constant criticism that Americans read and hear in Europe. He said Americans have a right to ask their allies denouncing the U.S. role in Vietnam: "What is more important here than there?"

Humphrey arrived with an argument that he is expected to carry to other capitals in Europe — the urgent need for a treaty to curb the spread of nuclear weapons.

The vice president is making the first extended swing through Western Europe by a top administration official since the late President John F. Kennedy's 1963 trip. He will discuss a variety of problems with foreign leaders and U.S. officials in six countries.

Humphrey's mission comes at a time of some friction in U.S.-European relations, partly due to U.S. efforts to seek agreement with the Soviet Union in such areas as nuclear nonproliferation.

U.S. officials said one of the chief aims of the vice president's trip is to assure European leaders the United States is not subordinating its European interests to a desire for East-West agreements.

Convince Allies

The nuclear negotiations have been recessed for six weeks to give the United States more time to try to convince its allies —particularly West Germany— to accept the proposed treaty. West Germany and other industrial nations fear the treaty will have an adverse effect on their development of nuclear power for industrial purposes.

Humphrey, arriving in Switzerland after a seven-hour flight from Washington, told a small early morning gathering at the airport that the nuclear as well as the Kennedy round trade and tariff talks could show the way toward "peace and progress in the world."

Prompt Action

Humphrey in his travels to the Netherlands, West Germany, Italy, Britain, France and Belgium also has the mission of stressing the need for prompt action on the Kennedy round trade negotiations being conducted in Geneva.

said it was the 497th U.S. plane reported lost over the North. Hanoi radio claimed three U.S. planes were downed Sunday.

The Air Force spokesman said that despite continuing bad weather, U.S. pilots hit North Vietnam with 98 missions Sunday.

The fighting in the delta centered near Can Tho, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, and was another sign of the mounting war in that vital area, which grows much of the nation's rice and holds most of her people.

Supporting South Vietnamese troops, a flight of helicopters got caught in heavy ground fire in Vinh Long Province. Three were shot down and four were badly damaged. Two Americans were killed, two were missing and 12 were wounded. But South Vietnamese headquarters said 142 Viet Cong were killed in the action.

Late Sunday night the guerrillas struck again with 40 mortar rounds fired on the airfield west of Can Tho, causing no damage, officials reported, and a series of attacks on river outposts manned by South Vietnamese militia.

Backs U. S. Position in S. Vietnam

By HARRY KELLY

GENEVA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey likened the American fighting in Vietnam today to the U.S. stands in Berlin and Korea and told U.S. representatives in Geneva "we have nothing to apologize for."

Humphrey injected Vietnam and European criticism of U.S. policy in Asia into a 45-minute talk to personnel of the American mission here on the first day of a two-week West European tour.

In Vietnam, Humphrey said, the United States is carrying out three objectives of the United Nations charter: To suppress aggression, promote self-determination and assist in nation-building.

"We have not some pax Americana in mind," he said. "We have no desire to be the world's policeman."

But he contended the United States had a commitment to Vietnam and "if we welsh" on commitments "there will be no peace."

Humphrey compared criticism of President Johnson's Southeast Asia policy with attacks on Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S Truman for their efforts to quarantine aggression.

"If you think the situation is tough in Vietnam, remember it was at other times," he said.

He said few supported Truman's conduct of the Korean War and added: "It's a strange thing, but when the leader is under assault some of the troops evaporate."

Humphrey's pep talk to the mission staff was obviously

Milwaukee Mother, Son Die in Crash on Green Bay Street

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of eight persons in Easter weekend traffic accidents brought Wisconsin's 1967 toll to 159, compared with 180 on this date a year ago

Herman Harmon, 26, of Kenosha died this morning of injuries suffered Sunday when he was thrown from his car which went out of control on State 50 in Bristol, Kenosha County. He was alone in the vehicle

A Milwaukee mother and her infant son were killed Sunday in a Green Bay collision on U.S. 41. Dead are Mrs. Margaret Conkling, 22, and her two-month-old son, Rickey.

Robert Anderson, 52, Spirit Lake, Iowa, died at a hospital Sunday about three hours after his truck figured in a collision with another truck on State 35 in Prairie du Chien. Anderson was Crawford County's first 1967 traffic victim.

Jerry L. Kissee, 23, Kenosha, was killed early Sunday when his car left Kenosha County Trunk E outside Kenosha and struck a utility pole and tree. He was alone in the auto.

Mrs. Sandra Lee Andre, 19, Kenosha, was killed Saturday when hit by a car while crossing a busy Kenosha street.

Russell Wettengel, 27, Oak Creek, was fatally injured Saturday when hit by a car in the Milwaukee suburb.

Gerard F. Olson, 19, River Falls, was killed Saturday when his car hit a bridge railing three miles north of the city.

Gunman Kills Girl

Policemen Call Bluff

PRINCETON, W. Va. (AP) — Police said today a young man, wanted on a burglary charge, shot and fatally wounded his 13-year-old sister-in-law hostage before killing himself.

State police had tried to coax Warren R. Clapps, 23, of Princeton, out of a barricaded basement in the girl's home, then used a tear gas grenade hoping to flush him out with the girl.

Clapps, an unemployed handyman, then fired a bullet from a 32-caliber pistol into Shirley Proffitt's head and put a bullet in his own temple, police said.

"No one ever dreamed it would happen like that," said State Police trooper C.F. Little.

"He was sitting in the basement cool as a cucumber, holding the girl in front of him. We promised him the world to get him to let her go. When we put the tear gas in there — bang-bang — it was over just like that," Little said

The shooting occurred shortly after 1 a.m. Sunday and young Shirley died at 9 p.m. in Bluefield Sanitarium, near this community in southwestern West Virginia.

Little said Clapps barricaded himself in his father-in-law's basement, with Shirley as a hostage after State Police arrived with the warrant for his arrest. He was wanted in connection with an $800 burglary that occurred two weeks ago.

"We talked to him for an hour or longer trying to get him to come out," Little said. "But he wouldn't listen. We thought the tear gas would do it, but it just set him off."

MIG Downed by U.S. Over North

Vietnam Ground War Erupts With Communist Mortar Raids

SAIGON (AP) — American airmen smashing deep into North Vietnam shot a Communist MIG17 from the skies Sunday while the ground war erupted with sharp fighting from the 17th Parallel to the Mekong Delta.

One U. S. jet went down over the North, but the pilot was saved. Communist ground gunners in the South downed three American helicopters and badly shot up four more.

A series of Red assaults and mortar barrages in the delta, including one attack on the U. S. airfield near Can Tho, brought out a blazing display of U. S. ground, sea and air power The guerrilla attacks were met with fire from helicopter gunships, shots from river patrol boats and a rain of bullets from lumbering C47 transports mounting guns that can each spew 6,000 rounds a minute.

Hit Supply Point

The air battle over North Vietnam took place during a strike on the Son Tay Army supply point 23 miles west of Hanoi, the first time the installation has been reported bombed It contains half a dozen ammunition bunkers and a string of barracks.

A flight of eight Soviet-designed MIGs jumped the U.S. raiders, and an Air Force F105 Thunderchief turned into the marauders and shot one down. It was the 38th MIG kill claimed by U.S. fliers in the war, in contrast to 10 U.S. planes shot down by North Vietnamese pilots.

The Thunderchief that went down over the North was hit by ground fire just above the demilitarized zone, the Air Force

South Vietnam's Constitution To be Put Into Effect Saturday

Military Junta Approves Draft; Elections Scheduled for Sept. 1

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's armed forces council decided today to put the country's new constitution into effect on Saturday.

A communique issued after a day-long meeting of the council also announced national elections on Sept. 1 for president, vice president and the senate The lower house of the National Assembly will be elected Oct. 1, the communique said.

The brief communique also reported that the council's 46 generals and colonels had voted their confidence that the national leadership committee, the ruling junta, would "maintain stabilization to bring about the democratic organizations."

'Accept in Full'

There was no mention of presidential candidacies of chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu or Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The council said it would "accept in full the draft constitution by the constituent assembly voted on March 18, 1967, and will promulgate this said constitution on April 1, 1967."

This moves up the constitutional timetable more than a month. It was to have been promulgated by May 3

It returns South Vietnam to government under a constitution for the first time since the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem on Nov. 1, 1963 Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, nullified virtually all that charter's provisions for representative government and civil liberties.

The new constitution provides for an independent judiciary and a two-house legislature under a modified presidential form of government much like those in South Korea and France.

Informants said the armed forces council needed two votes to approve the constitution as written. Some military leaders feared that it did not provide a sufficiently strong executive branch.

No Military Candidate

Sources in the U S Embassy said Monday that Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge had urged the Vietnamese leaders not to present a military candidate for president at the same time they approved the constitution to avoid intensifying regional rivalries.

Most of South Vietnam's mili-

First B52s Set For Thai Arrival

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Premier Thanom Kittikachorn said today the first group of three U S B52 bombers will arrive at their new base in Thailand on April 3.

Thanom said a second group of nine B52s will land at the Utapao airbase in southern Thailand on April 9.

The Thai government last week announced it is giving partial use of the facilities and installations at Utapao — which has an 11,500-foot airstrip — to the American forces. This brings the B52s more than 1,500 miles closer to their targets in Vietnam The eight-engine jets now fly from Guam

SAIGON (AP) — A major overhaul of the American effort to aid pacification of the Vietnamese countryside was under way today to further trim duplication and lack of coordination.

Some Vietnamese sources voiced concern over reported eagerness in Washington for quick results. The latest program to win over the peasantry to the government side is showing signs of progress after a series of defeats, and, the sources said, it could be damaged fatally by pressure for speed and rapid expansion.

Structure Changing

The final form of the new American command structure in pacification is still being worked out in Washington, U S. officials said. Sources said Robert W Komer, a special assistant to President Johnson, will replace outgoing Deputy Ambassador William Porter as head of the civilian part of the pacification program Komer has recently been concentrating on pacification problems.

Porter's nominal replacement in the embassy is Eugene Locke, a Texas oil man who was ambassador to Pakistan Whether Locke will have a pacification role is not clear here. That probably will be an-

Speck Trial In 6th Week

PEORIA Ill. (AP) — Efforts to complete a jury for the murder trial of Richard Speck resumed today after an Easter recess since Friday.

Two panels of four jurors each have been approved by both defense and prosecution going into the sixth week of the trial presided over by Judge Herbert C. Paschen.

Four jurors have been chosen tentatively for the third and final panel. The third panel will be approved if neither counsel challenges any of the four tentatives.

The approved jurors, five men and three women, spent the Easter weekend in the hotel where they are sequestered.

Valley Milk Plants Picketed

As many as 50 National Farmers Organization members were picketing 14 milk processing plants in a six-county Fox River Valley region this morning.

"I'll carry this sign until I'm blue in the face," said Duane Coenen, route 3, Appleton, one of six farmers picketing at Consolidated Badger Cooperative, 1815 W Spencer St., Appleton.

Farmers seeking higher milk prices through the NFO milk holding action, nearing the end of its second week, this weekend posted around-the-clock pickets at major dairy processors in the Valley.

The picketing is part of a state-wide move to gain the 2-cent-a-quart price increase they are asking In some Valley counties, picketing began Saturday night A lull was experienced Easter Sunday but pickets took up their positions early this morning.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff Harry Rozek said he was notified pickets would be placed at four spots in the county—Tolibia Cheese Manufacturing Corp. and Galloway-West Co. in the city and Rogersville and Alto creameries in rural communities.

The picketing was promoted by state NFO officials. It was left to each county organization, however, to set up the picket lines and choose which plants to picket.

In Outagamie County, pickets also were reported at the Badger plant in Seymour and the Outagamie Producers Co-op, Black Creek.

High Court Delays Merger Of NYC-Penn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held up the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads today

Justice Tom C Clark, announcing the 5-4 decision, said the merger should be delayed until the Interstate Commerce Commission determines the fate of smaller railroads.

Clark made it clear the court was not passing on the validity of the merger, the biggest corporate union in the history of American business

Delay had been requested by the Justice Department and by nine other railroads.

The proposed $5 billion merger had been under study and discussion by the Interstate Commerce Commission for some 10 years It approved the deal last April, saying the merger could "fall apart" by delay.

'How to Implement' Findings

Conference to Begin on Results of Crime Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 500 law enforcement officials, judges, professors and state legislators will confer Tuesday and Wednesday on how to implement more than 200 recommendations made by the National Crime Commission

It will be the first opportunity for a broad-based critique of the 352-page report, issued last month after more than 18 months of work by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice

The report contains thousands of statistics and adds recommendations on topics ranging from alcoholism to development of a national strategy to fight organized crime

'Far More Crime'

The commission believes one of its most important findings—the result of a survey of 10,000 representative American households—is that throughout the nation "there is far more crime than ever is reported"

It found there are more than twice as many aggravated assaults and larcenies of more than $50 as are reported, half again more robberies, and, in some areas, "only one-tenth of the total number of certain kinds of crime are reported to the police."

The recommendations call for changes in police operations, schools, prosecutors, employment agencies, social workers, prisons, housing authorities and probation and parole officers

When the report was issued

Mayor Buckley's First Year

While there have been healthy differences of opinion with Mayor George Buckley, the record will show after the first year of his administration that much has been accomplished. And due credit must be given to a hard-working Common Council and conscientious department heads and city employees who have scratched their heads more than once during the transition period.

During his first year in office, Buckley inherited a planned program which required implementation, and over the past 11 months he has moved cautiously — sometimes taxing the patience of those inclined to have the city's chief executive be more forceful in guiding municipal programs and policy.

The Common Council has exerted considerable influence on the administration, and in some instances gave it a shove when it appeared decisions had to be made and projects processed and carried out at a faster pace.

It can be said that Buckley did not enjoy the usual one-year "honeymoon" accorded the city's chief executives when they take office and this may partly be of his own making.

But in making an objective appraisal of Buckley's first year, credit must be given, taking into consideration the city has gone all-out in its efforts to obtain a federal grant and get a water expansion program started: a bond of city and county cooperation is being molded for encouraging industrial growth and expressway construction: completion of an annexation study is near and Buckley has promised action; reconstruction of College Avenue is underway and the mayor backed up the council on its decisions: construction of the 450-car Soldiers Square Ramp is nearing completion; closer attention is being paid to Board of Education fiscal and building policies: a major street resurfacing program is scheduled again this summer: and Appleton is uniting with other state cities for better annexation laws and more equitable state shared taxes and aids.

On the face of the record, we assume Mayor Buckley will exercise more leadership during the second year of his term as Appleton continues to face up to the challenges of a growing metropolitan city.

Change Needed

We hope that Wisconsin legislators can look realistically at the proposed changes in the statutes governing contraceptives in the state without too much concern over the emotionalism attached to the subject.

At present any device, drug or medicine used to "prevent pregnancy" is by statute considered an indecent object. Advertising of any such devices is absolutely prohibited and they may be dispensed only to married people by registered pharmacists, physicians or surgeons.

It is not enough to point out that the law is clearly evaded in many instances. National magazines with such advertisements are regularly sold in Wisconsin and it must be considered impractical at the least for every pharmacist to demand a marriage license before a sale can be made.

The real issue here is whether the wider availability of contraceptives would damage the moral climate or in the long run serve to improve it and how far legislation can delve into matters that are essentially moral.

Contraceptives are not indecent objects whatever the Wisconsin statutes say they are and such terminology merely serves to confuse the issue. The Roman Catholic objection to artificial means of birth control may appear to be disappearing but in any case it can no more be cited to prove contraceptives indecent for non-Catholics than can an orthodox Jewish objection to pork or a Methodist disapproval of alcohol deny those to the rest of the population.

The concern over making contraceptives available to the unmarried of course is whether this would tend to increase promiscuity. This is a possibility. But the growing rate of illegitimate births, particularly in Wisconsin's larger cities and particularly among teen-age girls, is also a matter for deep concern.

Making pregnancy the punishment for illicit sexual relations is drastically unfair for at least two reasons. The burden usually falls only on the female partner. And the unwanted — and totally innocent — child may suffer the most. At the very least welfare officials should have the authority to distribute both birth control information and devices to the unmarried. The alternative for some is abortion rather than abstinence.

It cannot be denied that legislation does sometimes contribute to the moral atmosphere which has an influence on behavior. But this is a realm where statutes should be sparingly applied or they tend to work in reverse. Unenforceable laws merely increase disrespect for all laws. And laws based only upon what is felt to be the political implications produce cynicism and disrespect contributory to the breaking down of all law and order.

Propagandizing Americans

There was concern during the Korean War that some Americans captured by the enemy did not know enough about the traditions and philosophies of their own country to withstand the clever Communist brainwashing techniques.

Now it appears that some people in the government of the United States are overzealous and need a refresher course in the ethics of democracy too.

The general consul for the United States Information Agency has conceded that more than $25,000 of the agency funds were used, not to sell the United States to the peoples of other lands, but to sell the Johnson Administration's Vietnamese policies to the American people.

The USIA subsidized the publication of three books, Terror in Vietnam by Jay Mallin, Why Vietnam? by Frank Trager and Peking and Peoples' Wars by Major General Sam Griffith. The books were distributed for sale in the United States.

There might have been some argument in favor of direct government sponsorship of the books if they are accurate and objective. But the subsidy was secret. As Senator William Fulbright said, this "is doubly subversive of our system" and "entirely contrary to our traditions."

The agency now says that it isn't doing such subsidizing any more although there were reports that publications dealing with the United States activity in the Dominican Republic were also given funds from the USIA. Since today our Dominican intervention has generally been counted pretty much of a success, any secretly subsidized publications praising it should backfire against the Administration.

Looking Backward

Guilt by Association in 1867

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 23, 1867.

Francis A. Ryan, re-appointed receiver of the Menasha Land Office, was rejected a few days ago by the United States Senate.

Mr. Ryan has been a Republican from the foundation of that party. He was the founder of The Appleton Motor, in which enterprise he spent three or four years without pecuniary profit, and has never been suspected of the slightest affiliation with Democracy (Democratic party).

It is understood that Judge Howe procured his rejection because he is a brother of Editor (Sam Ryan) of the Crescent, with whom he probably has had more political squabbles than any other man living.

This Howe is an erratic genius and aspires to the Vice Presidency! ! !

Miss Judy Harwood, Appleton student at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, was elected suite chairman of Delta Gamma sorority on campus. She also was a member of the Rescensio yearbook staff and was active in El Ateneo Spanish Club.

Branch Transplant Is for the Birds

MIAMI SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — When a city crew arrived to cut down a dead tree here, they found that woodpeckers were raising a family in a hole in one of the branches.

So before they removed the tree, they cut off the branch as gently as possible and tied it securely in a healthy tree nearby. The parent woodpeckers and baby birds were perfectly satisfied in the new location.

Gore Vidal's Kennedy Revelations Shouldn't be Discounted as Spite

BY WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

Mr. Gore Vidal has got around to saying (eloquently, in Esquire Magazine) what a lot of us have been saying for years about the Kennedy political philosophy (it doesn't really exist), and about the liberal intellectual Establishment (it is vain, power-hungry, cynical). Mr. Vidal says so many things that are true, almost all of them in a contradiction to his own positions taken over the past, that it is a pity that his piece will be discounted so widely as the spiteful ejaculation of a discarded courtier.

Buckley

For those who came in late, Gore Vidal was once an ardent champion of John F. Kennedy and, derivatively, of all lesser Kennedys. Vidal was in fact a member of the family in the extended sense of the word — Vidal's quondam step-father is Jacqueline Kennedy's current. And when Vidal ran for Congress in 1960, he asked Bobby to campaign for him, which Bobby did, and everything was cozy as could be.

Then there was The Episode. Never mind the details, but it ended in Vidal's being courteously but firmly escorted out of the White House — vowing eternal vengeance on Bobby. And the current article in Esquire is an instalment of that threat. But whatever the motive, here is some choice analysis, of major concern to those of us whom the Kennedys seek to govern, which is to say to every American, from sea to shining sea.

SON VS. FATHER

Mr. Vidal makes a number of observations, among them that the Kennedys' trinitarian (family, money, image) grasp on American life has proved enormously successful because it engages the gears of a middle class society that has pretty well abandoned its ideals, theological and moral. The Kennedys accordingly tend to view everything personally. "In 1960," Vidal recalls, "after listening to (JFK) denounce Eleanor Roosevelt at some length, I asked him why he thought she was so much opposed to his candidacy. The answer was quick: 'She hated my father and she can't stand it that his children turned out so much better than hers.' "

"It was significant," Vidal comments, "that he could not take seriously any of her political objections to him (e.g., his attitude towards McCarthyism): he merely assumed that she, like himself, was essentially concernd with family and, envying the father, would want to thwart the son."

Vidal then examines JFK's credentials as an authentic hero of contemporary liberalism, and discards them on the grounds that his liberalism was purely opportunistic, indeed that the highest testimony to the unity of the family is that it persisted notwithstanding the diametrically opposite course struck out by the son from that of the father.

"JFK was ... very much his father's son even though, as all the witnesses are at pains to remind us, he did not share that magnate's political philosophy — which goes without saying since anyone who did could not be elected to anything except possibly the Chamber of Commerce." And the idealization of the Kennedys by the liberal intellectuals, Vidal concludes, is nothing more than one more tiresome re-enactment of the traditional servitude of the intellectual class to anyone of rank who will permit them to participate in power. Thus Schlesinger's threnody on JFK is dubbed by Vidal "the greatest piece of political fiction since Coningsby."

ICON SMASHING

The liberals are infinitely forgiving of the reactionary background of the Kennedys, Vidal reminds us. "That consistency which liberals so furiously demanded of the hapless Nixon need not apply to any Kennedy... The McCarthy friend and fellow traveler of one year emerges as a New York liberal in another, and between these two happenings there is no thread at all to give a clue as to what the man actually thinks or who he really is." The emptiness of the Kennedy world-view was best captured, Vidal reminisces, by the astonished look on the face of the newly inaugurated President when James Reston "naively ... asked (him) what his philosophy was, what vision did he have of the good life."

About the good life, it is given to us to know only, in this age of doubt, that a Kennedy must sit at the head of the table. It is of course ironic that Mr. Vidal, the super-liberal super-thinker who in pursuit of the good life has tried everything, but everything in the world, including icon-smashing with a vengeance, now engages an icon he had a hand in molding. He has a tough job ahead of him. Who knows, it might even make a Christian out of him.

Foreign Model Car Champagne Cooler Too Much for Battery

LONDON (AP) — Comedian-musician Dudley Moore believes he owns the only blue-black foreign car (Maserati) equipped with its own champagne-stocked built-in refrigerator.

Leaving the set of his picture, "The Wrong Box," he tried to start his car. But the starter didn't answer. Then Dudley remembered.

"I know" he explained, "the battery's dead because I forgot to switch off the 'fridge. One thing though, I'm sure the champagne's cold."

Neither Fish, Hanson Are Committed Yet on Party Chairmanships

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Although only a little more than two months remain for the parties to make their decisions, the chairmen of the two Wisconsin political party organizations apparently are unsure about their tenure.

Wyngaard

Ody Fish, the head of the Republican voluntary campaign machine, insists that he has not yet decided whether he wants to remain in the job in which he has distinguished himself as an imaginative and determined captain. He also has been content to take over the drudgery of politics while other men concern themselves about policy and purpose.

Louis J. Hanson, his counterpart in Democratic voluntary organization politics, has said nothing about his plans, but perhaps for another reason. The man who is in charge of the party machinery tends to get some of the blame for defeats. Under such circumstances, and remembering that the chairman's task in both parties is a labor of love, he may prefer, with Fish, to await the overt desire of his party before expressing his own attitude.

In the end, however, it appears likely that both will have another turn at bat. Fish will respond to the wishes of his friend Gov. Knowles. There is little doubt that Knowles wants him at his side in leading the majority party of Wisconsin.

NELSON HELPED HANSON

Similarly, the ranking Wisconsin Democrat now holding office and concerned about the 1968 campaign machine arrangements is a close friend of Hanson. It was Gaylord Nelson as governor who was principally responsible for Hanson's quick rise in party affairs. If Nelson gives the word, as expected, that he wants Hanson again, and if Knowles gives the word, as expected, that he would like to keep Fish on duty at his party headquarters, there is no reason to doubt that they will accept the nominations and that the party members will acquiesce willingly.

Republicans will hold their state convention in Eau Claire on May 20. Immediately thereafter the state executive committee will select party officers. Democrats will choose their chairman by a delegate vote at their annual delegate convention in La Crosse on June 10.

Both started their organization careers in part, perhaps, because they were bachelors. Hanson has married since, and Fish now plans to be married. Both are better able to endure the unpaid circumstances in which they work because of their moderate private affluence. One is a successful businessman, the other heir of a successful family. Both came into the organization affair of the party of their choice in large part through affection and esteem for candidate friends, Knowles and Nelson, respectively, and a desire to promote their fortunes to the utmost of their opportunities.

VICTORY BRINGS PRESTIGE

Both have learned something of the prestige value of victory and the distress quotient of defeat. There is now some grumbling about Hanson because the 1966 state campaign of the Democratic party on the whole was the least successful during a decade or more. There is now considerable admiration for Fish as a campaign technician, in part because the electoral trend favored his party last fall. Had Fish done some of the things he did — such as cancelling the charter of the quarrelsome Milwaukee county party organization — and then lost, he would now undoubtedly be in trouble with party colleagues.

Both men undoubtedly reflect wryly, sometimes, on the contrast between illusion and reality in the size, effectiveness, loyalty and practical strength of voluntary party machinery in Wisconsin. Probably because of their habit of accusing each other, there is an appearance of muscle on both sides that the managers wish they really had.

Why Is Violence OK, Sex Forbidden?

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A few days after the Clay-Terrell fight, I was having a cup of coffee with a friend, when he pointed to the front page of the paper. A lady cellist in New York had just been arrested for performing with a bare bosom during an avant-garde concert.

Harris

"I wish you'd explain to me," he said, "why this event is considered 'obscene conduct' and the Clay-Terrell fight isn't. Why are we so repressive about sex, and so permissive about violence?

"I watched the Clay-Terrell fight," he went on, "and by my definition, it was an obscene performance. After the seventh round, Terrell was just a punch bag. And Clay was as ugly and vicious as a man could be. Yet the public pays millions to watch such spectacles, and feels cheated when one of the fighters doesn't end in a bloody pulp on the floor."

It wasn't hard for me to agree with him that we have a perverted sense of values in Western society, insofar as sex and violence are concerned. It seems absurd that a bare bosom is considered in any way "lewd," while the brutal batterings of two anthropoids are applauded and approved as a great sporting event.

Neither a prize fight nor a cello concert cum nipples would attract me as a customer, but I fail utterly to see why one is given police protection while the other is subjected to police persecution. The lady cellist wasn't hurting anybody, or doing anything intrinsically wrong, and her bosom is certainly no more an offensive sight that Terrell's blood-streaked chest.

I am almost convinced that this curious inversion of values — where violence is condoned if not actually sanctified, while sex is still shrouded in shame — explains in large part the shifting sexual morality of young people today. A society that is so willing to send them out to be killed, that is so indifferent to human life, and yet at the same time that places so many safeguards against sexual activity, seems unworthy and hypocritical in the eyes of many youngsters.

Unnecessary pain of any kind is what is "obscene" in human conduct, while pleasure may be good, bad, or indifferent, depending upon the other values involved in it. Surely the display of the body is not lewd by and of itself, with or without a cello; nor is there anything lewd about the mutual enjoyment of sex by two consenting adults. It may not be prudent, but that is quite another matter.

It is possible that our strictures against sex are the way we buy off our collective conscience for our obscene addiction to violence?

Where There's Will, There's Way, Scout Leaders Demonstrate

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — Boy Scout leaders in Clovis wanted to hold a parade to kick off National Boy Scout Week, but they couldn't find a band to provide marching music.

Bob Gold, sales manager, Radio Station KCLV, came up with a suggestion: each Scout in the parade carry a transistor radio tuned to KCLV which would play march music.

An estimated 300 Boy and Cub Scouts from the Clovis area did this. Their seven-block-long parade was led by two Air Force men, veterans of Vietnam, who were stationed at nearby Cannon Air Force Base.

Public Needs More County Board News

Editor, Post-Crescent

In reference to the last county board meeting as was reported in March 15 Post-Crescent, I noticed a number of supervisors objected because The Post-Crescent alledgedly embarrassed them and caused them to look like fools

I personally believe that The Post-Crescent is innocent of these "charges" through the county board's own conduct Such as the following: 1. Mounting taxes every year 2 Ignoring federal rejection of need for a county airport, which places a heavy burden on us, the taxpayers 3 Hiring a secretary at a ridiculous salary, when they the county board is being paid to do the same job 4 Reducing a law enforcement officer of 15 years experience to the status of a man off the street with no experience.

After considering the above instances, which are just a few chosen at random and then hearing these same people question the few cents postage to mail these resolutions to the people, I say their own conduct clears The Post-Crescent of any charge of undue abuse

With a record such as this we the public, whom these men ore working for, are in very desperate need of press coverage It is evident that the truth is indeed painful and I hope The Post-Crescent will continue to serve the public in this informative manner

New Courthouse Should Be Built on Old Airport

Editor, Post-Crescent:

People of Outagamie County — We own a nice piece of land on the outskirts of Appleton which was the old airport Do you want to see Appleton buy it and sell it off to industry when they already have other industrial parks where they could put this industry, and for examples, Greenville could use some'!

Look where our courthouse is now and have you ever tried to find a parking place around there First of all it is pure luck to find the place and you will notice that with cars being parked on both sides of the brick roads you have trouble if you meet a car and you can't see anything at the stop signs because of the parked cars and trees until you get half way into the intersection.

We could have a new courthouse and county park and I honestly believe we should all get busy and let our wishes be known if you're with me Let Appleton buy the courthouse for the city hall and jail and in that way the city could have a centralized civic center, Appleton City Hall could be torn down and used for parking or a new post office

The county needs a new site for their civic center It should be out where people can find it and admire it, where the county police have more room to move when emergency arise It should have plenty of space, parking, trees with a county park near by.

We can't let Appleton buy this land and mess it up Appleton would benefit by this move — We have to plan ahead for the future

I know the 4-H Leaders from this county will agree with me about a new location and parking.

Urges Help For Easter Seal Drive

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The Outagamie County Easter Seal Society is presently conducting their annual fund raising drive.

Having had the experience of being helped by this worthy organization, I couldn't help but write and give these people a pat on the back for the fine work they have done for the unfortunate who, are worthy of help and not able to get assistance from other sources. The letter included with their mail appeal is an excellent rundown of these services A few minutes browsing around their Homecraft Outlet Store at 217 E. College Ave., also will bring home what they are doing for those handicapped people not able to obtain normal employment in our society

The people volunteering their time for this organization deserve everyone's consideration to give a helping hand by making a donation so they can carry on their worthwhile projects

Race Feels All Media Selfish

Editor, Post-Crescent.

We hear and read much about our younger generation these days and most of what we read is not good

It seems to me that, among a generation of youth working harder at its books than any before it and announcing its ideals of service by oversubscribing the Peace Corps, only its maverick draft card burners, drug addicts, and lovers of four letter words are publicized in the press — it is a fair question whether that press, or television and radio are more interested in their own future or that of the human race.

Senators Helped Beat Talmadge Amendment

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I was very disappointed at the location and amount of space given to the way our Wisconsin Senators voted last week on an amendment to the Consular Treaty offered by Senator Talmadge Buried between the classified ads and the market reports with only two inches of column hardly seems fitting for such news.

I believe many readers would have been interested to know that this amendment was to remove a special privilege granted in this Consular Treaty. Our Senators helped to defeat the amendment.

The privilege this amendment tries to remove is the provision granting immunity from criminal prosecution to consular officials and employes We do not grant this privilege even to our friends with whom we have consular agreements Why grant it to an enemy dedicated to "bury us?"

Mother of 12 Losing Sympathy

Editor, Post-Crescent

I live in the country but not on a farm I've been sympathetic with the farmer until yesterday when they announced on TV that the farmers were buying up all the milk in the store and dumping it How ridiculous can they get? I would say this thing is getting a little out of hand We have 12 children who love milk and I suppose if the farmers get their 2 cent a quart increase, we'll be raised 4 cents a quart so I'm glad Kool-aid weather is coming, my kids will have to switch rather than fight with a farmer who doesn't only think he's wasting enough by dumping his own, he has to buy the store out, too. How can they be so wasteful when babies and children are starving to death all over the world?

Georgia House Put Up Fight

Julian Bond Impressed by Status of Legislator After Finally Getting Seat

BY JOE ZELLNER

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Rep. Julian Bond says his first several weeks as a member of the Georgia General Assembly have been sometimes boring and sometimes fun, but he's impressed with his new status

"Just think that two years ago, I was nowhere," said the 26-year-old Atlanta Negro "Now, sometimes, I'm having lunch with the presidents of the Southern and L&N railroads."

Bond like the other 203 members of the lower house, has been caught up in an intense lobbying campaign by the two railroads in a legislative fight over which one will get a lease to operate the state-owned Western and Atlantic Railroad

Another aspect of his new job that Bond finds refreshing is his sudden affluence, more than $5,000 a year in salary and committee fees.

Higher Bracket

"I make more money in the legislature than I have ever made," he said in an interview. "Just the base pay for the legislature puts me in a new income bracket right away"

Bond was a founding member of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. The only other job he has ever had was publicity director for SNCC It paid $85 a week, he said when SNCC had enough money to meet the payroll.

The boyish-looking Bond was elected to the legislature from an Atlanta district in 1965, but the House refused to seat him after he endorsed a SNCC statement accusing the United States of committing murder and aggression in Vietnam, and then praised the courage of draft card burners — although he said he wouldn't burn his own.

Barred Again

In a special election to fill the seat, Bond won again Still the House refused to seat him.

He won a third time in the 1966 general election, and finally was seated last Jan. 9 after the U S. Supreme Court ruled the Georgia House had no authority to deny him admission

The young Democrat became the ninth Negro member of the House when he was seated. Recognizing the controversy that had preceded his admission, he says he did not know what to expect in the way of welcome, but added he has encountered almost no overt hostility.

"There was a guy standing in the door when I went to the committee room one day," he said "I said, 'Excuse me, is this the Education Committee?' He looked over his shoulder at me and turned back But he didn't move, I said it three times, and finally I just had to push my way by him. That was the only incident

Varied Treatment

"Some of them (legislators) don't speak, but I don't know whether they would or not anyway Some are formal. Some are polite Some of them make little jokes but not against me"

Commenting on Bond's reception, Rep. Thomas B Murphy of Bremen, a floor leader for Gov Lester G Maddox, said "It just proves the members of the House are gentle They can accept defeat with the same gentlemanly attitude they accept victory."

Bond said he thinks he has been as effective as any other freshman legislator

"The whole situation at first is fascinating," he said. "Sometimes it's boring. Sometimes, it's fun, but it's an education. Georgia must be sort of typical as far as legislatures go"

Though he has introduced no bills in the House, Bond has sponsored two resolutions and cosponsored another. The resolutions recognized Negro History Week and honored an Atlanta Negro college on its centennial and its president on his retirement. All were unopposed.

Quiet Man

Bond's white colleagues on the Education Committee described him as quiet, and say he has attended most meetings.

"He hasn't shown any interest as far as I can tell," said one committee member, who declined use of his name. "Of course, his way of showing interest may be different from mine."

Most of Bond's white colleagues refused to speak on the record about him. "I don't think we should muddy the waters," one said

Will Bond run for re-election?

"I don't know. I want to see how things go next session," he said "I, by myself, never think I'm going to be able to change the whole pace of Georgia Maybe, I can help to change some things. If I find I can't do it, then someone else can sit here."

No, not always, but they usually do. Sociologist Dr. August B Hollingshead found the high school students of a small Illinois town divided into five social classes Cliques followed social class in 63 per cent of the cases. But even then, the students would rarely "clique" with anyone more than one step away from their own class. The top and the bottom groups remainded completely isolated from each other, without any friendship or informal social relationships whatever.

True —— False ——

False. To begin with, there are all kinds of love and love feelings — some too infantile and immature to get married on. Secondly, there are many other factors that are needed to make a go of marriage — the willingness to assume responsibility, the readiness to settle down with one partner, the enjoyment of domestic interests, and the habit of happiness itself — to mention a few. Third, there is no guarantee of happiness in marriage, but only the opportunity to work for it together through the years.

Wisconsin's Health

Children Most Susceptible To Accidental Poisonings

BY E. H. JORRIS M.D.
State Health Officer

March 19-25 was 1967 National Poison Prevention week. Originated in 1962, the purpose of this observance is to call attention to accidental poisonings and the work being done to prevent these happenings.

There is no accurate count of the number of accidental poisonings. A network of nearly 50 Wisconsin hospitals, not quite a third of the state's hospitals, fill out a standard poison report form for each case of accidental poisoning that is brought to the emergency room and these are sent to the State Board of Health. On the basis of these reports it is sometimes possible to identify the presence in the state of a new type of hazardous substance and issue warnings about it. Types of substances covered in the poison reports include internal and external medicines, cleaning and polishing agents, petroleum products, cosmetics, pesticides, gases, and vapors, turpentine, paints and miscellaneous products.

In 1966 the picture drawn by the poison reports duplicated those of previous years. Again children's aspirin was the substance most frequently involved in poisoning incidents. There were 3,824 poisonings treated in the reporting hospitals and 1,359 involved aspirin. More than eight of every ten poisoning incidents involving aspirin involved a youngster 5 years of age or younger. And once again the summary showed that children between the ages of 2 and 3 are involved in more poisoning accidents than any other age group.

An idea of how much medicine may be found about the home comes from a report of the U.S. Public Health Service showing that people of this country spend an average of $21 per person for drugs each year. Three quarters of these expenditures are for prescription drugs and the remainder is for non-prescription items such as aspirin.

Beginning July 1 of this year drug manufacturers will market children's aspirin in packages that will contain no more than 36 tablets and each tablet will contain a maximum of one and one-quarter grains of aspirin. No change will be made in adult aspirin.

Despite measures taken by drug manufacturers, effective poison prevention begins in the home. Keep drugs and medicines in a safe place; a locked medicine chest is best but seldom available, so storing drugs on a high shelf out of reach of children is probably the workable solution. Keep products in original containers; a pop bottle filled with varnish remover can be lethal. Keep food and household products separated and where children cannot reach them

The State Board of Health has a pamphlet, "Poison Prevention Depends on You," that offers suggestions on how to handle and store poison in your home. A copy is yours for the asking.

Oven cleaning need no longer be a big, messy chore. These days many electric ovens clean themselves. Others have special oven linings, removable panels and doors for fast clean-up.

But a lot more than spill-overs come out easily from an electric oven. The most delicious meals you've ever tasted do, too! And from the surface units, as well. The precise, automatic controls and the even, contact heat of an electric range make a good cook even better.

The new electric ranges are faster than ever, too. Its clean cooking keeps kitchens cleaner. And cool — a special blessing come summer.

Fantastic Mishmash

Convention Possible on 'One Man-One Vote'

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just two more states and there will be a mishmash unlike anything in 180 years.

Thirty-two state legislatures, just two short of a required two-thirds, have asked Congress to call a constitutional convention on the one man-one vote decision of the Supreme Court.

This would be the first such convention since 1787 if those other two states acted and Congress agreed. There's doubt it would. For how Congress would agree, or just getting to do it, is all a big fuzz now.

In 1964 the court held that districts in both houses of state legislatures must be "substantially" equal in population. Only a few states met that standard then. The courts have ordered the rest to get in line.

Rural Power

Under the court's thinking rural areas had long held more legislature seats than they were entitled to in proportion to the number held by the more densely populated cities. This became known as the one man-one vote decision.

It encountered furious objections which, although one state after another has reapportioned its legislature, haven't disappeared. One of the most vocal objectors was, and is, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

This leader of the Senate Republicans tried twice, in 1965 and 1966, to get the Senate to approve a constitutional amendment undoing the court's ruling. Each time he lost by seven votes.

State Choice

His amendment would let the people in a state decide whether they wanted to apportion one branch of their legislature on some basis besides population. This didn't work and something else was tried by the states themselves.

Although the court's decision wasn't made until 1964 it indicated what was coming as early as 1962 when it said legislatures' districts were subject to scrutiny by the federal courts. States took the hint.

In 1963 some of them began petitioning Congress for the constitutional convention. The real petition rush began after the 1964 action. Until now 32 states have asked for the convention. They could take this road to circumvent the court because of Article 5 in the Constitution.

It says two things:

1. Congress by a two-thirds vote of each house can propose a constitutional amendment which then must be approved by three-fourths of the states. All 25 amendments have been added that way.

Call Convention

2. Or, two-thirds of the states can ask Congress to call a convention to propose amendments which also would have to be approved by three-fourths of the states either by their legislatures or by conventions in those states, with Congress deciding which it should be.

While Dirksen and others have labored for such state action, they have plenty of opponents, including Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who announced last week that 26 of the 32 legislatures which have asked for a convention were illegally apportioned when they did the asking. In most cases since then, he said, the courts have ordered them to reapportion themselves and "in most cases they have."

He said for Congress to heed the petitions of 26 illegally apportioned legislatures would be like "permitting all Democrats to have two votes in a referendum to determine whether Democrats should have two votes."

Unlimited Confusion

Here Proxmire was offering one reason for Congress to ignore the petitions. Confusion seems unlimited in other questions and objections raised. Even if Congress tried to vote approval for a convention, fierce filibusters almost certainly would seek to block it.

Time, one argument goes, has outdated some of the petitions because they were made by some state legislatures no longer in existence and were addressed to the 89th Congress. It's the 90th doing business now.

And if the convention were called, would it be limited to the one man-one vote problem, or could it consider any kind of amendment? If the latter, then the convention might become a nightmare. And how would such a convention be organized? How many delegates would each state have? Congress would have to decide.

Takers of LSD Taking Grave Risks, Warns Food, Drug Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons who take the hallucinogenic drug LSD for kicks or curiosity are running grave risks, the chief of the Food and Drug Administration warns.

"I wouldn't take it on a bet," Dr. James L. Goddard said Sunday in an interview. "It is one of the most dangerous compounds I know of and I certainly hope that none of our employes who are working in this field have taken it."

Cubes of sugar empregnated with the drug can cause "acute psychoses" or induce actions that occasionally end in loss of life, Goddard said.

Federal-Aid Highway Contracts Totaled $4.1 Billion in '66

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal-aid highway construction contracts awarded by state highway departments in 1966 totaled $4.1 billion, the Commerce Department says.

In all the department reported Sunday night, the states let 6,490 contracts, 377 more than the year before. The dollar value was up 4.6 per cent from 1965.

For highways in the interstate system, the federal share is 90 per cent. Federal money covers 50 per cent of the cost of roads in the primary and secondary systems.

What American car is roomiest? Guess again

Chevrolet's Index of 291.3 is the sum of its seven basic interior dimensions: head room front and rear, leg room front and rear, shoulder room front and rear, front seat height. All figures are available on request.

Have Fun With a New Foot Stool Game for Two Players

BY CAPPY DICK

"Footstool Push" is a game for two players It can be quite an exciting undertaking

The way to play it is shown in the adjoining illustration A line on the floor, formed by string held in place by two books, establishes the area of each opponent

The players sit on the floor as the boys are doing in the picture, with the soles of their feet against the stool while they brace themselves with their arms and hands At a signal to start, which can be given by either player, they begin to push with all their might, the object being to cause the footstool to slide across the string and completely into the other player's area. The player who succeeds in doing this wins the game

It is not easy to win this game, for the moment a player gains a little ground his opponent is likely to put on some extra pressure to recover the ground and gain a little for himself

Red Carpet Out for Theater Tony Awards

'Cabaret' Musical, Play 'The Homecoming' Win Most of Silver Medallion Honors

By JEAN HELLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway rolled out its best red carpet Sunday night to present the Tony awards for theater excellence and take its place among the national spectacles of the motion picture Academy Awards and television's Emmys.

The hour-long 21st annual Tony award presentation, televised nationally from the Shubert Theater by the American Broadcasting Co., was the best show on Broadway Sunday night — all other Broadway theaters were dark for the holiday.

4 Top Winners

Barbara Harris of "The Apple Tree" and Robert Preston of "I Do! I Do!" took the top awards for musical performances and Beryl Reid of "The Killing of Sister George" and Paul Rodgers of "The Homecoming" took medallions as top stars in straight drama.

Tonys for supporting roles went to Joel Grey and Peg Murray, both of "Cabaret"; and to Marian Seldes of "A Delicate Balance" and Ian Holm of "The Homecoming" for supporting dramatic roles.

Other awards to "Cabaret" went to producer Harold Prince, librettist Jose Masteroff, composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb, sharing the medallion for the best musical; to Prince for his direction; to Kander and Ebb for the best score; to Patricia Zipprodt for costuming; Boris Aronson for scenic design, and Ronald Field, choreography.

"The Homecoming" took the Tony for the year's outstanding drama, shared by author Harold Pinter and producer Alexander H. Cohen, and for direction by Peter Hall.

Real Red Carpet

Red carpeting was rolled out along midtown Manhattan's West 44th Street between the Shubert Theater and Sardi's East, across the street, for each Tony recipient to use in crossing from the theater to the restaurant to meet the press.

Each dutifully recited the watchword of show business award winners:

"I am just so happy and I would like to thank all the people who made this possible. . ."

But each seemed happy that the Tonys had become a national affair rather than the intimate little gathering that had characterized the presentations for the past 20 years.

Great Publicity

"It's a lot better than the Oscar (Academy Award) show," said producer David Merrick, "and we didn't even have Jerry Lewis. We live on publicity. This is the greatest we can get."

"This brought the attention of the American public to Broadway," said Angela Lansbury, star of the musical "Mame." "We deserve this prominence."

Michigan City Gets Irked at Mapping Error

CHARLEVOIX, Mich (AP) — "Bring back our lake!" cried East Jordan Mayor Betty Robertson.

The official 1967 Michigan State highway map fails to include an eight-mile long stretch of Lake Charlevoix and the 22-mile-long Jordan River.

'Up-Down Staircase' Picked for Movie Festival in Spain

"Up the Down Staircase," Warner Bros. motion picture version of Bel Kaufman's best-seller, has been selected for showing at the International Film Festival in Valladolid, Spain, April 16 to April 23.

Sandy Dennis stars in the Technicolor film produced by Alan J. Pakula and directed by Robert Mulligan. This is the team that made the prize winning "To Kill a Mockingbird." The screenplay was written by Pulitzer Prize-winner Tad Mosel.

Appearing in other top roles in "Up the Down Staircase" are Patrick Bedford, Eileen Heckart, Ruth White, Jean Stapleton, Sorrell Booke, Roy Poole and Florence Stanley.

Filmed entirely in New York City, "Up the Down Staircase" introduces hundreds of boys and girls who never before acted professionally, including six youngsters in key supporting roles.

Thieves Take Speakers Designed for Services

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two speakers that were to be used to carry Easter services beneath the cross atop San Francisco's Mt. Davidson were stolen.

Sound technicians discovered the missing 18-inch speakers when they climbed the mountain before dawn Sunday to hook them up to the public address system.

Leningrad Toured on NBC Special

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — St. Petersburg might have been a better title than Leningrad for this enjoyable NBC News telecast describing the Russian city of constant historic inversions. Built by Czar Peter to emulate the architecture and culture of the West, it became the seat of the Russian Revolution, taking the name of its leader, Lenin. Since that time, the Russian Communist party has turned its back on the city allowing it to become a huge Russian museum, built with a European background. The weather is insufferable and yet its parks are showplaces. And its subways are used for viewing artistic masterpieces as well as for transportation.

* * *

6:30-7 (Channel 5) — The Monkees lift an idea from the musical hit Bells Are Ringing in a story about a telephone answering service. The owner is taken ill and the boys substitute, getting involved in several messy problems.

* * *

8-8:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — While real-life law enforcement officials ponder the problem of witnesses refusing to come forward, television continues to depict witnesses getting killed. The dead man in Felony Squad is about to identify racketeers who are squeezing him out of his property through officials in the city government. When his car is dynamited Sgt. Stone goes into action to eliminate the negatives.

* * *

8-8:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — A big brother gets mighty interested in a big sister on The Andy Griffith Show and it's quite understandable since the girl is lovely Elizabeth MacRae. Howard becomes the big brother, when he agrees to help one of the underprivileged boys in town.

* * *

8-9 (Channels 4-5) — An excellent script on The Road West is given the acting it deserves by a quartet of male stars. In the story Ben Pride finds himself caught between a father and son team, sheriff and judge, in a situation of his own making.

* * *

8:30-9 (Channels 2-7-12) — French's visiting nephew doesn't think much of being a gentleman's gentleman on Family Affair. He'd rather be a dentist. Furthermore, he insists on stepping over the proprietary bounds of master and servants even to the point of dating Cissy, which leaves French very unhappy.

* * *

9-10 (Channels 11-6-9) — Another first class western on The Big Valley combines several old plays for one good drama. Among the plots is a sheriff's son trying to emulate his father after being brought up in the east by his west hating mother.
